HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGES CHECKUPS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREH

"Children are not really equipped to enter school this fall unless they are in the best possible physical condition," says the Iowa State Department of Health.

Prompt attention to the child's physical condition is advised in order to allow time for any necessary treatment or correction of physical defects before school opens. Now is the time to take your child to the family physician for a check-up.

All children should have been immunized and vaccinated during the first year of life. Having your child immunized and vaccinated before starting him to school is as important as buying him new clothes and books. The health department urges all parents of school children to see that the children are given booster shots if they have had the benefit of prior vaccination and immunization, or complete immunization and vaccination before school begins.

Periodic eye examinations should not be neglected. Many young adults have impaired vision because their parents didn't know they needed eye care before it was too late. If your child needs glasses for better vision, get them now so he will have time to get used to them before school starts.

A trip to the dentist before school starts is very important, too. One decayed tooth can cause a lot of trouble, and a good dental filling is the best protection known for the tooth this is already decayed. The Dental Division of the Iowa State Department of Health reports that over 50 percent of the children entering first grade will have one or more teeth decayed.

Chairman Hanson Lists ACA Recommendations for Storing Surplus Corn

With the 1948 corn crop one of the largest on record, together with the prospects of another large crop, the United States is faced with the difficulty of making room for surplus corn.

According to Oscar J. Hanson, chairman of the Wright County ACA, since 1940 the normal market for corn, caused by World War II, has solved the problem of storage up to this time. This year the country may harvest more than three billion bushels of corn, or about one billion more than the yearly average before the war.

With exports falling off, together with two large crops of corn, finding room for this crop is a problem that will need the co-operation of every producer.

There are areas where drought conditions apparently will reduce the crop, but the over-all prospects still are for another large crop this year, according to Hanson.

Wright County farmers have put under Loan and Purchase Agreement over four million, three hundred thousand bushels of 1948 corn. Steel bins in this county will hold only a little over four thousand bushels. The estimated capacity of warehouse space in this county is between five and six thousand bushels. It seems very probable, according to Hanson, that a large amount of the corn under the Loan and Purchase Agreements will have to be stored on the farm.

The township committeewomen are now contacting individual farmers to obtain information as to how much of the sealed corn will be resealed on the farm and the amount of Purchase Agreement corn that will be sealed and kept on the farm until July 31, 1950.

Producers who intend to shell their corn and place it in a bin to reseal should request the corn sealer for their township to take a sample before shelling the corn. This precaution should be taken because the shelled corn, to be eligible for resealing, cannot have over 13.5 percent moisture.

Storage payments of 10c a bushel will be paid for corn resealed and turned over to the Commodity Credit Corporation on July 31, 1950.

A loan for the building of a storage structure will be made to anyone who wishes to borrow money for the purpose of storing grain. The loan, made for a term of five years, will be payable in five equal payments bearing 4 percent interest.

Many farmers will remember that storage for corn was built before World War II to help alleviate the surplus problem. Many of these structures earned storage payments which helped to reduce the cost of the buildings and which were used for another purpose after the grain was removed.

While building costs are much higher now, the ACA still feels that many farmers could help solve the emergency by erecting storage structures to use in storing corn now and later for another use.

According to Hanson's statement, the ACA still believes that farmers will help solve the problem as they have done in the past, thus stabilizing prices for the market

CLIFTON H. BUSICK

Clifton H. Busick, 47, son of James and Nancy Busick, was born Sept. 9, 1901, at Goodell, Iowa. He grew to manhood on their farm east of town. June 15, 1927, he was married to Rosalie Weatherford, of Goodell. They lived in this community nine years and then moved to Salem, Oregon.

He had been an asthma sufferer for 22 years. He was up and around and had eaten his supper on Sunday, July 10, and suddenly became very ill, passing away at 7 p. m. at his home at 2010 Church St., Salem, Ore.

He leaves his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Ramona Sparks of Salem, Oregon, two brothers, Orick Busick of Dayton, Ore., Dale Busick and sister, Mrs. Ed Schmalle of Belmond. His parents and a brother, John, preceded him.

Services were held Friday, July 15th at 3 p. m. in Salem, Oregon. Rev. Oscar Brown, pastor of the Friends Church officiated at the Mt. Crest Abbey Mausoleum, followed by entombment there.

MRS. THEO. WENDEL

Ursula Mayer was born in Switzerland on February 17, 1869 and came with her parents to America when she was three years of age and for a time they settled near Alleman in the vicinity of Des Moines, Iowa. In the year 1880 she came with her parents to the Meservey community where she spent the remaining years of her life. She was one of nine children, six of whom are still living: Lizzie Enabnit of Clear Lake, Anna Enabnit of Des Moines, Minnie Halfpap, Rose Strasburg, Lidia Sprau, and Mary Thomas, all of Meservey. One sister and her only brother preceded her in death.

When the Mayer family moved to this community there was no organized church so they attended religious services in the school house and at the age of 13 Ursula gave her heart and life to Jesus Christ under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. Butz. In the year of 1892 on March 3rd she was united in marriage to Mr. Theodore Wendel and they resided on a farm near Meservey for 31 years and then moved to the town of Meservey where she was living at the time of her death.

Mrs. Wendel was the mother of seven children, two of whom died in infancy. Her five living children are Christian J., Mrs. Nels Faaborg, Henry, and Albert, all of Meservey and Ralph of Belmond. She had the blessing of five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The Wendel's celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on March 3, 1942, and at the time of her passing she had been favored with 57 happy years of married companionship. She had been in ill health in the past year and became bedfast just 22 days before her death.

Funeral services were conducted in the home and in the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church of which she was a Charter member and a faithful worker from the time of her conversion. Words of comfort were spoken by her pastor, the Rev A.. E. Wilken. She had lived 80 years, 5 months and 24 days and gave 67 years to the Christian life. Surely she lived long and well. May all who read so strive to serve their Lord and Master Jesus Christ.

Fire Blight Infecting County Apple Orchards

Fire blight, a dangerous bacterial disease which attacks apple and pear trees has infected many apple orchards in Wright County.

There is no known spray which can prevent this bacterial disease, and the only control is to cut off and burn the infected branches.

Fire blight in apple and pear trees can be identified by the seared appearance of branch and limb, which looks as though they had been damaged by fire

The disease is spread from tree to tree by insects in the spring. An ooze appears around cankers of fire blight which attacks insects. The canker may girdle a limb or the tree trunk, killing the entire limb or the tree itself.

Fire blight occurs to a lesser extent in plums and cherries, as well as in some wild hosts such as hawthorn and mountain ash.

All infected branches should be cut off and burned. Cuts should be made several inches or a foot below the infected part. Pruning tools should be sterilized by dipping them in some strong disinfectant.

Fire blight is wide spread over Iowa this year where conditions have been favorable. In Wright County serious outbreaks of the disease have occurred at Rowan and Dows, with some at Clarion. The disease has been noticed in all parts of the county.

Approach Of School

With only ten days of vacation remaining, school is once again becoming a main topic of conversation among members of Belmond's younger generation. Most young people of school age seem to be looking forward to it with pleasure; the long summer vacation becomes a little boring about this time of year.

Signs that school is approaching become more apparent each day. The first steps toward the actual opening of the 1949-50 year will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of next week when advanced registration is held. All high school freshmen will register on Wednesday, August 24, while upper classmen will complete their registration on Thursday. New grade pupils in the schools will register on either Wednesday or Thursday.

But all signs of the approaching school year are not as matter-of-fact as advance registration. There are other, more subtle, indications. A high school girl is heard to say that she's planning to "take a few days off to go shopping and get some school clothes," athletic equipment is issued and football practice begins, a new teacher appears in town to look for a room, articles on the redecorating program completed in the school during the summer months appear in the paper.

There are other signs, too: last-minute teaching vacancies are hurriedly filled; students quit summer jobs and take a few days' breathing spell before starting out for another nine months; stores insert "back-to-school" ads and fill their windows with pencils, erasers, tablets and books; and the school administration and faculty plan and prepare new courses.

Students, especially those in high school, are impatient to renew friendships and make new acquaintances among their classmates. Most of them look forward eagerly to the many school activities and parties and to the new opportunities for growth each school year brings.

Fire Loss Reduced 10 Percent

We have scored a small, but encouraging, victory in the endless war against fire. Loss for the first six months of the year, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, was almost 10 percent under the total for the same period in 1948.

That is good news. Every fire that is prevented means that the nation saves jobs, materials, resources, and other tangible and intangible assets that would otherwise be lost. And, far more important still, it means a saving in lives and injuries.

However, we have only begun to do the job. Despite the decline, the waste for the first half of this year was nearly $350,000,000. The indirect waste—which cannot be measured in terms of money—is estimated to greatly exceed that figure. All in all, values of one kind or another totaling an inestimable amount went up in smoke during that brief span of time.

Why did this waste occur? People were careless—they took chances with smoking materials, heating plants, and other hazards, and they lost. Communities failed to provide adequate fire protection. Businessmen didn't trouble to educate their employees in the simple techniques that will prevent most fires before they start. So it goes, down the sorry list of failures.

Let's really go after fire—and beat it to the punch.

MASKS AREN'T POPULAR

Ku Klux Klan officials in Georgia hope to carry to the United States supreme court the question of whether the state of Georgia can force the Klan to produce its membership list.

There is no telling what the supreme court might rule on the techical point of the right of an organization to hide the identity of its members, but there is little doubt about what most people think.

An American is free to do pretty much as he pleases. But American tradition demands that whatever he chooses to do be done openly and proudly. There is no place for activities which must be hidden behind a mask.

SNIFFLE AND SNUFF

The flowers, bless them, flourish and thrive, offering to the friendly inquisitive bee, the pollen for propagation. The bee sips the honey, the pollen sticks to its hairy legs and, as the insect buzzes from flower to flower, spreads this fertilizing pollen over gardens and fields. However, there are some flowers which have pollen that doesn't attract bees and this is left to be carried by the wind. Millions of these tiny particles are cast into the air we breathe and cause a chemical reaction in many humans. It is the well-known and unpopular hay fever. Ragweed is the worst offender and causes most of its trouble from about August 15 until the first frost.

When you deal in medical sciences perhaps hay fever seems a trite and prosy kind of ailment, compared to the serious diseases that afflict man. But there is enough misery and suffering that come with this summer complaint to lead to campaigns to eliminate the ragweed or other such noxious growths from city lots, farms and country roadsides.

The pollen count will grow from now until perhaps middle October and the respiratory system of those allergic will bring about discomfort. Folks with hay fever are unhappy about their appearance during this time too. Although science has produced certain drugs that are effective in controlling the symptoms, county highway departments should continue to use scythes and mowing machines, Pocahontas county citizens to use the hoe and sickle. Let us try to get rid of the cause while the laboratory works on the effect.

—Pocahontas Record-Democrat

RICHARD HILL WINS 4-H JUDGING TRYOUTS

These boys will continue working as a team under the direction of the Youth Assistant. They will go to Ames Saturday, August 13, to compete in an all-day judging workout.

Four of these five boys will make up the Wright County Judging Team at the State Fair.

Visiting around Iowa

Iowa's a "Fair" State

It's getting toward State Fair time. Grace and the kids always get a great kick out of Iowa's Big Show and so do I.

But really, the greatest thing about the fair is the people — a real picture of democracy. Joe likes the races, Mary the garden show, while Ed heads for the stock barns. Each takes his pick.

We Iowans value our right to pick and choose — whether it be fair attractions, the movies, or our favorite beverage.

For example, for a cool drink on a hot afternoon, there's nothing more refreshing to me than a temperate glass of beer or ale. It's the beverage of moderation for thousands of Iowans. Yet I have many good friends who boost equally for the advantages of ice tea, or coffee, or maybe lemonade. The important thing is that each has the right to his preference. That's Iowa — that's practical Democracy.

Yes, Iowa is a "Fair" State, in more ways than one.

Pratts of Algona Get First Television Set

Algona has received its first television set!

The set was received by the Lloyd Pratt family recently. Reception has so far been good; stations at Minneapolis and St. Paul have been picked up. The Pratts have seen a ball game from St. Paul which came in almost perfectly on the 10-inch screen.

Best reception has come in cloudy weather after dark. The heavy clouds provide a low ceiling, and television waves are kept from spreading out.

Harry Slinings Lives Near Morse Lake on Mystery Farm

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slining and three of their eight children live on Mystery Farm 46, which is located four miles west and one-half mile south of Belmond on the northeast corner of Morse Lake. The Slinings own the 156-acre farm, which was pictured in last week's issue of the Independent.

Of the farm land, 39 acres are in oats and 80 acres in corn. The remainder is hay and pasture.

Mr. Slining feeds 40 head of Hereford cattle. He has 9 milk cows, 80 hogs, and 29 sheep.

Mrs. Slining usually raises 500 Austra White chickens but this year has 200 Leghorns.

Five of the Slining children are married and away from home. Glen lives on the west side of Morse Lake, Bob lives near Thornton, and Duane, east of Belmond. Mildred (Mrs. Mike McCrea) makes her home in Des Moines, while Junior works for Jim Payne. Arlene, Joan and Janet are at home.

Mrs. Slining has large vegetable and flower gardens and does quite a bit of canning.

Doctors Report Latent Syphilis Cases In Iowa

Physicians report that they are finding more cases of latent syphilis in Iowa — syphilis that struck Iowa citizens when they were young, and is now being exhibited in paralysis, insanity, or blindness caused by the dangerous diseases.

The increase in cases of latent syphilis may indicate that there are others who do not know they are syphilis victims.

A concentrated statewide campaign to find more cases of venereal diseases began in Iowa August 1. Iowa joins all states in spreading more information about syphilis and gonorrhea.

The Iowa State Department of Health, Division of Venereal Disease Control, is assisting local groups with facts about venereal diseases. National magazines will carry feature articles about syphilis and gonorrhea also.

Radio station managers have received spot announcements to be read on the air, and a special series of transcriptions have been obtained by the Division of Public Health Education to be loaned to stations.

The transcribed programs deal with the spread and the symptoms of venereal diseases, the dangers of these diseases to expectant mothers, and methods of treatment used today. The importance of early diagnosis and treatment is emphasized.

Social Security Office Asks Prompt Checking On Death Payments

The possibility of death payments should be investigated promptly in every case where a worker who has had a social security number dies, according to George R. Replogle, field representative of the Fort Dodge Social Security office.

Replogle warned that delay in checking by a member of the family of a deceased worker can prove costly. No loss of benefits will be sustained if the survivors will check with the Social Security Administration not later than three months after the month in which the worker dies.

Workers and their families should remember that the Federal Social Security Law offers insurance protection upon the death of an insured worker as well as upon the retirement of an insured worker after he reaches age 65.

Farmers With 'Hoppers In Hay Fields Warned on Their Spread To Crops

Farmers who find heavy infestations of grasshoppers in their alfalfa and red clover fields when they cut hay should take percautions against forcing 'hoppers into other crops after the hay is cut.

Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Iowa State College, says the thing to do is treat the fence rows of the field with chlordane or toxaphene before hay cutting is started. When the hay is cut, the 'hoppers will be driven either out of the field or toward the center.

Next, leave a one-or-two-rod strip of the crop uncut in the middle of the field. That strip should be treated immediately. Later it should be harvested as seed. Gunderson warns against feeding treated hay at any time to dairy cows in production. Harvesting legume seed is especially advisable this year because of the probability of a serious shortage, he points out.

Chlordane and toxaphene may be applied either as spray or dust. The rate of application for chlordane is 1 pound of the actual chemical per acre when applied as spray and 1½ pounds as dust. Toxaphene should be put on at the rate of 1½ pounds of technical toxaphene per acre when sprayed, 2 pounds when dusted. Both chemicals are poisonous and require care in handling.

Iowa Health Department Gives Polio Symptoms and Warnings

Six More Cases Reported Than Same Time In 1948

Here's why experts ask you to keep your children away from other people when polio is about.

At the International Polio meeting in New York last year scientists estimated that for every single case of polio resulting in paralysis, there are 200 to 300 other cases non-paralytic.

If a community should have eight cases of paralytic polio, this might mean that as many as 1,600 to 2,400 persons may be carrying the polio virus at some time during the year. Quarantine is little protection where there are this many cases in a town, or community.

Polio in Iowa is rapidly approaching proportions where we must beware of its attack, states Ralph H. Heeren, M. D., director of the Division of Preventable Diseases, Iowa State Department of Health. Forty-five new cases appeared during the week of July 16 to 23. At this time last year there had been 118 cases; this year, 124 cases, adds Dr. Heeren.

It's an individual and family, as well as civic, enterprise to protect against polio. Spread of the virus may be either directly by way of infection from the upper respiratory tract or indirectly through discharges from the intestinal tract. Control tactics must begin with rigid personal hygiene and community sanitation.

Teen-agers and adults are just as susceptible and should be cautioned as well as youngsters. In fact, a teen-ager will get around in the community more during one day than a 6-year-old, and therefore may have greater exposure or may spread the disease over a wider territory.

The best poliomyelitis precautions are:

1. Wash the hands and face before eating. Teach children to keep their hands away from their mouths. (Imagine the amount of infection transmitted to the mouth by a group of youngsters blowing bubble-gum and playing marbles.)

2. Use only clean food and drink. (A dirty restaurant or a sidewalk lemonade stand with one pitcher and two glasses has frequently helped poliomyelitis flourish.)

3. Avoid over-fatigue and chilling. These often pre-dispose to poliomyelitis attacks. See that children get rest periods. An hour at a swimming pool is better than a whole afternoon.

4. Keep away from persons with upper respiratory infections. Polio often starts as a cold or sore throat.

5. Keep away from crowds. Avoid unnecessary trips to areas where polio is known to be present. If trips must be taken to these areas, make them short and leave those at home who don't absolutely have to go.

6. Cancel family reunions, church picnics, carnivals, county fairs, etc., in areas where there is poliomyelitis.

7. Keep away from possibly polluted surface water whether it be swimming holes in a river, water in small streams or in puddles along the city streets. Remember that any person who touches his mouth and any child who goes wading gets his hands wet and most likely will get his fingers in his mouth before they can be washed.

8 Call your physician early if your child develops any unexplained sore throat, stiffness of the neck, intestinal tract disturbance or fever.

9. Do not consider DDT as a polio prevention measure. It is a good adjunct to fly and mosquito control when other control measures are used along with it, but remember that DDT has never stopped any polio epidemic. Similarly, we have no knowledge that it has ever prevented one.

10. Closing of theatres, swimming pools and churches will reduce the spread of polio in an area where it has appeared, but will be of little value if children are permitted to roam elsewhere at will.

11. Physicians and dentists in your area will know when polio is present and whether they should do tonsillectomies or extract teeth.

Former Kanawha Girl Marries

In a double ring candle light ceremony read at the St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church at 8:00 p. m., July 14, 1949, by the pastor, Rev. A. W. Malix, wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Caroline Harms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Harms, and Willie Kruse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kruse of Buffalo Center.

Nuptial music was played by Edwin Harms, brother of the bride. Selections were sung by Erwin Harms, accompanied by Miss Gertie DeVries. The church was decorated with garden flowers and candelabra.

Bridesmaid was Miss Imogene Harms, sister of the bride. The best man was Raymond Kruse, brother of the groom. Other attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Orrin C. Cunningham of Waterloo, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the wedding, a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors.

The young folks will be at home with the groom's parents until March 1, when they will move on to a farm of their own.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Harms and family, now living near Ackley, were residents of the Kanawha community for many years.

VOL. 30 NO. 45 OFFICIAL CITY PAPER Belmond, Wright County Iowa Thursday, August 25, 1949 OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

I wish to make a correction this week to one of those glaring mistakes that occur in print in newspapers every now and then and which happened on the front page of the Independent last week.

A headline over a story about school lunches stated that $12,000,000 in Federal funds was spent for lunches in the county. If that were true, it would seem as if the school children in Wright county are mighty well fed. The actual figure right down to cents was $11,981.68 so the headline should have read $12,000. Just a case of too many 0000000 and the proof reader's eyes being a little tired when checking the last proof before press time.

It is reliably reported that Coach Lloyd Patterson shot par on the ninth hole twice in succession and then spoiled his record by missing a one-foot putt on the next green. It seems as if Glenn Martin has a special kind of ball (which Patterson unknowingly used), that was responsible for the bad luck.

City Council Votes 50% Assessment on Sewers

Meet Again For Paving Project Legal Procedure

Belmond City Council met Tuesday evening in an adjourned session for further consideration of the improvement of Third Street N. E., involving the widening of the proposed 22-foot Farm - to - Market paving from Highway 69 to Luick's Lane.

The paving project has been approved by the State Highway Commission, and Farm-to-Market funds in the amount of $59,000 have been allocated for the improvement, provided suitable and adequate storm sewers for drainage and proper widening of the pavement, including curb and gutter, shall be furnished.

Average maximum assessment for each 70-foot lot fronting on the proposed improvement for storm sewers would be $184.44. Actual cost cannot be determined until contracts have been let.

The City has agreed to pay 50 percent of the total cost of the storm sewers, which is substantially the cost of construction of the storm sewers at street intersections and the outlet.

First proposal, that the City assume 75 percent of the storm sewer-drainage cost, was defeated by council vote; second proposal that the City assume 50 percent, was carried by council vote.

The $59,000 allocation of Farm-to-Market funds represents an average of more than $1000 benefit to each property owner adjoining the project.

The City Council has adjourned until next Tuesday night, August 30, to set up legal procedure necessary to initiate the project.

Small Percenters And 5-Percenters

We old-fashioned people are becoming very much concerned about recoming very much concerned about recent testimony in the Senate 5-per-center probe.

We can remember the talk of men who bragged of being able to "pad" expense accounts in small scale pocket filling. Also, "kickbacks" on contracts have have been practiced in government and business without an extreme uprising of the conscience of those involved. Small precenters are ever among us.

We are not opposing the development of contacts in government or business. It is necessary to have channels through which one can reach prospective customers. However, filling one's pocket with governmental funds by the sale of influence is downright disgusting to us small, old-fashioned people who support the existence of this large impersonal object of the 5-per-centers' affection. The disregard for public trust and ethical dealings brought forth in the Senate investigations shows that a number of those involved have very little respect for the little "donations" made each month by all of us through taxation.

It is difficult to ask that more and more purchasing controls be put on an already bulky governmental system. Possibly a refresher course on the ethics involved in spending other people's money would help.

As for the present investigation, we cynical, small, old-fashioned people hope all those involved will be pointed out. Let the heads fall as they will!

Who Says Were Going Broke?

Beardsley Ruml, writing in Collier's magazine, believes this nation is definitely going broke. And he's a man who ought to know, for he rose to be chairman of R. H. Macy and Company and originated the nation's "Pay As You Go" income tax plan.

He says, "Collectively, as a nation, certainly not. Individually, in the case of some of us, certainly yes."

Mr. Ruml believes that this year and next year more of us, "perhaps many more of us, will go broke individually, than in the years just past."

"Because, in the first place, there are more of us," he writes. "But, more important, customers are back in the saddle where they belong, and they are again making distinctions between horses, jackasses, and mules."

Mr. Ruml believes that too many basic changes have taken place in our economic system to permit the nation to go broke again—unless there is a war, or exhaustion of natural resources.

His reasons for feeling that we have no cause to fear depression are: (1) great improvements in the money system of the nation, (2) improvements in the credit system and credit practices, and (3) a vast extension of risk sharing.

Editorially Speaking--

Curb The Smarty Driver

A needed new descriptive term has been invented to work side by side with other deadly 'cides—homicide, suicide, fratricide and the like. It is "teenicide", a term which will in a single economical word give to the world the mental picture of death caused by a teen-age auto driver.

Statistics prove need for this word economy. It is estimated there will be 7500 deaths caused by the frivolous and careless acts of drivers under 25 years of age, and that the annual dollar damage they cause will be as great as the nation's annual fire loss.

These are startling figures, and call for renewed efforts to stay the waste. More rigid requirements as to fitness and judgment for those holding license to drive, and severe suspension of permits for those who will not conform to safety rules, is suggested.

Greater responsibility on parents who turn these youngsters unrestrained in high speed cars. Driver training courses in school have been found to cut the accident toll in half, so authorities report.—The Wright County Monitor.

A Spider In The Paper

Many years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if it was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Retailing has come a long way since those days, and the art of advertising has undergone great development. And advertising, by stores or any other kind of business, is a typical outgrowth of the competitive system. It is the best possible means of reaching the people who want goods and services, of urging the merits of one brand as against another, and of encouraging the consumer to go to some particular retail outlet. That it benefits the consumer goes without saying. No storekeeper could long charge an excessive price with competitors offering in print the same or an equivalent product at a lower price. And deceptive advertising always defeats its own purpose. The wise merchant advertises aggressively, but he bases his story on appeal, not fiction.

Salemanship is a driving force in keeping the American economy running. Advertising is the heart of it.

It is a principle of fair play in business. Fair trade laws were enacted to enable the owners of brand names and trade-marks, who cared to do so, to protect the property values of their trade names, and at the same time, to safeguard distributors and the public against injurious and uneconomic practices in the distribution of branded goods.

The Fair Trade law does not attempt to fix prices, and this has been concurred in by the Supreme Court of the United States.

It has been proven again and again that reckless price-cutting injures the consumer. The use of loss leaders builds up a "phoney" bargain psychology in consumers and they are easily persuaded to buy little-known goods with mark-ups sometimes ranging up to 1500 percent. From 15 to 40 percent is considered a fair mark-up in the retail field.—The Garner Leader.

Why Not An Air Lift?

We made great emotional writeups when Russia started the cold war and sent airplanes to carry into Berlin the articles they needed for food, fuel, and clothing.

We sit around and pay little attention to Hawaii struggling with a strike of workers on the boats that carry their sugar, fruits, and pineapples to the markets.

Maybe it is just as essential that Hawaii carry on the commerce to gain a living as it was for Berliners to call for products from the outside.

Do we class the Russians more hard hearted than we do the workmen carrying on the commerce of the seas?

Will Sell V.F.W. Buddy Poppies Here September 3

The 28th annual nationwide Buddy Poppy sale of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which will be in full swing throughout the county, will be held in Belmond on Saturday, September 3, according to George Jenison, Commander of Pierce-Zeiger Post, Number 4244 of the V. F. W.

The sale of Buddy Poppies will be conducted by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Post and by women and girl volunteers. It is expected that more than 1,000 poppies will be sold in Belmond this year.

The purpose of the sale is to carry on each year the vast veteran welfare program of the overseas veteran organization. Some two-thirds of the proceeds are used locally to aid needy veterans and their dependents. Other phases of the program include veteran rehabilitation on a national scale and maintenance of the V. F. W. National Home for war orphans and widows, near Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

The V. F. W. Commander explained that the Buddy Poppy is made for his organization throughout the year by hospitalized veterans as a part of their therapeutic rehabilitation. The V. F. W. acts as sales agent for these veterans, paying them a portion of the returns for their work. The Gold Chevron organization does not profit from the sale, but uses the major portion of the funds in bringing relief to our victims of war.

"The Buddy Poppy Sale", Post Commander Jenison pointed out, "is considered by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as a living memorial to its war dead because of the timely material assistance it brings to our living veterans and the survivors of those who died in the service of the nation."

The purpose of the Buddy Poppy is embodied in the slogan, "To Honor the Dead by Helping the Living." That will be the plea of the Buddy Poppy sales workers Saturday, Sept. 3.

"Let Him Dim His Lights First"

Be a safe driver — rather than a "road hazard." Lower your lights to on-coming cars and give the other fellow the same break you would want. It's wise and courteous.

It's also wise to select a station when it comes to servicing your car that you know will do the job right. We know you will be satisfied with that grease job when it comes from Finn's Skelly Service. We specialize in greasing all the moving parts of your car.

Joe: "Serves you right. When I put in a Lennox Heating System, I see that it supplies the right amount of heat in the right places—economically. That's because I locate and install pipes, registers, and heat controls correctly!"

Al: "Hey—would a Lennox, ah, break me?"

Joe: "It would save you! Lennox systems for gas, oil, and coal are reasonable—planned and put in right to give years of trouble-free, economical heating. Want an estimate?"

NEW HOMES

After reading the cut line under the pictures of New Belmond homes last week, Ed Bailey, city water superintendent informed us that according to his meter count, 200 new homes have been added in Belmond since 1942, which brings the total houses in Belmond up to 650. Our caption last week stated that there were nearly 100 new homes in the past five years, since 1944. These figures do not include additional homes made available by apartments in store buildings and houses during recent years.

Mrs. Lester Buseman brings a specimen of double Whitney apple to the Independent. The apples are grown together at the stem.

Johnny Chapman and Grover Downs are Belmond's "Flying Fisherman" and they came back with enough fish to almost prevent them from getting off the ground on the take-off for home, since they were flying John's two-place plane. The boys took off last week for Pelican Lake, near Orr, Minn., landing twice on the way up at St. Paul and Hibbing. They spent all of one day on the lake.

—M-S—

We have learned what the flying saucers were, recently observed by several near Belmond. They were old graph discs, several hundred, that were released by Duran Hill and Cec Carstens who were up in Duran's plane throwing them out.

Here's a little bit of authentic information which turned up last weekend which proves that it is a good thing to be strict and thorough housecleaner because you never know when something is going to turn up in an old dark closet.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Jones moved recently from Belmond to Boone and last Saturday a package and letter came to me from Mrs. Jones (Frances) who writes "It's a small world and here is an item of coincidence that proves it—

"We moved to Boone last week and while cleaning the house we now occupy what do you think I found in my closet?—A picture of Don Faris!

"It seems that in 1938-39 Don was Principal of the Wellsburg High School and one C. A. Tellier was then Superintendent there. From other evidence, we concluded that this house had at one time been occupied by Mr. Tellier and among a lot of papers he had left behind is the Wellsburg annual for 1938-39 which contains Mr. Faris' picture. The annual for that year was dedicated to Don as you will see. I am sending it to you—and he may be interested in seeing it too."

This Wellsburg annual called "The Tattler" may be seen at the Independent office by Mr. Faris or anyone else interested in the doings of our Superintendent back in those days.

Yes sir, the citizens of Garner did it very gracefully.

Last Monday the voters of Garner went to the polls and voted a $50,000 bond issue for a community memorial building. 601 in favor—267 opposed. It was the largest vote ever cast on a public measure in Garner.

Also the Garner American Legion raised nearly $50,000 by public subscription which will match the bond issue.

I've often wondered many times who has more fun and gets a bigger kick out of life than Mrs. Pat Dillon. Only recently this estimable lady in company with her sister, Mrs. Laton Avery, Mrs. Cena Nielsen and two other ladies from Goodell started early one morning by automobile with two fried chickens and all the trimmings on an overnight trip.

They didn't know just where they were going but soon found themselves in southern Minnesota and later down in Niagara Caves near Harmony and still later viewing the clocks at Spillville. That evening found the fivesome in a tourist home in West Union having the time of their lives "just playing cards" and the next day they returned home after another odessy to talk and reminisce about.

VOLUNTEER

LABOR WANTED

Volunteer labor is urgently requested by the building committee of the Veterans Memorial Corporation to help remove the false ceiling and the floor of the Veterans Memorial Building to facilitate remodelling which is in progress at the present time.

Hours will be assigned to suit the convenience of volunteers who should report to Carroll Bamford, general foreman.

The more volunteers we can get who are willing to help with this preliminary work, the more quickly we can expect to have the building remodelled and ready for use, Larry Gunderson, secretary of the board of the V. M. C. said Tuesday.

11 Belmond Firms Buy 14 Baby Beeves Shown at Junior Fair

In accordance with a custom of the past several years, a number of Belmond merchants and business firms purchased baby beeves at the District Junior Fair held at Eagle Grove last week.

Eleven firms purchased a total of 14 beeves at a price that averaged $28.15 per cwt., as follows:

Tyrrell Stock Farm, Baby Beef shown by Beverly Lerdal

Farmers Grain Co. — Marvin Fleming

"Dutch" Thompsen Clothing—Gilman Soma

First State Bank—Wayne Pastour

Courson and McNeal — Mary Ellen McClure

Farmers Implement Co.—Merlin Holverson

Thompson Hybrid Corn Co.—Jerry Aldrich

Christie and Larsen — Merlin Holverson

Hub Garage—Richard Goeman, Lyola Goeman

The buying was handled by Preston Tyrrell, in the absence of C. C. Christie, livestock buyer for the Christie and Larsen firm, away on vacation, who usually attends the fair and does the bidding on behalf of the local buyers.

Christie stated, "If other towns in the county would support the sale as Belmond merchants have been doing, it would make a much more aggressive market for these well-finished calves."

Mr. Christie is starting this year to give an annual prize of $10.00 to the owner of the best calf among the group purchased locally, based on dressing and grading of the carcass. The 1949 prize goes to Merlin Holverson.

Christie said he wished to congratulate the boys and girls who fed out the baby beeves which were purchased by the local merchants, as this year the dressing percentage for grading was above average.

Statement of Social Security Records Are Available To Workers

Workers can now obtain a statement of the wages recorded in their social security accounts which will be complete through 1948, George R. Replogle, field representative of the Fort Dodge office of the Social Security Administration announced today.

The amount of wages entered in the account determines the size of the worker's social security benefits upon retirement after he is 65 or the amount payable to his family if he dies.

Workers should check their accounts at least every four years, Replogle explained, because some errors cannot be corrected after that length of time.

Wage statements may be obtained by completing a post card request form which is available at the Fort Dodge office, or by contacting Replogle in the basement of the Courthouse in Clarion, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 7.

School Time Is Here The Time To Stress Safety

As boys and girls throng back to school, one of their most vital and necessary lessons will be on safety. Yet every day they can notice drivers breaking the rules: driving vehicles that are unprepared to avoid accidents, failing to pay attention in traffic, driving too fast, ignoring traffic rules, stop signs...

According to statistics far too many school children are injured or killed in auto accidents which could have been avoided.

Review your own driving habits NOW and resolve to be a better, more careful driver this coming school year. Strive to join an "Honor Class" of cautious motorists with perfect scores in driving safety!

Can Raise Living Standards If Not Paralyzed By Bureaucratic Controls

American manufacturers plan to spend three-quarters of their capital funds in the next five years to replace and modernize facilities and plant equipment, according to a recent survey.

If American industry is allowed to earn the money to buy much-needed new equipment, the survey emphasizes, it can raise the American standard of living 50 percent in the next 25 years.

Industry -- and industry alone -- can provide this higher standard of living for everyone, the survey emphasizes, if it can keep on investing at least 15 billion a year now -- and more in future years -- in new plants and equipment.

However, today Washington is taking a course which, if pursued, will make that investment by industry impossible, it is noted.

"Government spending now strains our resources to the limit," the survey points out, "and more multi-billion dollar spending proposals are being piled on. But government spending cannot improve American living standards. It never has, and it never will."

"The only sensible, the only safe national policy," the survey concludes, "is to make it possible for American industry to do its job -- not to terrorize private industry with proposals of ruinous taxation and paralyzing controls and threats of nationalization. For whatever makes industry do its work better contributes more to the common welfare than a bureaucratic government can ever hope to do."

Editorially Speaking--

Not Ready To Change

We are the healthiest people in the world. The average age at which the average person may expect to shuffle off is about 67 years. It used to be 54, and that is the age most insurance companies use as base when they compile their mortuary tables.

The administration which is planning to foist on this country government doctors and sickness insurance might do well to examine some facts. One of them is that out of several countries now having government medicine, none can compare with conditions of health that exist here.

We had better let our voluntary system work, as long as it is going good. And besides, so many of us like to have in the family doctor whom we know and trust, when our loved ones are ill.

The government may send us its man, when the cow gets the foot and mouth disease, but when something gets the matter with Uncle Harry's internal revenue, we want to know that the case is in competent hands.—Clarion Monitor.

Herbert Hoover

The services Mr. Hoover has performed for his fellow-countrymen, and for the needs of other lands have been given gratuitously. Any compensation he has accepted has not been kept for himself. It is given to few men to serve so well, in so many different capacities.—Muscatine Journal.

Hay Fever Cure

The man who discovers a cure or relief for hay fever should get a Pulitzer prize, a half ton gold loving cup or a huge Carnegie medal.—Clear Lake Mirror.

Returning Thanks

Nature has carressed us with a lavish land. Crops such as no man has ever seen better grace the country side. All of which makes one wonder if we deserve such consideration. It is easy in times of reverse to ask, "What have we done to deserve this punishment" but how many stop even a second to thank the Creator for the lush times of the year 1949?—Knoxville Express.

Hamiltons and Schimps Live On Mystery Farms 47 and 48

Hamiltons Purchased Farm Five Years Ago

Mabel and Walter Hamilton have owned Mystery Farm 47 for five years and have lived on it the past four years. The main buildings are about 12 years old. This year they have started improving by building an addition to the barn.

The farm is located northeast of Cornelia. 160 acres in size, there are 70 acres in hybrid corn, 30 acres in oats and the rest in pasture and hay.

Hamilton has around 50 cows and calves and is at present milking 20 cows. He is also feeding 50 hogs.

Mrs. Hamilton is raising 400 pullets and has about 350 hens. She usually keep Leghorns, but this year is trying out some New Hampshire Reds. She also raises geese and ducks and banties. She does gardening and stresses the care of strawberries and raspberries.

About twice a year the Hamiltons go to Minneapolis to visit Mrs. Hamilton's family and his sisters. They left last Sunday, August 28, on their first real trip and will visit Denver and other points in Colorado.

Minnie Johnson Owns Farm Schimp Operates

Mollie and Edward Schimp and their son, Larry, age 10, live on Mystery Farm number 48 which is located one mile north, one and a half west of Belmond, and is owned by Minnie I. Johnson. The family moved to this farm in the spring of the year, had lived east of Belmond previously.

The farm is 120 acres in size, and this year Schimp has 64 acres in corn, 20 acres in soybeans, 10 acres in oats and the remainder in pasture. He has eight head of cattle and between 75 and 80 head of hogs.

Mrs. Schimp has 250 to 300 Red Rock chickens, raises a garden and does some canning.

Improvements on the farm recently include a machine shed built a year ago and partly modernizing the house.

Mrs. Schimp is interested in flowers and makes a hobby of taking care of them, her husband likes baseball.

1000 Poppies Is Goal Of V.F.W. Sale Saturday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars observance of its 50th anniversary this year gives added significance to the annual sale of V. F. W. Buddy Poppies to be held in Belmond on Saturday, September 3, Commander George Jenison of the local V. F. W. Post declared today.

The Buddy Poppies, Jenison explains, are the handiwork of veterans who are still confined to government hospitals. The proceeds of the sale are used entirely for veteran welfare in the following manner:

"About two-thirds of the funds raised will remain in Belmond to aid needy veterans and their dependents through the office of Stephen Hardwick, Post Service Officer.

"A portion will be paid to the disabled veterans who made the poppies.

"One cent per poppy sold will be used to help maintain the V. F. W. National Home for war orphans and widows at Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

"One and one-half cents per poppy will be used in maintaining the V. F. W. National Rehabilitation Service, a service dedicated to aiding all veterans with their problems, and to acting as a means of contact between veterans and the Veterans Administration."

This is the 28th consecutive year in which the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy has ben sold nationally as a means of aiding the needy ones who made sacrifices in our nation's wars. It is expected that a total of 1,000 Buddy Poppies will be sold locally. The price is whatever the contributor wishes to give, but generous contributions are asked in order to carry out the great amount of veteran welfare work necessary.

Dear Friends & Customers:

We are sure that in the rush of everyday business, we often fail to express the appreciation we feel for your patronage and friendship. We may have sometimes even left the impression that we weren't particularly concerned about whether or not you did business with us. We take this means to let you know that we did deeply appreciate your patronage and even more your friendship, and our wish is that you tender our successors, Mr. and Mrs. Kadolph the fine support you have given us the past 13 years.

We understand they will continue the policy we have used in the past. Mr. and Mrs. Kadolph have secured the services of Bill Harbison to manage the meat department. Bill is well know in Belmond having been in the meat business with Gus Nissen here some 20 years ago.

They Roughed It Through West In '31 Chevy

Three Belmond boys set out for a long, leisurely and cheap motor trip through the western states this summer but surprised their families by returning home much sooner than expected.

There might be one or more reasons for this: Traveling in a 1931 Chevrolet, sleeping under the stars, cooking their own meals outdoors, and just the simple process of keeping their clothes clean may have cost more than anticipated; or they might have gotten hungry for some of mom's home cooking, or maybe they were just a wee bit homesick.

Highlights of the trip included a visit to Boys Town, Nebraska, after their first stop at Omaha; Denver, Colorado; the Rockies; Continental Divide, Last Frontier Hotel at Las Vegas, Nevada and an old western town being constructed by an old fellow known as "Doby Doc"; riding the waves in the Pacific at Los Angeles, California; San Francisco; swimming in big Salt Lake, in Utah and Yellowstone National Park on the return trip where money was running pretty low and they came straight home.

Altogether the boys traveled 5700 miles with a minimum of car trouble. They had a front-wheel bearing go out and tire trouble two or three times.

Roughing it was relieved a couple of times during the trip, once when they stayed all night with an aunt of Tony Jones at Julesburg, Colorado, and again at Los Angeles, California where the trio had breakfast with Mrs. Baird, mother of Mrs. Fred Gordon of Belmond.

HIGHWAY PATROL IS MAKING BEST SAFETY ENFORCEMENT RECORD

The Iowa Highway patrol is mounting the strongest safety enforcement effort in its history, patrol chief S. N. Jesperson said today.

In a report to state safety commissioner Alfred Kahl, Jesperson compared patrol activity during the first half of this year with the same period in 1948—the previous record year—to show these results:

The patrol made 609 arrests for drunking driving, 37 more than by the end of June last year. The 14,136 summonses issued surpassed last year by 365.

Nearly 9500 drivers received warning tickets for traffic violations while 39,000 drivers of unsafe vehicles were issued faulty equipment tickets. Both figures show an increase of about 1,000 over the first half of last year.

Beyond their enforcement duties, patrolmen gave assistance to experienced trouble along the highways. According to the report, this is 35 percent more "assists" than a year ago.

One figure showing a decrease was the $211,175.00 assessed in fines which was about $22,000 lower than last year. Traffic violators were sentenced to a total 76 years in jail during these first six months, 20 years less than in 1948.

All traffic fines paid go into the school fund in the county where the violations were committed, Jespersen said.

During the six months of record activity, the patrol drove more than three and a half million miles at an average cost of just over two cents per mile, according to the report.

Refrigerators Must Not Be Overloaded in Summer

Guard against overloading your refrigerator these summer days, is a caution from Naomi Shank, home management specialist, Iowa State College.

When the refrigerator is too full, circulation of air is shut off and foods don't keep as cool. Try to avoid putting anything into the refrigerator you'll later throw away, Miss Shank suggests. Carrot tops or radish leaves, for example, should be removed before the vegetables are refrigerated.

A check-up every now and then to make sures food are covered is a good idea too. Uncovered foods let moisture into the air in the food chamber, later to deposit on the unit. And, of course, uncovered foods rapidly lose flavor and food value.

Remember that frost on the cooling unit is like a wooly blanket, keeping the cold inside rather than letting it out to cool stored foods. Odors collect with the frost on the cooling unit. Defrost often enough, Miss Shank advises,— whenever the frost on the unit is one-fourth inch thick. After defrosting, wipe the interior lining, shelves, and defrosted cooling unit with a cloth wrung from a baking soda bath.

There's more to keeping the refrigerator clean than washing the interior Miss Shank adds. The condensing coils or plate need to be cleaned now and then so air can circulate around them and keep them cool. The crevice tool on your vacuum cleaner or a long-handled soft bristled brush does a good job of cleaning the coils or plate. Remember to disconnect the refrigerator first.

Various Censuses Indicate 15% Pheasant Population Increase

Iowa State Conservation Commission has set the 1949 pheasant season from 12:00 noon November 11 for 25 days in 68 counties in the long season zone, and for seven days in 11 counties in the short season zone.

Wright and adjacent counties are among those in the long season zone.

Season opens at 12:00 noon and closes at 4:30 p. m. each day. Daily bag limit is two cock birds, possession limit is four cock birds.

The various censuses indicate an increase in pheasant populations of 15 per cent. The '49 season in the long season zone is five days longer than in 1948. The new hours add 30 minutes in the afternoon to the legal shooting time.

Nine south-central counties are open for the first time to pheasant shooting, and for the first time in pheasant season history, the open pheasant range extends south to the Missouri border.

Solution Found For Provision That Tenant Must Leave All Straw

A simple and satisfactory soluition has been worked out to the problem brought up by farm leases which provide that all straw must stay on the rented farm when a tenant moves, I. W. Arthur, Extension economist at Iowa State College, pointed out this week.

Most farm leases have included such a provision for at least half a century. It is based on conditions which prevailed when all of the small grain was threshed.

Now that combining has become common, the provision brings up new problems. A tenant operating under a crop-share lease frequently will bale part or all of the straw. He even may put it into the barn Under these conditions, the tenant has an investment tied up in the straw which hasn't been shared by the landlord, according to Arthur.

When a tenant decides to move, he may want to take some of this baled straw with him. However, the lease states that all the straw must stay on the farm.

The solution worked out provides that the oncoming tenant will pay the outgoing tenant a small fee to cover the labor and expense involved in baling the straw and putting it into the barn, according to Arthur. On some farms a fee of 20 cents per bale has been paid to the outgoing tenant. This money can be used by the outgoing tenant to pay for the same expenses tied up in baled straw on the farm to which he is moving Arthus says.

This is a more logical solution to the problem than providing for movement of baled straw, Arthur thinks. Moving it requires extra expense and labor. Too, moving straw brings up the danger of carrying noxious weed seed from one farm to another.

Lease forms, directions for their use, and other information about farm rental agreements may be obtained by writing to Arthur, Iowa State College, Ames.

State Park Attendance Increases 100 Percent

"The 86 state parks in Iowa's recreation system are taking the worst beating in the history of the 30-year-old system." In many of the parks, on heavy use days, it has been necessary to turn away crowds when roads and parking facilities were taxed beyond capacity.

According to Wilbur A. Rush, Superintendent of State Parks, "overuse has destroyed many sod picnic areas so completely that at the end of this season they must be retired to be allowed to recover."

More than 400 new tables have been added this year, with 1500 new tables, as well as replacement of old ones, being an absolute necessity for 1950. Toilet facilities and water supplies have been inadequate in most of the popular parks.

Attendance for the month of June, 1946, was 420,590; for the same month this year, 830,086. Park Superintendent Rush believes that July totals, when compiled, will exceed this 100 percent increase. Some parks have exceeded their month total of a year ago on a single weekend, said Rush.

Old Raspberry Canes Should Be Removed Right After Harvest

Removal of old raspberry fruiting canes right after harvest is one of the requirements for a good crop of berries next year, says Ed Cott, extension horticulturist at Iowa State College.

He says that growers who haven't already gone over their plants should give top priority this month to the job of removing old canes. Ample space must be provided for new shoots to develop. Removing and burning old canes also helps prevent the spread of anthracnose, a fungus disease prevalent in Iowa raspberries.

Old, nearly dead fruiting wood should be pruned from both black and red raspberry patches. On everbearing red raspberries, the new canes need room to develop and produce the fall crop of berries, Cott explains.

VOL. 30 NO. 47 — OFFICIAL CITY PAPER — Belmond, Wright County Iowa — Thursday, September 8, 1949 — OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER — The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

Little business competes with big business by using its head more and pleasing its customers better. It can avoid the red tape and ponderous methods of a large organization, and it can be quicker-witted and faster on its feet. In fact, it has to be to survive.

—M S—

Our guess is that not more than one person in five knows how to spell "nickel."

—M S—

We are told that the meek will inherit the earth. Outside of this country the meek are going to find their inheritance a liability rather than an asset.

—M S—

There are sound arguments on both sides to the sewer problem for Third Street N. E. Now if everyone concerned will "GIVE" a little as well as "TAKE" a little there's no reason why a happy medium cannot be reached. Such cooperative thinking and planning would make for a better city and easier and happier solving of all problems.

—M S—

Four local fellows, having just returned from fishing on "Big Winny" Lake in Minnesota were attracting a lot of attention on Tuesday morning. In the back of their truck they had part of their catch which included an 18 pound Northern Pike as well as several weighing 12, 10 and eight pounds. Seeing those whoppers, sure puts a person in the mood for another fishing trip before autumn and winter really set in. The fishermen included Richard Mickelson, Clarence Mickelson, Lowell Larson and Irvin Halverson.

—M S—

Not to be outdone by the other boys on Main Street last Tuesday morning, Charlie Studebaker brought to the Independent office a mounted head of a lake trout which was caught July 26, 1949 by Charlie in Clearwater Lake, Ontario, Canada. The trout weighed approximately 30 pounds, and one glimpse at its ugly teeth-filled, gaping mouth convinced me that Charlie must have had quite a tussle and been skillfully accomplished in the fishing sport in order to land him.

The head was mounted by Warner Butts of Goodell and is now on display in the office of the Belmond Independent.

We noticed one thing about all the big fish displayed this week and that was Pete English close on the heels of the fishermen, we suppose hoping to get information to improve his own fishing technique.

Dr. E. J. Wallace Was Belmond's Oldest Resident

Belmond's oldest resident, Dr. J. E. Wallace, died early Tuesday morning, September 6, about 4:00 o'clock at the Steele Memorial Hospital at the age of 96 years, one month and 28 days. He had been in failing health for just the past few months and had been in the hospital about a week before death came, since August 29.

J. Eliot Wallace was born near Cadiz, Ohio on July 8, 1853. In 1855 he came to eastern Iowa with his parents and in 1861, the year the Civil War broke out, the Wallace family moved to a large farm near Hampton.

During the early years of his life everything seemed to point toward a medical career. After a course in Cedar Valley Seminary, Osage, he taught school for a time northeast of Osage and then studied medicine in New York University. He was graduated from the Bellevue Medical College in 1890.

He started his medical practice in Belmond soon after graduation about 60 years ago. For about 10 years from 1908 he managed his 2500 acre ranch near Chamberlain, South Dakota, and practiced as a physician in a large territory there. After the fall of 1917 Mr. Wallace divided his time between Belmond and the ranch in South Dakota but in 1931 came back to Belmond to stay. He hadn't practiced medicine for several years but until just the last few years had been Belmond's health officer.

Funeral services are Thursday afternoon, September 8, at the Congregational Church at 1:30 p. m. with the Reverend Alfred B. McKeith oficiating. Boone Funeral Home is in charge with burial at the Hampton cemetery.

Dr. Wallace is survived by his wife and two daughters: Mrs. Edwin King of Hamill, South Dakota and Mrs. Edward Wilkans of Alexander.

September Eighth Opens Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announces that September 8 is the opening of the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive and says "This emergency drive is our only hope of providing care for patients without slowing up scientific research and professional educational programs of the National Foundation."

Continued help for 1948 patients and the enormity of this year's epidemic which is worse than last year's high of 27,908 cases, are main reasons for the need of more funds.

A detailed explanation of the use of such funds and need for more is given in an article released by the National Foundation, which may be found on the editorial page of this issue of the Independent.

For convenience of donors, contributions may also be left in Belmond at the First State Bank or the Belmond Independent office. You can tell it when you see it—feel it when you drive it! So good looking that the Fashion Academy in New York gave it the Gold Medal Award as "Fashion Car of the Year". So wonderful to drive, even old timers in the auto business give its "Feel" a great big cheer! They like the "Feel" of Ford POWER—in both the 100 h.p. V-8 and the new 95 h.p. Six. They like the "Feel" of Ford's "MID SHIP" Ride cushioned by new "Hydra-Coil" Springs in front, new "Para-Flex" Springs in back. They like the "Feel" of Ford's KING-SIZE Brakes that work 35% easier, thanks to "Magic Action". Why don't you slip behind the wheel of a new Ford today? That's the way—the only way to get that new Ford "Feel"!

MOTOR CLUB LEADER WARNS OF POLIO IN MANY RESORT AREAS

"The wise motorist, traveling with his wife and children, will not linger long in resort areas known to be afflicted with poliomyelitis better known as infantile paralysis," said Lydia Kuehl, State Travel Counselor of the Motor Club of Iowa, affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

"While we sincerely hope that 'polio' will not reach the epidemic proportions it did in some sections of the country last year—one state alone reporting over 2,000 cases—we are urging tourists not to take chances and we are endeavoring, as a motor club, to keep an accurate tabulation of areas which might become stricken," she added.

"The disease strikes most frequently during the summer months, usually reaching its peak in late summer or early fall. Doctors point out that the incubation of 'polio' virus is regarded as about two weeks, but in some cases it has been found to be as short as five days and in others as long 35 days."

Physicians, the AAA club executive explained, warn against such symptoms as fever, headache, drowsiness, vomiting or constipation, sudden lack of muscular coordination, and other complaints. "If parents are worried," he said; "they should summon competent medical authority. If on the road, during a motor vacation, drive to the nearest physician's residence or hospital for a diagnosis. Quick action may prevent the crippling of the child or adult."

The following suggestions are offered motor tourists:

1. Cleanliness is necessary. Don't let children exchange bits of candy or food, or come to the table without washing the hands. Keep flies out of the house or tent.

2. Avoid public contacts; keep away from crowds in theatres, baseball games, movies or county fairs if in an area where "polio" is raging.

3. Don't get overtired. Too strenuous play, late hours, excessive fatigue—these make [illegible] victims.

4. Avoid chilling. Don't [illegible] long in cold water.

5. Avoid swimming in [illegible] which has not been declared [illegible] by the health department.

1949 CROP [illegible] Is 450 Carloads [illegible] of Corn or Equivalent

The Iowa Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) goal for 1949 will be 450 carloads of corn or its equivalent in other foodstuffs and cash. The [illegible] will be held in CROP Week November 6-13.

CROP supervisors, county workers, and others who attended the August 4 kick-off meeting in Des Moines voted to raise the goal to the higher amount because of the continued need overseas, the promise of an abundant crop in Iowa this year, and the fact that the CROP [illegible] organization is ahead of last year's schedule.

Mrs. S. O. Knudson, of Sioux Rapids; J. S. Russell, editor of the Farm and Home Register, and the Rev. Clarence Sink, of Waterloo, drew from their own first-hand observations in telling the CROP audience of the continuing need for food in Europe.

Governor William S. Beardsley, who was a farmer-contributor in the Warren county CROP collection last fall, gave his approval for the coming drive with the observation that [illegible] Christian duty to support private aid programs [illegible] ment cannot do some of the greatest things" he said.

A refugee-type luncheon was served to Governor [illegible] the speakers, and the CROP delegates. It included cabbage, boiled potatoes, dark bread, black coffee, and a small portion of honey. Actually, [illegible] would represent quite a [illegible] the helpless people for whom CROP is collecting food [illegible]

TRAVELER

Four year old Jimmie [illegible] of Pocahontas, started for "grandma's house" on his tricycle. Finding it further than he thought, he abandoned his machine, boarded a Fort Dodge bus and was finally apprehended by the authorities in Webster county. Fort Dodge is southeast of Pocahontas. Grandma's home, for the record, is in Moville, west of Pocahontas.

Why You Profit By Building Cribs

. Essential To Support Price

Grain price supports are effective only if corn is kept on the farm and off the market when supply exceeds immediate demand. A successful sealing and resealing program will do that. But, you need sufficient corn storage space to take full advantage of the government corn loan program. 100 million bushels of '48 corn should be resealed on farms to keep supports effective. Off-farm storage space is expected to take care of the other 92 million bushels now under seal or purchase agreement in Iowa.. If the 100 million bushels are not resealed on the farm but dumped on the market, a depressed price is likely.

. Get Part Of Crib Free

You'll get a 10-cent per bushel storage fee for resealing corn on your farm. That'll cover a fifth the cost of a double corn crib with an overhead granary; half the cost of a good single crib; or two-thirds the cost of temporary crib. That takes the edge off of building costs.

. Stabilize The Livestock Program

Sensible place to store corn is on farms. That's where it will be used. A supply of corn allows you to plan livestock production over a longer period of time. Assured of a feed supply, you avpid costly shifts in breeding and feeding programs.

Congratulations to 4-H Boys and Girls

Judging from the long list of local names appearing among the prize and ribbon winners at the Junior District Fair at Eagle Grove, the 4-H Clubs in the Belmond area are really "on-the-ball" and doing a great job for their boys and girls.

The training and competition that rural boys and girls have in 4-H Club work is of inestimable value and seems to be gaining in momentum and popluarity from year to year.

Hay Fever Can Be A Serious Matter

"Hay fever can be more than just an annoyance—it can be a serious matter," says the Iowa State Department of Health. "It can lead to infections of the sinuses, the throat and the bronchial tubes." If you have hay fever, the health department suggests that you find out what type you have, what causes it, and what your doctor can do to relieve it.

Hay fever usually appears as an inflammation of the eyes and nasal passages caused by sensitivity (allergy) to some particular pollen, dust, or other substance. Its symptoms are tickling, stuffiness, pressure and a watery discharge in the nose, sneezing, and redness and itching of the eyes and face.

There are several types of hay fever. Perennial hay fever is the type which may occur at any time of the year. It is caused by sensitivity to house dust, animal hair, feathers, certain foods, or other substances. Seasonal hay fever is the most common type. It is due to certain pollens in the air, and occurs only at the time of year when the plant which causes it is in bloom.

Hay fever sufferers from ragweed could be helped by nationwide eradication. The weed can be destroyed by various methods. Cut the plants before they blossom; pull up the plants by the roots; or chemically treat the plants. Spraying the plants with the chemical weed killer 2, 4-D is considered very effective. The destruction of the weed is worthwhile only if done over a large area since the pollen can be wind borne to great distances.

Another field in which hope is present is air conditioning of homes. Units are being perfected which remove much of the pollen from the air. Installed for an entire home or in a bedroom window they give much relief to the hay fever sufferer.

Special Taxes: They Seem To Stay!

The excise taxes on theater tickets, cosmetics and luxury items which were put on during the war are still in force. The concerted effort which is being made to repeal them so far has met with no success. The reason: the government needs the money and will hesitate a long time before it gives it up. Governments have a way of adjusting expenditures so that they will take in all of the income, whatever it is. It will be recalled that during World War I letter postage was reduced to three cents. It was supposed to be a temporary measure, but the post office department promptly increased its expenditures to the point where it has not been possible to repeal the increase. The same thing apparently has happened in the matter of the excise taxes, and many others.

Polio Foundation Asks Dimes and Dollars Now to Pay for Patient Care in Epidemic of Infantile Paralysis Thoroughout Country

With thousands of children and adults in hospitals today as the result of current widespread polio epidemics, and with as many new cases likely to develop in the months just ahead, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has launched a Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive to provide immediate funds for patient care.

The price-tag on this year's epidemic will be so enormous, according to Basil O'Connor, Naitonal Foundation President, that $14,500,000 must be raised to meet the national polio bill.

During 1948, when there were 27,908 cases in the country, the highest number since the record total in 1916, the National Foundation and its Chapters spent $17,000,000 in March of Dimes funds to provide epidemic services, he said. With even more cases this year, it looks as though it may cost $25,000,000 in 1949 to pay for that part of medical and hospital care which families cannot pay themselves.

By the end of August, as much money had been advanced in epidemic aid to National Foundation Chapters whose March of Dimes funds have been exhausted by the cost of care as was sent in all of 1948. The nation's total number of cases now is as large as a full year's toll in previous years, with predictions for at least double that number before December 31.

Furthermore, it is estimated that a minimum of $5,000,000 will be required to continue helping 1948 patients who still need clinic or hospital treatment. The National Foundation gives assistance as long as medical care is necessary, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

The money raised in the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive will be used exclusively for services to polio patients in all states, Mr. O'Connor said. Contributions may be mailed to POLIO, care of your local Post Office.

"This emergency drive is our only hope of providing care for patients without slowing up scientific research and professional education programs of the National Foundation," Mr. O'Connor explained. "It is an ironical fact that this heavy incidence, severely taxing March of Dimes resources, comes at a time when the nation's leading scientists are more hopeful of finding an answer to the problem than ever before.

"Scientists working under 68 March of Dimes grants at top medical and educational institutions are waging the largest research attack ever attempted against a single disease in this country, supported by March of Dimes funds. We must not interrupt the search for a solution because of lack of funds. We must—and we shall be able to do both jobs—help pay for the care of the stricken while finding a means of prevention or control — if the American people contribute now to carry the work through until the next March of Dimes in January."

Progress since 1938 when the National Foundation was formed, was indicated by Mr. O'Connor as follows:

More than $23,500,000 has gone into a comprehensive research and education program, seeking control of polio and training of experts — virologists, orthopedists, pediatricians, public health physicians, nurses, physical therapists, and other medical workers who make up the professional army now battling the disease in laboratories and hospital wards.

At least $58,000,000 had gone for patient care, prior to 1949, in payment of polio bills families could not meet themselves; in staffing and equipping polio centers for modern care and treatment, in establishing equipment depots in six strategic locations throughout the country from which respirators, hot pack machines, beds, cribs and other emergency supplies can be rapidly dispatched to hard-hit areas.

"We know now that fully 75% of those stricken make good recoveries if good treatment is available," Mr. O'Connor said. "Surely no one would deny a child a three-to-one chance for recovery because of lack of money."

The address is POLIO, care of your local Post Office. Send as much as you can—as fast as you can—today!

IOWA HAWKEYES MET AT ROWAN SCHOOL HOUSE

The Iowa Hawkeyes 4-H club met at the Rowan school house Tuesday, August 16. The record books were checked to see if they were ready to be handed in at the fair. Leroy Knuths, Dennis Olson and Richard Hill were appointed as a committee to take care of the decorations for the fair. At the close of the meeting Wayne Ford showed moving pictures on Saving Three Little Pigs and the correct way of handling hogs when taking them to market. Lunch was served by Mrs. Wendall.

Broncos Seek Revenge From Britt

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

Enjoyed a mid-morning snack last Friday at Spurling's cafe—the occasion being Dr. A. M. Nelson's birthday. A beautiful and tasty birthday cake was before the doctor, who very graciously sliced a helping for those who participated in the affair. The arrangements for the party were taken care of by Mrs. Carroll Bamford, Dr. Nelson's office assistant, who left on a vacation several days prior..

Dr. Nelson wouldn't reveal his age but insinuated that the years were moving too fast for him.

Overheard after a bridge party last winter: "I get the same sensation when I play bridge opposite Mrs. (Blank) that I imagine I would get if I were fighting a duel. A duel is a fight for blood, and Mrs. (Blank's) bridge game is a bloodless fight for blood, as intense and real as though it were being fought with bullets instead of cards."

In renewing their subscriptions to the Independent Mrs. Louise Veeder, Reeves Apt. D., 2024 Pierce St., Sioux City 18, Iowa and John S. Nail, 2691 Potter St., Eugene Oregon, sent their regards to the publishers and remarked that the paper is like a weekly letter from their Belmond friends.

—M S—

Mrs. Wallace Ramsay, who moved from Belmond about three years ago to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Teel, and family at Missoula, Montana, sends with a letter a clipping of a story about the Missoula Flower Show where there were more than 300 entries shown. She writes, "I screwed up enough courage to enter a potted tuberous begonia and got a blue ribbon on it. That was in the so-called Horticultural class."

"Then I arranged pansies 'inspired by a flower picture' that I had done in oil when I was 19 years old, and won a yellow ribbon on it (3rd place). The whole experience opened up a new world to me . . . "

Mr. and Mrs. Arald D. Rawley report that coming home last Thursday night, September 8, they saw a young deer along the road five and a half miles southeast of Kanawha.

Suggest Good Ways to Care For Sealed or Stored Corn

Check the moisture content of sealed corn before shelling it out to reseal it as shelled corn, cautions C. H. Van Vlack, extension agricultural engineer at Iowa State College.

Shelled corn containing more than 13.5 percent moisture should not be binned, Van Vlack says. Also, shelled corn with more than that much moisture in it is not eligible for a government reseal loan.

The Iowa Production and Marketing Committee has received reports indicating that in many cases the moisture content of 1948 ear corn is running from 14 to 15 percent. The PMA, through local AAA committee members, is surveying the moisture content of corn over the state.

Van Vlack says that the best bet for a farmer who plans to reseal some shelled corn is to shell out his driest corn and leave the other corn in the ear. He also recommends doing a good job of cleaning when shelling. Dirt, pieces of cob, and other foreign material in shelled corn increase the danger of spoilage.

If the man who feds corn spilled around the sheller drags rather than scoops it up and puts it in the bin with the rest of the corn he will have fewer spoilage worries. Dirt scooped up along with the corn may be just the thing to start spoilage in a bin full of shelled corn, Van Vlack says.

Cleaning out bins before filling is another cautionary measure, he suggests. Sweep out the bin, including walls. After cleaning, spray floor, walls and ceiling with a 5 percent DDT emulsion applied at the rate of 1 gallon per 1,000 square feet of surface. This treatment will destroy any insects that may be in the bin.

Final Hearing on Third Street N. E. Improvements Set for Friday, 8 P. M.

All Objections Waived Unless On File With Clerk Before Hearing

Property owners living along Third Street N. E. and for 300 feet on each side will have an opportunity to show their objections to or endorsements of the proposed public improvement of Third Street N. E. at a public hearing Friday night, September 16, 1949, at 8:00 o'clock in the Belmond City Council Chambers.

Funds in the amount of $59,000 have been allocated from Farm-to-Market monies for a 22-foot strip of paving, from Highway 69 on the west to Luick's Lane on the east.

The project has also been approved by the State Highway Commission, provided suitable and adequate storm sewers for drainage and proper widening of the pavement, including curb and gutter be furnished. Estimated amount of the average maximum assessment for each 70-foot lot fronting on the proposed improvemeit is $184.44 for the storm sewers.

The City agreed, at an adjourned session August 23 to assume 50 per cent of the total cost of the storm sewers, which is substantially the cost of construction of the storm sewers at street intersections and the outlet.

According to the notice of hearing in last week's Independent, unless property owners have written objections to the proposed assessment on file with the clerk prior to the time fixed for the public hearing, they shall be deemed to have waived all objections thereto.

Volunteers of America Tag Day Is Next Saturday

By permission of Mayor Charles Hass, the Volunteers of America will again conduct their annual Tag Day in Belmond next Saturday, September 17.

Efforts of youthful salesmen, who will meet with their local leader, Miss Florence Baxter at the City Hall at 9:00 a. m., will be confined to the streets as they are not permitted to enter stores to do their soliciting.

Of special interest to the workers will be the fine cash awards contributed by good friends of young folks and free passes to the New Belmond Theater by Eugene Bradley, manager.

Upon the death of his mother, Maude B. Booth, last summer General Charles Brandon Booth was elected Commander-in-Chief of this 54-year old organization, whose sole reason for existence is the alleviation of suffering humanity.

In Mitchell county last fall, a young mother and her one and a half year old son were deserted by the husband and father who had also deserted the army, receiving a dishonorable discharge. Under the circumstances, and because she was not a native of the state, she was unable to qualify for relief in her dire needs from usual sources. Bills amounting to nearly $100 for hospital and medical expenses of the mother and care of child were paid by the Volunteers of America. In the closing paragraph of her doctor's letter of thanks to the organization, he said, "I am happy to say that the Volunteers of America unhesitatingly gave full aid. I heartily recommend to other rural areas that the V. of A. be supported to the limit . . ."

Local sponsors of the Tag Day include Mayor Charles Hass, Supt. Don Faris, Hermia Shefveland, school nurse, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, Rev. and Mrs. A. B. McKeith and Rev. R. A. Ormsby.

Account of Fair Experiences of Three 4-H Girls Representing Co.

Each year Wright county is represented by a 4-H demonstration team at the State Fair, and in clothing project years, a style revue girl is also chosen. Audrey and Janice Hammond were the 1949 demonstration team, Norma Arndorfer the style revue representative.

The following is an account of the State Fair experiences of these three girls, written by Janice Hammond.

The 4-H week at State Fair began Aug. 28 and continued through Sept. 2. We girls and Mrs. Clarence Whitten, the 4-H committee woman, drove to Des Moines Sunday morning with Mrs. Zuber in her car.

One of the special features in our general assemblies were the series of talks given on our 4-H pledge. This series was begun by Miss Julia Faltinson in our Sunday session. She explained the phrase "I pledge." Miss Faltinson impressed the true meaning of these words, which amounts to a solemn promise. We should remember this each time we give the pledge and really mean what we are saying.

The second phrase of our pledge was given Monday morning by Mrs. Edith Barker, a past state 4-H girls leader. She wants us to develop "Our heads to clearer thinking" by using them. A brain is one thing that does not wear out with use but it becomes more alert and useful. At each of these sessions we enjoyed community singing, usually a selection of a 4-H girl such as a piano solo or vocal solo.

Tuesday "My heart to greater loyalty" was given by Rev. James E. Hempstead. He told us of our loyalty to something or someone regardless of our consciousness of it. He wants us to develop our loyalties to a definite purpose so they will be useful to us.

Mrs. William Van Bloom spoke on the subject "My hands to larger service", on Wednesday. She encouraged us to develop the use of our hands in a specialized field. To cultivate greater skill in whatever work we may do is her suggestion.

"My health to better living", was given by Miss Clara Luther on Thursday. She wants us to develop ourselves physically by correct habits in eating, exercise and posture. Our health is for our own enjoyment so why not take care of it.

The final phrase was given by our state 4-H leader, Miss Esther Whetstone. She emphasized the meaning of "For my club, my community, my country and my world." This solemn pledge we give is not for ourselves personally, but is for the benefit of these organizations we're a part of. We shouldn't complain if we don't get top honors ourselves as long as our work is of some benefit to one of these larger organizations. We were also interested to find that Iowa is the only state in the Union which adds "And my world" to the pledge. I think this would be the proper time to adopt Iowa's ending internationally.

Our evenings were also filled with wonderful planned entertainment. On Sunday night a Vesper Service was held for 4-H members. Mr. Ray Cunningham spoke to us. He is general secretary of YMCA at Iowa State College. His message was an encouragement for us to keep climbing. Never be be perfect, but keep trying to make it better.
I wish every 4-H girl could have

We were all invited to the grandstand Monday night. Both 4-H boys and girls lined up four abreast and marched from the dormitory to the grand stand. All traffic was stopped and it really gave us an important feeling. We enjoyed the performance very much in spite of the sprinkles.

Tuesday night was free night on the fairgrounds. We could do as we liked as long as we had a leader with us. Our group attended the horse show in the hippodrome.

Games and folk dances were supervised for us, Wednesday night. Mrs. Clara Luther directed the folk games and we enjoyed a few minutes of social dancing before our lunch of orange juice and cookies.

The Merrill Packing Company provided a wonderful barbecue and floor show for us Thursday evening, which consisted of barbecued beef, potato chips, baked beans, pickles and ice cream. We were allowed to keep the plastic spoons we used for souvenirs. The floor show consisted of the Morrell chorus, a boys quartet from Van Meter and other professional entertainers.

Younkers entertained a number of 4-H girls at luncheon in the tea room Friday. After lunch the girls enjoyed a tour of the store and a style show.

I have mentioned only the specially planned entertainment. We also enjoyed our luncheon at Younkers with Mrs. Zuber very much. Seeing the various attractions on the fair grounds added greatly to our pleasure.

I feel that our week at the state fair was really a wonderful experience. I believe it helped us to feel the great responsibility to our organization. I wis hevery 4-H girl could have the experience of seeing and feeling herself a part of the cooperation that must take place in order that a large program be carried out smoothly.

I AM DRY
ACT NOW DO NOT DELAY

Boss — don't forget to treat me for mastitis caused by Streptococcus agalactiae. You know for months I have not given the milk that I should and you were losing part of your profits. Treatment during the dry period should not be neglected. It is the best time to treat my mastitis. My udder is non-functioning and any treatment introduced is not diluted by my milk.

The next time you go to town be sure to get the Beebe "Slip-Easy Tip" treatment for me. You will not need a syringe.

Personally, I like Beebe G-Lac the best because it will remain in my udder during the entire dry period. Boss, I am not going to tell you what you should use but if you prefer Penicillin, get it. Beebe has both Penicillin and G-Lac. I know that the druggist carries both of them.

Safeguard Profits
With Corn Cribs

Profit on your 1949 corn as well as old corn you still have on the farm depends on whether or not you take full advantage of the government loan program. Success of the entire grain price support program hinges on a successful sealing and resealing program on farms.

The Facts Are:

192 million bushels of '48 corn are now under seal or purchase agreement in Iowa. Prospects are for another good crop. Off-farm storage space will take care of 92 million bushels. The other 100 million bushels of '48 corn must be resealed on farms to keep the entire grain price support program working effectively. Dumping 100 million bushels on the market, just because there isn't a home for it, would drop corn prices nearer to 50 or 60 cents. Safeguard your profit. Build corn cribs.

For Temporary Cribs . . .

We have poles, slat cribbing, lumber and other materials for building temporary cribs. See our plans for a good temporary crib that will cost as little as 10 cents per bushel rated capacity.

WE HAVE PLANS FOR EVERY CORN STORAGE NEED. SOME BUILDINGS ARE CONVERTIBLE TO HOG HOUSES, POULTRY HOUSES AND OTHER USES. SEE US TODAY.

$10,000,000 being saved this year by policyholders in State Farm Mutual . . reduced rates benefit 4 out of 5!

Yes, it's really something to talk about! The world's largest automobile insurance company has reduced premiums for 4 or 5 of its policyholders!

Most members of State Farm Mutual find that they are saving from 10% to 37% when they renew their automobile insurance. Without reducing insurance protection, they are actually saving a total of $10,000,000 during 1949.

New members of State Farm Mutual will enjoy the same reductions in all districts where the new rates apply.

1. State Farm policies are written for a period of six months rather than the usual twelve-month period. Therefore it is possible to adjust rates at more frequent intervals.

2. It is State Farm's desire to insure only careful drivers. This reduces the number of accidents among State Farm policy-holders—keeps our cost of operation down to the minimum.

3. State Farm is a MUTUAL COMPANY. Savings always immediately benefit the policyholders.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION, STATE FARM PROVIDES AT LEAST TWICE AS MUCH PULBLIC LIABILITY PROTECTION AND FIVE TIMES AS MUCH PROPERTY DAMAGE PROTECTION, AS IS REQUIRED BY ANY STATE FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY LAW.

With Your Encouragement---

Children Enjoy Eating

Letting children help in the kitchen is often a good way to interest them in food. Small servings in bite sizes and as little confusion as possible are other ways to encourage children to eat.

Mealtime is often a hectic hour in some families because "Susie" or "Johnny just won't eat." Father threatens, mother pleads, and Susie or Johnny ends up crying or belligerently refusing his meal with a decisive "no."

A lot of trouble begins right there with the coaxing and pleading, Mrs. Isaac Peters nutritionist in the Department of Child Development at Iowa State College, explains.

Few children will eat when they're told to "Eat those potatoes now or you'll sit there until you do." It's much more effective to encourage a child to eat by casually remarking "My these carrots are good today," Mrs. Peters points out.

She says that the attitude of the parents and other members of the family has a marked effect on the way a child eats. Children are bound to refuse certain foods if the rest of the family are constantly voicing their dislikes.

The kind of food, the way it is served and the amount of confusion at the meal table are other things that need to be considered when trying to get children to eat.

Small Servings

Serve "finger foods" often, Mrs. Peters advises. Most children, before they are 5 years old, like to use their fingers rather than spoons and forks. They enjoy having crisp lettuce, carrot sticks, watermelon, cantaloupe and pineapple wedges and orange sections to eat with their fingers.

Give children small portions of food. One or two tablespoons of each kind of food is usually plenty. Small servings, give children a feeling of satisfaction, for they've accomplished something by cleaning up their plates. They'll be more than likely to ask for "seconds." Small servings also make it possible to serve a greater variety.

SUN

When a coon stole two goose-eggs which a brooding hen was hatching, the hen refused to give the remaining egg any further attention. Mrs. Nels Nelson, Elk Horn, put the egg in a paper sack, hung it on the clothes-line and in a few days a tiny gosling pecked its way out. Now a family pet, the sun-hatched gosling follows Mrs. Nelson wherever she goes.

OVERALLS

Mrs. Mac Yakle of Wapello was doing the family washing recently when a pair of overalls "exploded," showering her with water. A July fourth "torpedo" in one of the pockets was found to be responsible. The question of "who threw the overalls in Mrs. Yakle's washing machine" was answered by son Jarrett, 13.

Need More Funds For Polio

A considerable bit of time and space is being devoted by radio and newspaper to the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive which opened September 8.

While the annual March of Dimes campaign held early in the year ended with excellent success, the heavy drain on funds by many 1948 patients still under treatment and the even bigger epidemic of 1949 has exhausted the rescources available, according to reports from national headquarters.

Since no organized drive has been planned, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is urging generous donations through the Post Offices. In Belmond contributions may also be left at the office of the Belmond Independent, the First State Bank or given to the collection taken at the New Belmond Theater.

We know that the people of this community, like sympathetic and generous Americans everywhere, will not fail to respond to this need.

Editorially Speaking--

In view of the terrifically high toll of human lives lost over the recent Labor Day holiday weekend and the fact that a day never passes when unnecessary highway accidents, killing and wounding innocent people, do not occur somewhere over the nation, we were particularly interested in what F. W. Stilwell of Sutherland, Iowa had to say on the matter in editorial comment which appeared recently in the Sioux City Journal. Stilwell's article is as follows:

SLAUGHTER OF THE INNOCENTS

To the Editor—How long are we going to permit the slaughter of innocent persons on our highways and streets by drunken drivers and speed fiends? According to statistics, 32,000 persons were killed and about 10 times as many injured by motor vehicles during the year 1948. It is likely that the score will be as many, if not more, this season.

I waste no sympathy on the speed fiends and drunken drivers who kill or seriously injure themselves. But the others, wives, children and other passengers risk their lives every time they ride with the criminally reckless drivers and are really helpless to protect themselves. Many times, wives and other passengers say nothing rather than protest, and pay for it with their lives.

The craze for speed in many cases is a species of insanity. Like the inveterate gambler, he is obsessed with the speed craze to the point where he loses all sense of caution when he gets behind the wheel. The result is a destruction of innocent lives that is truly appalling.

The writer has been driving a car much of the time since 1909. We have driven in every large city in the middle west and made trips to the west coast. Many years we averaged between 25,000 and 30,000 miles a year in business. During that time we have never had a serious accident. How did I do it? Following is why: We kept our car in good running condition. We stayed sober; we kept our maximum speed around 50 miles an hour and kept the car in control at intersections and on turns. We might say in passing that we avoided ties with the other fellow at crossroads.

We are sure that if these rules are followed, 80 per cent of the accidents can be prevented. But we can hear: "When I get behind the wheel I want to get somewhere." Do you want to arrive with your family or your friends crushed in the wreckage of your car? Do you want them to be victims of your criminal carelessness?

What are we going to do about it? There is only one way: Pass a law limiting speed to the point of safety. Enforce the law with rigid penalties. There is a device now ready for manufacture that will continue to signal when the car exceeds the speed limit. There is no use putting it on the market until a law is passed providing a limit of speed. It is going to require a strong demand on the part of the public before our lawmakers will feel justified in passing such a law. How about it?

CHARLES MIKESH

Charles Joseph, son of George Mikesh Sr. and Sophronia (Cox) Mikesh was born January 22, 1880 in Hickory Grove and passed away at his home there August 28, 1949 at 11:50 P. M.

He grew to manhood on his father's farm at Hickory Grove. He was a graduate of the Hickory Grove grade school, also of Ellsworth Business College of Iowa Falls and of the Agricultural College at Ames, Iowa.

On January 1st, 1916 he was united in marriage to Kathlyn M. Pannoff at Belmond, Iowa. To this union seven children were born.

They farmed near Belmond the first years of their married life and then moved west of Klemme where they farmed for five years after which they moved to a farm near Forest City where they lived for 16 years. Charles then bought his father's farm, where they have been farming until his sudden passing.

He is survived by his loving companion, five daughters, Colina, Mrs. Robert Haan of Garner; Gladys, Mrs. Edwin Shahan of Belmond; Grace, Mrs. Willard Zaspel of Burlington; Ruby, Mrs. Richard Schmidt of Joice, and Constance, Mrs. Paul Dallman Jr. of Gowrie; two sons, George, who at the time of his father's death was stationed in Berlin, Germany with the United States Military Government, and Charles Jr. at home and by 15 grandchildren. A kind and loving companion and father, a good friend and neighbor has answered the call to come up higher and he will be greatly missed in his home, and community, but our loss is his gain.

The pallbearers were Eric Ekman, Claus Lund, Al Norberg, Burton Oleson, Eric Ramberg and Eugene Shugren.

On Friday afternoon, August 26, funeral rites were held at 2 o'clock at the Evangelical Church at Meservey, Iowa, with Rev. A. E. Wilken officiating, assisted by Rev. Harvey Quandt. Vocal selections were rendered by Lydia Fischer, accompanied by Mrs. Grosz, who also played the processional music.

The pallbearers were nephews, and were Herman Fisher, Jr., Lyle Fisher, Arlowe Paul, Laurel Paul, Mervin Wickersheim and Milton Wirtz. The burial was made in the family lot in the Meservey cemetery.

In 1904, he came to Kandiyohi county, Minnesota, and it was there on October 6th, 1909, that he was united in marriage to Rauza Scott.

In 1919 the family moved to Hopkins, Minn., coming to the township of Spring Vale, Isanti county in 1922. There they continued to live until November 1, 1944, when they moved to the Village of Isanti, since which time they have operated a restaurant.

Visiting around Iowa

by Joe Marsh

Football Time!

Notice that hint of fall in the air?

It means football season again. To me, football brings out true American sportsmanship . . . where the spirit of Fair Play typifies our whole American way of life.

Remember that Iowa-Illinois game a couple of years ago? The Illinois captain stopped the play to give Iowa a chance to make a substitution. Who doesn't admire such consideration for the other fellow!

We may not think alike. We may even be in competing businesses. But we all believe in American Fair Play; try to respect the other fellow's right of ideas, choice, and preference. Neighbor Joe likes dance bands . . . I enjoy old-time singing. Ed likes his hot coffee, while I prefer a temperate bottle of beer on a fall evening. We respect each other's rights and insist on fair play, whether it be a matter of a man's choice in music, or his favorite beverage.

That sense of sportsmanship is one of the great things we Americans have to be thankful

THE STORY OF
TEN LITTLE FREE WORKERS

THESE ARE THE WORKERS

Ten little free workers in this country fine and fair.
But if you cherish your freedom—worker have a care!
Ten little free workers—Reddy was doing fine
Until the socialists got him—then there were nine.

Nine little free workers laughed at Reddy's fate
Along came federal medicine—then there were eight.

Eight little free workers thought this country heaven
But the government took over the railroads, then there were seven.

Seven little free workers—'till the miners got in a fix.
Uncle said coal's essential and took over leaving six.

Six little free workers 'till the day did arrive
The steel mills too were federalized—then there were five.

Five little free workers—but the farmers are free no more
The farms have been collectivized—that leaves only four.

Four little free workers till the government did decree
All must have free legal advice—then there were three.

Three little free workers—the number is getting few,
But with government groceries selling food—then there were two.

Two little free workers—our story's almost done,
With clerks at work in federal stores—that leaves only one.

One little free worker—the reporter son-of-a-gun
Mustn't criticize government—so now there are none.

Ten little workers—but they are no longer free
They work when and where ordered, and at a fixed rate you see,
And it all could have been prevented if they'd only seen fit to agree

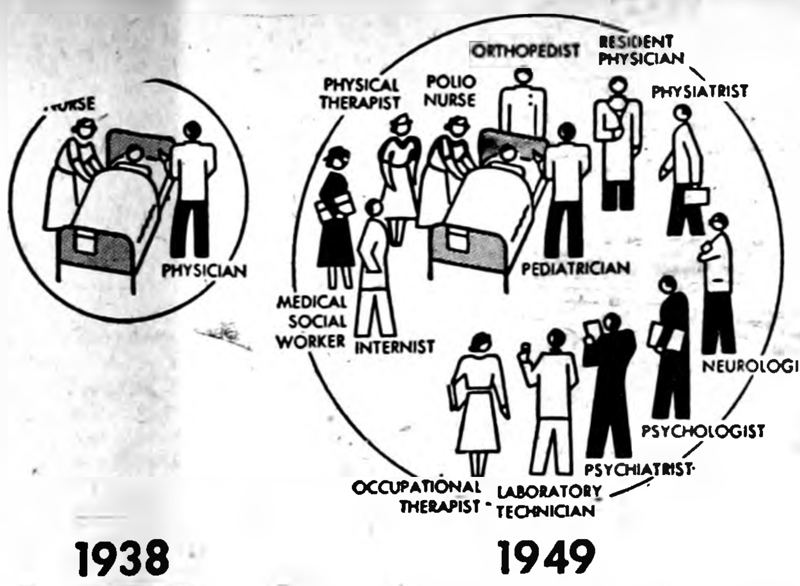
GROWTH OF POLIO CARE TEAM



Medical care for polio patients is costing the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis more money than ever before—because better treatment is available today than formerly, as the accompanying chart reveals. Until 1938 when the National Foundation was formed, a physician and a nurse usually comprised the best available care. Today, modern polio treatment may include 13 specialized services, provided by an entire TEAM of professional workers. This expanded care has cost National Foundation Chapters millions in March of Dimes funds. More money is needed immediately to continue these services. Support the POLIO EPIDEMIC EMERGENCY DRIVE to help care for today's polio patients. Send your contribution now to POLIO, care of your local Post Office.

I. S. C. Engineer States Advantages Of Storing Corn In Shelled Form

Storing shelled corn has several advantages over storing it in the ear, according to C. H. Van Vlack, extension agricultural engineer at Iowa State College.

He said recently that farmers faced with the problem of providing additional corn storage space on their farms this fall would do well to consider storing some corn in the shelled form.

Especially is it advisable to shell out cold corn now under government seal or purchase agreement and reseal it in a tight bin.

For one thing, Van Vlack pointed out that on many farms the problem is to find space only for a year or two. For example, some farmers normally have adequate corn storage space, but now with the largest carryover of old corn on record plus prospects for a good crop, they need extra space this year. Those farmers are looking for a double-duty building—one that can be used for storing corn this year, and then converted to another use such as a hog house, poultry house or garage later on. Most of these combination structures will work much better for storing shelled corn than for ear corn, according to Van Vlack.

Cost of storing shelled corn on a per-bushel basis is less than storing corn in the ear. A bushel of shelled corn takes up about half the space of a bushel of ear corn.

Too, spoilage and damage from rats is usually less if corn is stored in the shelled form. This is because it is put in a tight building that is rat-proof, according to Van Vlack. If a hole develops in the bin, shelled corn runs out and a farmer will plug it up. Rat damage in ear corn storage is less noticeable until the crib is shelled out.

With a tight bin there is no spoilage such as occurs around the sides of cribs during extremely wet weather. Too, dirt and shucks can be removed from the corn during the shelling process.

Van Vlack recommends shelling out cribs of old corn now under seal instead of storing the new crop as shelled corn for these reasons:

Keeping corn in cribs for more than 1 year is hard on cribs. The corn dries out during summer and settles down as it dries. During wet weather later, it takes on moisture and expands, forcing crib walls out. Long-time storage of corn in a crib allows rat infestation to build up.

Gene Bradley, manager of the New Belmond Theatre, has faith in human nature and its honesty, as must be evidenced by the dollar bill stuck on the outside of the door to the theatre lobby.

As a novel promotion stunt to create interest in the feature show, "It Happens Every Spring," starting next Sunday at the New Belmond, Bradley has promised that if the dollar bill is still there by matinee time, 2:30 p. m. the first ten persons (five adults and five children under 12) reaching the box office will be admitted free.

If the buck has disappeared, well, nobody gets in free and Bradley will have lost his faith in humanity and will say people are not honest!

Raoul Beyers Was In Belmond Past week First Time In 40 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Albin Larson of Belmond met the train in Clarion on Wednesday to welcome to this country, and to the Belmond community in particular, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ehresmann, the first displaced persons of World War II to come here.

Karl and Ottilie, in their early 30s, are of German descent, their ancestors having fled Germany to settle in Austria Hungary at about the time of our own Civil War. Since 1939, when dispossessed by the Russians, they have been moved around from one concentration or work camp to another in Germany, and during the last two years have just been waiting for final arrangements to come to the United States.

They are very distantly related to Mrs. Larson, and arrangements for their admittance to this country under the D. P. set-up have all been made by the Larsons.

Bees Given Part Credit For Fruit Crop

Mr. Bras and Ed Shahan had just finished picking when the Independent photographer arrived.

City Agrees To Pay 75 Percent on Third Street N. E. Storm Sewers

$59,000 Farm-to-Market Funds Allocated For 22-Foot Strip Paving

Property owners along Third Street N. E. in Belmond and adjacent to it presented a petition at an adjourned session of the Belmond City Council last Friday night, Septetmber 16, asking that the city pay the entire cost of the storm sewers necessary in connection with the proposed paving of the street.

The city had agreed at an adjourned session August 23, to assume 50 percent of the cost of the storm sewers, which is substantially the cost of construction of the storm sewers at street intersections and the outlet.

Further discussion of the storm sewer matter, after presentation of the petition, resulted in a vote by the council, amending the resolution regarding the storm sewers to the effect that the City will pay 75 per cent of the cost, the property owners to pay the remaining 25 per cent.

$59,000 of Farm-to-Market funds have been allocated for a 22-foot strip of paving on Third Street N. E. from Highway 69 to Luick's Lane, and the project approved by the State Highway Commission provided suitable and adequate storm sewers for drainage and proper widening of pavement, including curb and gutter, to be furnished.

The City Council directed Rowat and Murray, engineering firm of Belmond, to prepare detailed plans, specifications, notice to bidders and form of contract for the proposed improvements.

The extension shall commence with a connection to the existing sanitary sewer system located on Third St. N. E. at approximately the west line of the CRI&P railroad and shall extend east on Third Street N. E. to the intersection of Third Street N. E. and Eighth Avenue N. E., thence north on Eighth Avenue N. Francis Morris Family Occupies Mystery Farm 51, Final of Series

Mystery Farm Number 51, which appeared in last week's Independent completing the series which ran weekly the past year, is owned by R. F. and Mable Morris and occupied by Francis Morris and family. Francis was born on the 240 acre farm four and a fourth miles south of Belmond on Highway 69, 35 years ago, later moving with his folks to the farm just south. He moved back when he and Viola Soma were married in 1938.

Improvements made the last few years include a new watering system, modernizing the house, wrecking of an old shed near house preparatory to building a garage, and painting of buildings.

In addition to the 240 acres, Francis also farms an additional 80 acres just south and across the road. He prefers and does combination grain and stock farming. This year he had 140 acres in corn, 80 acres in oats and the remainder in pasture and hay.

At present he has 15 head of Jersey dairy cows, nine head of purebred Hereford cows and calves, 90 spring pigs and about 40 fall pigs. They raise a few chickens and keep about 125 laying hens through the winter.

For relaxation, Francis likes to fish, but doesn't find time very often.

The Morrises have three children: Richard, 9 years of age; Eileen, 6; and Dwight, 3. The two oldest children attend country school at the Brooks School.

Soybean Harvest Season Often Short, Combine When Dry

Start combining soybeans just as soon as the beans are dry enough to tore, recommends C. R. Weber, agronomist at Iowa State College.

Allowing the beams to become over-dried may be costly in losses such as shattering and injury to the soybeans seed.

Often the season when conditions are right for harvesting soybeans is rather short. So, Weber says to plan ahead for the equipment and storage space you'll need, and w en the beans are ready, go ahead with harvesting as rapidly as possible.

Best way to harvest beans is to combine direct from the standing stalks, according to Weber. The pods should be fully matured and the beans hard. Beans can be combined at 14 percent moisture or higher, but they are not safe to store until the moisture is 13.5 percent or lower. Most elevators have equipment for making moisture tests.

For a rough test in the field, t e pods should be dry enough to split open when squeezed between the thumb and forefinger. Dry beans will crack all the way through when you bite them. If beams are cheesy you can be pretty sure the moisture is too high.

Usually soybeans are in their best condition for combining after the first good frost, says Weber. This completely kills the green stalks and the weeds. If these aren't dead and dry, they may cause the sieves to clog up in combining—even though the beans themselves are dry.

Pack Carriers

In the pioneer days of the Hudson's Bay company in northern North America, men were pack carriers of distinction — at least by weight. The company's standard requirement for portage jobs, notes the National Geographic society, was the ability to travel 80 miles in four days, bearing a 90-pound pack, and food and sleeping equipment. Some super-carriers could handle two of the 90-pound packages.

Sunshine Cities

American vacationists will be interested to know that Denver, the colorful capital of Colorado, had more sunshine—and more snow—during 1948 than any of 19 "typical" United States cities listed in the 1949 edition of the Britannica Book of the Year. The book shows Denver enjoyed 3,331 sunlit hours during the past year, more than any of the other 18 cities. Second and third sunshiny cities also were in the West with longitudes comparable to that of Denver.

Tarantula Not So Bad

Despite its fierce appearance, the tarantula is not deadly poisonous to man. The World Book encyclopedia says the bite of this hairy spider is painful, but has never been known to be fatal. Actually, the tarantula, which is the largest of all spiders, serves man by eating great quantities of harmful insects.

"In Twenty Years"

A very optimistic bit of prophecy, which describes what might be termed a Utopian Economic Future, was called to our attention by local realtor Neil Flanagan. Entitled "In Twenty Years" the article appeared in a recent issue of "Headlines", weekly publication of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and was written by Herb Nelson, past president of that organization.

While Mr. Nelson's predictions seem to us just now rather unbelievable, all we have to do is review the progress of the country we live in—together with its ever raising standard of living—over the past 20 years and we think "could be." Anyway, what Mr. Nelson had to say about the future in the coming 20 years, as printed below, constitutes some very happy thoughts.

The value of real estate in our country in 20 years will be at least twice as great as it is today, measured in today's dollars. In 1930 the value of all real property, farm and urban, was $190 billion. In 1950, we can expect it to be $300 billion. In 1960, when we have 20 million more people and our cities will be increased by one-fifth, the valuation will be $600 billion.

The average American home will be more spacious by 50 per cent. It will have 600 square feet of floor space for each person as compared with 410 square feet today. Even today, we have four times the amount of per capita dwelling space of England, and seven times that of Russia.

Every home will have temperature controls and air conditioning, light controls, gadgets, conveniences, and beauty that will mean a double standard of home comfort for the average American. This home will cost twice as much as the average home of today. The average home sold in today's market is worth about $7,500. The average home of 20 years from now will be worth $15,000. The wage-earner won't mind. He'll get there first.

Buildings used for work and recreation will be even more spacious, pleasant, and properous than the home for the urban dweller. He is a bit like the farmer, who takes care of his barns first and his home last. In the cities we introduce our newest luxuries into our office buildings, theaters, and work shops first.

When it comes to farm and land values, we will see them trebled. The pressure on the fertile American acres from our own great market and from all the world will continue. We can't make much new farm land, even by reclamation and irrigation.

Increased mobility for everyone in the cities through more cars, improved rapid transit, and aviation, will more than double the 2,100 square feet of land we now allow a typical urban dweller for his car, his home life, his work, his travel on streets and sidewalks, his recreation. The typical urban citizen of 1960 will use about 5,000 square feet of land equal to a lot 50 by 100. The process of urbanizing all this land goes on with great speed. Urban decentralization has just begun. When we go one mile outward with the periphery of the city, we add a great many square miles of land.

You see this process in your town as new outlying shopping centers multiply and more big stores open up suburban branches. Elbow room in our cities will wipe out the crowding which is the real cause of urban blight. Poverty never built slums.

Some parts of our cities will decline as values are spread over larger areas. Everyone knows this, however, and knows enough to make a prudent choice. What most of us lack is the courage to act on what we are sure is going to happen. We forget that the long-term investor is more certain to win than the hit-and-run speculator.

All these things are only an extension of what has happened in the last two decades. Our economy, based on resources in hand and not to be wrangled from a suspicious or hostile world, rolls up wealth like a giant snowball. The process will go on.

Harold G. Moulton, head of Brookings Insituation, says that our standard of living will increase eight-fold in 100 years, and makes a good case for it in a new book called "Controlling Factors in Economic Development."

With this future, why are so many of us disturbed? Growth is always painful, and the green bones of our structure sometimes ache.

We have many competing roosters crowing to make sure that the sun will really rise and make a new day, but the new day comes with or without the roosters. Today is a sure part of the bridge that leads from a yesterday with poverty towards a tomorrow when we will have only the rich and the richer.

You are on this gravy train. Only a fanatical political leadership can wreck it.

Herb Nelson

OBITUARY

DR. JOHN ELIOT WALLACE

John Eliot Wallace, son of John W. Wallace and Mary (Guthrie) Wallace, was born at Cadiz, Ohio July 8, 1853 and departed this life Sept. 6, 1949, being 96 years and 2 months of age.

In early life Dr. Wallace resolved to secure an education—he left home with that purpose in mind. He graduated from the Cedar Valley Seminary at Osage, Iowa and for a time taught school in that vicinity, being a friend and contemporary of the late Hamlin Garland (author) of Osage. He attended S. U. I. for two years but took his degree from the Bellvue Medical School of New York City—now a part of New York University.

He came to Belmond in 1890 and for years had a large practice.

He was preceded in death by all of his family, including four brothers and one sister, also by his only son, Bernard.

Dr. Wallace was twice married. Of his first marriage to Selma Marie Anderson, one daughter was born, Leona. The wife passed away Oct. 3, 1896. Of his second marriage to May Isabella Danforth, one son was born, Bernard, and one daughter, Jessie.

Dr. Wallace was a kindly man by nature, an adoring father to his children, a friend to his patients and to many others.

From M. C. Barry, a long time friend of the family, came this tribute: "I want to say the Dr. could number his friends by the people he knew and all Belmonders knew Dr. Wallace and his many acts of kindness to young and old alike.

The family has this consolation in knowing that Dr. lived a full and useful life and in departing this life he left with all who knew him a memory of a long life well spent. All the many years I knew him he impressed me as a man who never was seeking the applause of man but he lived his daily life as if he was seeking that rich reward for a life well spent here on earth, in the life to come beyond the grave."

Early in life he became a member of the first Baptist church of Hampton and retained his membership through life but was associated with the Congregational church of Belmond and a regular attendant.

He is survived by his wife, his daughter, Leona, Mrs. Edwin King, his daughter, Jessie, Mrs. Edward Wilkans, four grandsons, three granddaughters and two great granddaughters.

Services were held at the Congregational church Sept. 8 and he was laid to rest in the Hampton cemetery where all of his family is buried.

Those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin King and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle King of Winner, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilkans of Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Danforth, Mrs. Luther Chitwood, Mrs. Theron Atkins of Independence, Missouri; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Paulson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Koch of Hampton.

MR. ERNST STADTLANDER

Mr. Ernst Stadtlander was called from this life on Saturday morning, September 3, 1949. Death caused by heart attack, brought his earthly life suddenly and unexpectedly to a close while partaking of breakfast in a cafe.

He reached the full age of 81 years, 9 months and 25 days. Mr. Stadtlander was born in Germany on November 8, 1867, and came to America while a young man. He was united in marriage to Ethel Meyers on September 9, 1909. Five children were born to this union. In 1933 Mrs. Stadtlander was taken from his side by death. Also a son preceded him in death in infancy.

The departed spent the earlier part of his married life in the occupation of farming in the vicinity of Alexander. Later he moved and continued farming near Belmond. In about 1913 he discontinued farming and moved to the town of Belmond, where the remaining years of his life were spend.

The departed leaves to mourn his death, 3 sons, Ernst, Alfred and William, all of Belmond; and 1 daughter, Mary of Fort Dodge, Iowa; 4 brothers, Carl, Johann, Chris and Bertus Stadtlander; 2 sisters, Mrs. Eko Bekker and Mrs. Jake Dorenkamp; 8 grandchildren and also many other relatives.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act. . . ."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:
1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
3—Decision by arbitration.
4—Decision by neutral referee.
5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employes, and are the most highly paid of all employes on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employes of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Should a necessity carry a high federal tax?
Telephone service is generally considered to be a necessity. Yet the Federal tax on long distance and other telephone service goes as high as 25%! The tax on luxuries is only 20%. That means the necessary long distance telephone call you may have to make in an emergency will be taxed higher than luxuries.
And that is only part of the telephone tax picture. Federal tax increases your local service bill by 15%. Long distance calls of 25c or over are taxed 25%. Other forms of telephone service are taxed from 8 to 25%. This excise tax is imposed directly upon you as a telephone user. Your telephone company, at its own expense, acts as a tax collector.
These excise taxes are in addition to the corporation income taxes and other taxes which the company pays to the federal government either directly or indirectly.
We are sure your Senators and Representatives in Congress would welcome your views as a taxpayer and citizen in helping them to guide future action on this peacetime tax of a necessity.

Turning Strips Planted To Grass Contributes To Erosion Control

Turning strips planted to grass make an effective contribution toward controlling erosion, according to Dale Hull, extension agriculture engineer at Iowa State College.

Where fences are not on the contour, end rows ordinarily form an escape route for water that is held by contours and other crop rows. By planting the turn rows to grass, contour systems are made more efficient and heavy washing is prevented. Any grass that is adapted for use in waterways is good for turn rows.

May Find Poison Gas In Silos

Each fall silo-filling time brings with it reports of deaths caused by carbon dioxide poison gas in silo pits. Norval Wardle, extension farm safety specialist at Iowa State College, suggests taking precautions against poisoning when cleaning out silos.

Since the gas is heavy, it acts much the same as does water. Hence, trench silos and silo pits are most likely to contain the gas. Taking out the bottom door will permit draining to pit level.

A check for gas can be made by lowering a lighted lantern into places where gas is suspected. If the light goes out gas is present

Wardle suggests several methods of removing poison gas. Because of its heavy moisture it is possible to bail it out with the same methods used for baling water. A bucket with rope tied to the handle can be used to lift out the gas. A bushel basket also works well for baling purposes. A second method is to use a vacuum cleaner equipped with a hose for drawing out the gas.

A good way to remove gas from a trench silo is to use a silage blower. Large amounts of gas can be forced out readily by this method.

Regardless of the method used to remove gas, it is always best to make a second check with the lighted lantern to make certain all the gas has been forced out.

Wells and cisterns, too, often harbor dangerous gases. Therefore, Wardle suggests using the same precautions before entering them.

Will Release Limited Supply Of Shelby Oats

A limited supply of Shelby oats is being released by the Committee for Agricultural Development for increase in 1950, Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, was informed recently by J. L. Robinson, agronomist at Iowa State College.

Shelby is a new high-yielding white oat variety developed from a cross of Anthony x Bond made in 1932.

Shelby is relatively stiff strawed, uniform in growth and smut and rust resistant. It has a large kernel, thin hull, and excels Clinton in test weight per bushel. However, Shelby grows about two inches taller and is more susceptible to lodging than Clinton.

To receive the Shelby oats a grower must be nominated by the County Seed Distribution Committee, set up under the direction of County Extension Director Aaron R. Bowman.

Allotments to each county will be made on the basis of their respective acreages of oats harvested in 1948, Bowman said. In case the supply should be less than originally planned, the allotments will be reduced accordingly. No seed will be supplied to gorwers outside of Iowa.

The seed produced will be under contract and must be disposed of in the manner as provided in the agreement.

Any growers interested in receiving an allotment of the new variety should get in contact with Bowman at the County Extension Office for further information.

Advise Feeding New Or Snapped Corn Slowly To Pigs, Increase Gradually

Farmers having snapped corn on hand from opening fields for pickers and those wishing to start hogs on new corn had better go a little slow at first.

E. L. Quaife, extension animal husbandman at Iowa State College, says that abruptly dumping a lot of snapped corn into a pig's ration may causes serious digestive disturbances. Best thing to do is to self-feed some dry oats along with it. The amount of corn fed can be gradually increased as the hogs become accustomed to it.

This same method is a good one to use when starting hogs on new corn any time, Quaife says.

Two unusual remarks were made at the Gridiron Club meeting last Monday night by R. B. Thompson and Ed Kennedy.

Dr. Alan M. Nelson, captain of the Gridiron Club called on R. B. "Rich" Thompson to give a five-second talk on "Why the Tomahawks baseball team lost out in the play-off game with Garner." Thompson's one-second speech amounted to this, "We didn't score enough runs."

In a discussion about the Belmond-Northwood football game played last Friday night, the question was asked Coach Lloyd Patterson if the team was over-confident. Out of a clear-blue sky, before Patterson had time to reply, Ed Kennedy said "I have been over confident all my life and have never been able to over come it."

Developing into quite a custom is the observance of Main Streeters birthdays. Tuesday morning friends of George Infelt gathered at Spurling's Cafe to enjoy Birthday Cake along with the usual mid-morning coffee. Asked how old he was, George replied, "23 or thereabouts."

S. W. Luick, who lives a mile east of Belmond and has been supplying local folks this fall with freshly ground cider daily as well as Wealthy applies from his big apple orchard, brought in a few specimens of peaches his wife had picked from a small peach tree growing near their house. The four-year old tree produced over 300 peaches this year which made over a bushel. Two years ago, when the tree was two years old, it produced only four peaches, but they were large, similar in size to the commercial peaches shipped in from California and Colorado peach growers.

The crop has been sold at a top of $3.50 per hundred and the profit went into the treasury of the chapter. Although the use of the land was donated by Lloyd Lerdal, the boys gave him 600 pounds of the crop.

The second project about to be completed is the harvesting of one-half acre of popcorn. Sandage stated that the prospects for a good crop are excellent. A hybrid popcorn, donated by Thompson Hybrid Corn Co., was planted, that was highly recommended for yield. Although heavily infested with corn borers it is estimated that approximately 1400 pounds of popcorn will be harvested which will be sold locally.

History of the Trinity Lutheran Church goes back to May 28, 1872 when a number of pioneer settlers residing west of Belmond officially organized as "Ringsaker Norwegian Lutheran Congregation of Wright County, Iowa." For a number of years they worshipped in homes and schoolhouses and were first served by Rev. O. A. Souer who drove across the prairies at irregular intervals, a distance of sixty miles from Story County, by horse and buggy.

In 1888 a number of the members withdrew and affiliated themselves with the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, forming St. Olaf Congregation in the country. Others later moved to Belmond and erected a church building in 1896. In 1916 Ringsaker Congregation, members of St. Olaf congregation who lived close to town and those who had moved to Belmond merged to become the present Trinity Congregation.

The membership has grown from 170 in 1942 to 350 at the present time.

Due to the inadequacy of the former building to fill the needs of the growing congregation, it was voted in January 1944 to build a new church. In August, 1945, the architects were engaged, but groundbreaking did not take place until April 11 ,1948 because of construction delay during World War II. Cornerstone was laid September 26, 1948 and first services in the new church were held on Easter Sunday, April 17, 1949.

EDITORIAL

Have you ever wondered about the great importance of the American railway system? Tuesday we had a film entitled "Meeting the Challenge," presented to us I thought it was so very interesting that I wanted to tell everyone.

The pioneers moved westward in the covered wagons. Not many years later the first steam engine was built. The people just laughed and called it "The Iron Horse" or "Tom Thumb." This train went from Baltimore to some other town in Ohio making a total of 13 miles. This iron rail was named the B & O after Baltimore and Ohio. The B & O was the first railroad in the United States.

1827, 1836 and 1852 went by and railroads were still growing full steam. Now in thirteen states the B & O has approximately 11,000 miles of shining rails.

The B & O goes to thousands of factories and mines. Going in and out of the mines there are electric trains that take the coal from the mine to the ship yards. There, there are large machines which pick up the 70 ton coal cars and dump the coal into the ship at the rate of one car per minute. The ships in turn take the coal to other ports across the sea or to the independent coal yards where we buy it to burn in furnaces.

The B & O railroad has been serving us for over a century. If it wasn't for the help it gives us in our farming we couldn't farm, it hauls out our grain and in our machinery, petroleum, lumber for our homes and many other everyday necessities. Our livestock goes to market in trains, and our roasts, etc. that we eat comes back in the refrigerator cars.

The B & O plays a large part in U. S. business. In some cities there are special loading and unloading tracks.

The B & O keeps its engines in first class condition by having them completely overhauled at one of their eight engine terminals. The signal and switch stations work automatically to reduce the cost of labor. The Mt Clair Railroad Shop is the oldest, there they repair and wash over a thousand engines a year.

The B & O knows where everyone of their trains are all of the time. This is a great advantage to the passengers.

The B & O track was the first and is the only track to enter Washington D. C.

On the passenger trains, there are very comfortable air conditioned cars and good food. The B & O trains were the first to hire trained stewardesses, and to have a telephone for the passengers use.

The B & O railroads meets the challenge of the land it serves.

SENIOR NEWS

The Senior Class of 1950 is just sitting on pins and needles waiting for the class rings to come. We are expecting them any day now.

Friday, October 7, the Senior Class will journey to Mason City to have our class pictures taken. We are all looking forward to talking over KSMN or KGLO.

The class has all been happy since the Juniors have started their play. Speech classes have been very few in number.

Since the drop quiz in Government last Tuesday we all feel like getting down to work. Please Mr. Hussong don't give us another one.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Friday, September 10 was initiation day for the Freshmen. The Sophomores had the costumes planned for all the Freshmen a few days before. The day was interesting and fun for both Freshman and Sophomores.

The following Tuesday the Sophomores gave a roller skating party for the Freshmen at Lake Cornelia. The rest of the high school was also invited. The evening proved to be very enjoyable.

The class is doing very well in all their subjects, they think. Some of the teachers do wonder about this though.

7th and 8th Grade News

Our 8th grade had a very successful skating party at Lake Cornelia, Sept. 22.

The country of China is our subject in 7th grade history and our main topic in science is the study of air.

The story in 7th reading this week is "The Haunted Desert."

Mr. Hussong had both classes writing reports in history.

A scrapbook is being kept by the 8th grade in science.

5th and 6th Grade News

In reading both 5th and 6th grades have started a unit of stories on pioneer adventures.

Fifth graders are now dividing with two figures in division.

The 6th graders in arithmetic class have been finding the perimeter of different objects.

In fifth grade science the class has finished the unit of how living things help and harm each other. The sixth graders have finished the unit on sound.

NOTICE

Anyone wanting to make a little extra cash should attend the baseball games on the Alexander diamond. Coach Rysdam is offering a five cent reward for every foul ball extracted from nearby corn field.

Everyone has an equal opportunity.

It is illegal to beat up small children and take the ball that is rightfully theirs away and obtain the reward for himself.

3rd and 4th Grade News

The Third and Fourth grades are trying to do some some nice writing.

In penmanship each person writes a short sentence after which the neatest paper is chosen and put on the bulletin board for all of us to see.

The fourth graders are enjoying a unit on "Colonial Life" in history. Several pupils have brought Indian relics to add interest to the lessons.

2nd Grade News

Tuesday evening at 4:00 o'clock our class went to Vergene Traeger's home to help him celebrate his seventh birthday. After roasting wieners and marshmallows we went into the house and watched Vergene open his gifts. We had a nice time.

Many walnuts, milk weed pods, acorns and pretty colored leaves have been brought into the room. We have them on display on our buletin board and window sills.

We have started reading in our science books. The first pages are about birds and animals.

MUSIC

The Girls' Glee Club sang the following numbers at the reception, the P. T. A. gave for the teachers: "When Song is Sweet", "I Heard You Go By", "Prayer of the Norwegian Child."

This was our first public appearance this year. There are 18 girls in the glee club, our pianist is Alberta Dirksen.

1st Grade News

This week our class started reading new red books. The name of the reader is "We Look and See." We enjoy these books very much and like to color the pictures in our workbooks, which accompany the readers.

We've been learning new rhymes and drawing pictures about these rhymes and we had a guessing game about the rhymes which had been drawn.

In art everyone had fun letting our ducks, which we made, swim in water.

Monday was the first day our class played on the jungle gym. We all had fun playing on it during recess. This new equipment is located on the south side of the schoolhouse and does add greatly to the many activities which the grade school children have.

Home Economics News

The Home Economics girls have been busy making different types of cakes this week. They are Conventional, Sponge and Chiffon.

Last Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, the Home Economics girls had a meeting. They chose the colors for the club and the flower. They are White and Blue. The flower is a Rose. The name of our club is "The Hec Mec Club."

Kindergarten News

We of the Kindergarten have been playing with clay this week. Each of us made what we wanted to. Also learned some nursery rhyme songs in music and read the book "The Poky Little Puppy" which was very interesting to us.

In art we made squirrels and colored them. Jerry Johnson brought a large worm for us to see.

LITTLE CATTLE FEEDERS HELD ANNUAL SUPPER

On Tuesday evening at the Meservey school members of the Little Cattle Feeders Club and their families enjoyed a pot-luck supper as their annual get-together to close a very successful year.

Wally Johnston who was with us last year during the summer months was welcomed back by all as full time youth assistant.

Our leader, Gene Janssen, handed out remaining premiums and told us about the western lamb feeding project and that we should get those baby beeves on full feed as soon as possible for next year so they will be highly finished by the fair.

Gene was taken fully by surprise when the president, Galen Gruis, presented him with a cash gift in behalf of the club for his work during the past year. They also had a gift for Bob Feldt who worked as youth assistant during the summer and is now back in college at Ames.

Boys and girls interested in becoming members should contact Gene or any other 4-H member.

The care and feeding of telephones

Telephones, like any other equipment, work best when properly cared for. So if you want to get more and better service from your telephone instrument, just follow these simple suggestions:

1. Always replace the receiver carefully.
2. Be sure your telephone is on a firm desk or table where it is not likely to be knocked off.
3. Be careful to keep your telephone cord straight and even. Too much twisting can damage the wire.
4. Never leave your telephone near an open window where it can be damaged by the weather.

Meservey Farmer Was Painfully Burned In Tractor Explosion Friday

Henry Behrends, farmer living two miles west of Meservey, received painful body burns when an explosion occurred while he was trying to start his tractor last Friday afternoon to combine beans.

It is thought that a faulty carburetor, allowing gas to overflow was the cause of the explosion which enveloped Behrends in flames. He rolled on the ground, trying to extinguish the fire and managed to pull off his burning overalls. Mrs. Behrends telephoned neighbors to come and help put out the fire and then she immediately brought her husband to Belmond where he was treated by Dr. Alan M. Nelson. Both his left arm and leg were quite badly burned and his entire body singed from the chest down. Report on Monday is that he is getting along well and able to be around.

October 28 Was Anniversary of Statue Of Liberty Dedication

The dedication of the Statue of Libery on Bedloe's Island, in New York harbor, occurred on October 28, 1886. The statue was presented to the people of the United States by the people of France. The presentation was made in the nature of the fulfillment of a suggestion made soon after the Revolution to the effect that there should be some kind of a memorial of the friendly feelings that existed between the two countries.

In 1874 a French American union was organized in France which solicited subscriptions for such a memorial. As a result of the effort a fund of a million francs was raised. Frederick August Bartholde, a French sculptor submitted a model for the memorial. His model of the present Statue of Liberty was accepted.

The United States set apart the whole of Bedloe's Island for the statue and a fund of $300,000 was raised for the construction of the pedestal. The statue was completed by Bartholde and delivered to the United States Minister in Paris on July 4, 1880. It was shipped to this country four years later and two years later was set up

The statue shows the draped image of the Goddess of Liberty holding aloft a lighted torch. With the pedestal the statue measures three hundred and six feet high. The statue faces to sea.

The sight of it is a welcome home to Americans returning home from abroad and is a symbol of Liberty to all foreigners visiting our shores.

Editorial comment on "Prejudice" by a former resident of Belmond, Mrs. Merlin Finn, now living in Mason City. was featured in the editorial column of the Mason City Globe-Gazette in a recent issue.

Her discussion will be of particular interest to many Belmond residents to whom she is known and of general interest to those who are seriously concerned about the problems of humanity.

Prejudice Is The Foremost Discourager of Democracy

From a reader, Mrs. Virginia McNutt Finn, 1524 North Adams, Mason City, the Globe-Gazette the other day received a contribution so well written and thought-provoking that we are pleased to give space to it in the space we ordinarily reserve for airing our own views.

In a note which accompanied the communication, Mrs. Finn explained that her article was prompted by the stunning remark of a good friend to the effect that she "wouldn't give a nigger half a chance."

"I know this woman to be essentially kind hearted," the Mason City housewife wrote," and I also know that she has never had anything to do with a Negro. How could she hold such an opinion except by prejudice?"

With this as preface and introduction, you are ready for the article in question.

Prejudice has become a distasteful word of ugly implications. Being human, we'll always have it against one thing or another —like lemon drops or whisky or too short skirts. That's a harmless assertion of likes and dislikes. But when the word is turned on people, it becomes threatening and not at all amusing.

The prejudices running wild today are directed against politicians, religious groups and races, which boiled down means against human beings.

When we stop thinking in terms of human beings, we brand all the principles we oppose as shown by a group of bad repute, as being representative of the entire race, religion or country involved.

We are morally and patriotically opposed to communism but do we stop to consider the millions of Russian fathers and mothers whose chief aim in life is not to spread the ideology of Karl Marx, or even endorse it, but is simply the same inclination of every American parent — to love and care for their young.

It's as unreasonable to hate all Russians because of the communist element as to hate all Italians because of a personal aversion to spaghetti or ravioli.

We accept an inverted interpretation of a "little leaven" as being that poisonous portion that will inevitably leaven the whole. Couldn't we quite as conceivably accept the unknown majority as being that leaven that will eventually shape the whole loaf?

We fear an entity called government—power in the hands of a few. But isn't government a body of individuals, human beings? And in a democracy it is set in motion by all the people so there is nothing to fear. Or is there?

When prejudice steps in, an able sincere man is voted out because of his race or religion, his social position or lack of it, or maybe just the color of his eyes! But we got out and voted, didn't we? Thus we heartily endorse the principles of democracy in the manner of the religionist who stoutly maintains, "I believe," but who never bows his head in prayer.

We are becoming deplorably "class conscious", a condition that cannot exist side by side with the democratic ideal of freedom and equality. While the "haves" still accept a certain responsibility for the "have nots", the rise of "class" will inevitably bring the desire to stamp out all that falls short of its own superiority and so on to that monster of human pride, the "super race."

Democracy is not just a general high-minded principle to be endorsed verbally and then dropped. It's a personal code of behavior that begins in the core of each individual human being. A code that reveres the rights of our fellow humans as much as our own.

We are proud today of the ideals of our forefathers, but they didn't buy them with dollar bills or filch them from someone less fortunate. And they didn't hesitate to declare that this nation was formed under God instead of a United Nations decree.

If we don't wake up, individually, our "American ideals" in years to come may mean something quite different—could even mean the very things we're fighting against now. For the ideals of a nation can be no higher than the ideals of the people who comprise that nation.

The "Diet" Craze Hits Iowa

Seems like Iowa gets a wave of those "reducing diets" every so often. Now they're at it again.

The missus came home the other day, all excited over one of these "Hollywood" diets.

"Joe, just think of taking off ten pounds in ten days," she says.

"Mother," says I, "the only diet I would ever recommend to anyone is simply moderation. These fancy diets may be O.K. But all you need do is to cut down on desserts, starches, sweets, and fats. And there, too, you'd better use moderation in cutting down."

Whether we're reducing or not, moderation is a good watchword for all of us—in food—smoking—beverages—or our daily activities. That's one reason why I always give my preference to a temperate glass of beer or ale as my favorite beverage. It's a good symbol of moderation—mild, yet refreshing—and it's a good part of the temperate way of life.

VOL. 30 NO. 51 | OFFICIAL CITY PAPER | Belmond, Wright County Iowa | Thursday, October 6, 1949 | OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER | The Family Newspaper

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

The "Quick" of the newspaper field is Hoofbeats, Belmond's newest publication. Hoofbeats is edited and published by the student staff of the Belmond schools and printed in the Independent plant. It is a great improvement over the mimeograph sheet published in the past. The student publication is filled with well-written and newsy stories of the school under the competent supervision of Miss Josephine Wiley and will give its staff a broader knowledge of the makeup and work that goes into the publication of a newspaper.

3RD STRAIGHT WIN

The Belmond Junior high football team annexed their third victory Tuesday night when they defeated Britt "smallies" 27 to 6. Coach Jim Scott is very much impressed with his youngsters and predicts a great future in Belmond grid wars.

INGENIOUS

Some of the kids around the city have found a new way to remove, without staining their hands, the outside skins from black walnuts. Passing a group of them at the side of a street recently who were watching closely where I was driving, I looked around to see what they were doing. They had made a row of walnuts in the path of automobiles, which hulled the walnuts easily under the weight of the wheels that struck them.

—M-S—

With 1949 soybeans coming into the General Mills processing plant on the average of 50,000 bushel daily by truck and 25,000 bushel by train, as reported by Henry Stokke, office manager and assistant bean buyer, it won't take long to use up the storage capacity of 1,500,000 bushels.

—M-S—

Some of the young boys about town (and a few older ones, too) I hear, have found a new way to make their spending money. After the cars of beans are emptied at the mill, a few beans are lying around loose and when swept together in one pile make up several dollars worth of beans.

—M-S—

Duane Anderson, my right-hand man at the Independent office, surprised me Monday by being his usual efficient self in spite of the fact that he had lost a night's sleep the night before waiting for the arrival of a new baby daughter early Monday morning at 3:00 o'clock. He came bursting into the office about 7:30 and immediately started to proudly pass the cigars around.

—M-S—

Dave Finn, who has one of the happiest faces one sees on Main Street, was even happier than usual one day last week, when I met him. He had found a billfold containing a sum of money and turned it in at the First State Bank since there was no identification in it. Then on coming out of the bank he saw a young woman Mrs. M. R. Erickson, looking very downhearted. He asked her what was the matter and she replied that she had just discovered the loss of her billfold. He sent her into the bank where she identified the billfold as her own, and now she is happy too, and will have cause to always remember Dave's happy face.

Fred Kaduce Hurt Seriously at G.M. Plant Saturday

Legs Crushed Between Semi Box, Truck Bumper

Fred Kaduce, working with unloading crews, was very seriously injured Saturday afternoon at the elevator of the General Mills Soybean Processing Plant when chocks back of the rear wheels of a semi truck being unloaded gave way.

Kaduce and George Singbusch of Ringsted, driver of the truck, were sweeping out beans that were left in the truck box. When the truck rolled back, Kaduce was pinned between the box of the semi and the front of the truck at the rear waiting to be unloaded, belonging to Harvey Boller, Goodell.

It was reported that the semi rolled back about 15 feet with such force that it pushed the truck behind it, which was loaded and in super-low gear, approximately 20 feet. Kaduce's legs were pushed against the bumper of the Boller truck so hard that a "V" shaped dent was made in the bumper and the impact of his body pushed the grill and radiator of the truck back on the engine.

Kaduce was taken to the Steele Memorial Hsopital where one leg was so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate to the thigh. He has compound fractures in the other leg. Report from the hospital on Tuesday was that he is getting along moderately well but will have a long hospitalization ahead of him. He has been given eight blood transfusions.

THOMPSON TO FINISH PICKING, SORTING, DRYING NEXT WEEK

Seed corn harvest from the fields of the Thompson Hybrid Seed Corn company will average slightly over 70 bushels per acre this year, according to a report Monday from R. B. Thompson.

The yield is falling below last year's average of 83 bushels per acre, and Thompson attributes this drop largely to ten days of extremely dry and hot weather early in August. Quality of the corn is running about the same as in 1948, Thompson stated.

It is expected that the picking, sorting and drying processes will be finished next week at the Thompson plant. Grading and bagging at the new warehouse on the north edge of the city has also been started.

Thompson's Hybrid seed corn is all raised in fields within eight miles of Belmond except for 80 acres at Stratford and 40 acres at Mankato, Minnesota. The local plant supplies dealers in six midwestern states, including Iowa.

Ehresmanns Are First D. P.s To Come To Belmond

They Are Learning About America Here

Albin Larson, who took a course in German in college 14 years ago, and Ed Spurling, who learned to speak the language while on post-war duty in Germany, are now putting their knowledge to daily use.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ehresmann, the first displaced persons of World War II to come to this community, are depending a lot on the two local men for their first lessons, not only in the English language, but also in the American way of life.

Karl, 32, and his wife, Ottilie, 30, found themselves displaced when the war was over at Pfalz in the French zone of Germany. At this time all the D. Ps were going through what belongings they had managed to keep, looking for addresses of relatives or friends in the United States to whom they could appeal for help. Ehresmann had the name and old address on a wedding announcement Albin Larson's wife's stepfather had sent to his brother some years ago, and wrote to him. This man however, had decided to sponsor his own brother in coming to this country, but asked his stepdaughter and her husband, the Albin Larsons, if they would be interested in sponsoring Karl and his wife.

Proceedings were started two years ago in April, when the Larsons were living in California. At first it was necessary for a sponsor to have enough cash in the bank to cover personal bond ($2400 per couple). In 1948 the D. P. Act was passed whereby the government now takes the financial responsibility of bringing them to this country. The sponsor's responsibility now for a period of one year is to see that the D. P.s have housing, suitable employment that is not substandard, and that they do not become public charges. Larson is now employed at the General Mills plant here and his wife in the office of the Steele Memorial Hospital clinic.

Of German descent, the ancestors of Karl and Ottilie fled Germany during political upheavels, at about the time of our civil war, and settled in Austria Hungary, now Rumania. Before the war their families were well-to-do farmers and Karl is interested in farm work here, although he has had no experience with our highly mechanized way of farming.

Both Karl and Ottilie started working last Tuesday, September 27 at Spurling's Cafe: Karl doing some carpentry work making improvements in the basement storage rooms; Ottilie doing general utility work and helping

Last year Americans gave 75,668,000 pounds of farm commodities through CROP. Included in this amount were 4,470,000 pounds of milk. This food, distributed in 22 countries, principally to children, widows, the aged, and the ill, has done much to promote world-wide goodwill and Christian brotherhood.

Farm Youngsters Drink Less Milk Than Their City Cousins

A. W. Rudnick, Iowa State College extension dairy industry specialist thinks one of the reasons is improper cooling of milk on farms. Flavor changes result and so discourage farm youth from drinking milk—so the professor says.

Rudnick has found that it takes from three to four hours to cool a quart of milk from 80 degrees down to 50 degrees in a refrigerator. In large containers, such as pitchers often used out this way, milk takes four to five hours to cool down to 60 degrees.

That's too long, Rudnick says. It gives bacteria a chance to develop and may cause off flavors. The secret of good tasting milk is to cool it quickly, immediately after milking and keep it cold.

Milk will cool off quickly if first cooled in water to within three or four degrees of the water's temperature before it's put in the refrigerator. An hour in 60 degree water is better than two hours in a refrigerator at 35 to 40 degrees, Rudnick says.

The Ames man also recommends that one keep milk for farm use in quart bottles rather than in larger, open containers. It steps up the rate of cooling and helps keep out other flavors from food in the refrigerator. Cover bottles with plastic, snap-on covers.

WRECKS CARS

Douglas Adams, two year old Monticello lad, tried to drive his Dad's car, and did. The car had been left with the gears in reverse. Douglas turned on the ignition key, stepped on the combination starter and footfeed and was off to a good start. When the car stopped 100 feet away, the left side was smashed against a guy wire; Mrs. Adams, the boy's mother ,was bruised from trying to get into the vehicle and his 18-months old sister, Patricia, unwilling passenger, had a deep cut in her forehead.

SHE PAINTS

Mrs. Dessa Beard, Knoxville woman, started painting "for fun" and now finds she is pretty good at it. One of her paintings will be among a number selected to hang in an exhibit in the Des Moines art gallery. Mostly self-taught, Mrs. Beard paints "what she sees" and does not care for modernistic painting.

Use of Chemical Will Control Boxelder Bugs

There now is a sure means of chemical control for boxelder bugs which every year invade Wright County homes, Aaron R. Bowman, county extension director, said this week.

While boxelder bugs don't feed on anything in the house, they annoy folks by flying around lights and by crawling around the house spotting curtains. Last fall nearly every home had these unwelcome visitors.

This year these bugs are back again—in even greater numbers. A few far-sighted home owners are ready for them, having caulked up all small cracks and crevices around doors and windows where the bugs enter the house. "But most of us have forgotten about boxelder bugs until now and we don't have time to close the door on them," Bowman said.

For the latter folks the chemical treatment is good news. Chlordane used as a five percent spray, made with either emulsifiable concentrate or with wettable powder, will control boxelder bugs. Put it on the trunks of boxelder trees if the bugs are still concentrated there. If they have started to scatter out, put the five percent chlordane spray where the bugs are. Favorite resting places include tree trunks, sunny walls, and sidewalks.

Chlordane has a residual effect against boxelder bugs but its length depends on weather conditions. Rain seems to wash off the material completely, so the spraying may need to be done several times.

Seven Cases T. B. Found In County

51 Histories, 66 x-Rays In Case-Finding Program

Chest x-rays revealed healthy lungs for 51 persons in Wright County according to reports sent recently to family physicians on the county-wide tuberculosis conference which was held in late summer.

Seven cases of tuberculosis were reported.

One spinal case and one heart condition, for which further study was recommended, were included in the findings. A total of 66 x-rays were taken.

The first phase of the program started when Alice Moore, public health nurse, began a canvas of persons believed to have been exposed to tuberculosis. She took 51 case histories calling in 36 homes.

Upon advice, 47 persons visited their family doctors for the tuberculin test. 15 skin tests were positive, indicating a need for an x-ray examination of the lungs.

Forty-eight persons were x-rayed for the first time at the conference, while 18 x-rays were taken of the persons who had been examined previously and for whom another film had been recommended.

This was the eighth Annual Case-finding Program, sponsored by the Wright County Medical Society, Wright County Tuberculosis Association, Iowa Tuberculosis and Health Association and Iowa State Department of Health. Local Christmas Seal funds helped finance the cost.

The sponsoring organizations point out that the program was conducted to find tuberculosis in the early symptomless stages while chances for complete recovery are best. Prompt discovery and treatment of tuberculosis cases also halt the spread of the disease to others in the community.

with the cooking in the kitchen. Here too, the mechanized equipment is new to her and she is especially fascinated by the electric food mixer which she explained she could "watch for hours."

The Ehresmanns were married in 1939, and two weeks later he was called to the army. When the Germans took over the Rumanian army, Ehresmann deserted. During the war his life was a series of desertions, hidings-out and being caught again. According to him, this was a widespread practice of captured soldiers forced to fight with the Germany army. Since soldiers, even deserters, were of most value in the army, Karl was never subjected to much hardship in concentration camps.

First impressions of the American people are that they are laughing most of the time, seem happy and very friendly. They related how many people came up to them on the train and tried to carry on a conversation. They both wore identification tags during their trip, giving their names and destination as well as the numbers of their trains. First American expression Karl learned was "Come on Boy" which he used to get the attention of a Red Cap. He had heard some G. I. expletives in Germany which might be difficult to translate by means of a dictionary.

There were 1300 on board the ship on which they sailed, the U. S. S. General Hersey, one of the newest transports in the armed service and recently turned over to D. P. transportation duty. The Ehresmanns left Bremerhaven on September 10, arrived in New York City on September 19 and in Clarion September 23 where they were met at the train by the Larsons. They did not find any other Rumanians on board the ship. Most of the passengers were Poles and Jews with a few Latvians, Lithuanians, White Russians and Slavic Nationalists.

About the food here they say "There is too much of everything to eat". Our coffee is too strong for their taste which, from necessity no doubt, was of a much thinner variety. Karl had a birthday soon after their arrival in Belmond and Spurling gave him a carton of cigarettes as a gift. Karl said "If I were in Germany I would be a rich man."

Ed fixed a porterhouse steak for their dinner the second day they worked at the cafe which brought the response "Too Big!" Both Karl and Ottilie liked very much the chop suey they ate for the first time at the Larson home.

Reminding us that customs in the so-called "Old Countries" are still a lot different from most that we know here is the incident of the bed. On ariving at the Larson home, an apartment on the second floor above Spurling's Cafe consisting of a living room, bedroom, kitchen and bath, Larson told Karl that since they had only one bedroom, the Ehresmanns would have to sleep in the living room. Looking at the studio couch and not understanding that it would open to double bed size, Karl said happily, "That's fine, my wife can sleep on the floor."

The couple was allowed to bring 250 pounds of baggage along with them but didn't have that much. Bulkiest thing they brought along was a feather tick. They have quite a large collection of old family photographs which they somehow managed to keep in all their moving about during the war years. One of the photos in a typical frame—made from a crate and carved in detail—is the Ehresmann's wedding picture which they have loaned to the Belmond Independent for a while, where it may be seen on the wall of the front office.

EDITORIAL

What do you think of the subjects you are taking? Do you think it is dull or difficult or uninteresting, or do you think it is unnecessary to you in the future?

It is often said that one wastes time doing something which doesn't appeal to him. And that one should spend time with things which are interesting and useful.

It is always bad for one to spend too much of his time at unpleasant tasks. This type of person is usually the unhappy and confused kind. He cannot lead an enjoyable life. This stands true in school or on outside job as well.

I wouldn't advise you to drop a subject right away. Give it a chance and a try. Always finishing and mastering it. Then if you don't like it drop it right away. But don't quit while it has you down.

If the world wasn't against us, all of us would be doing easy and entertaining jobs. In the best and most honored positions there are moments and hours of hard toil.

The lawyers, doctors, teachers, and bankers, and many others who hold high offices have a hard job to do. They don't skip over the hard places, or leave what has slipped their minds. It takes hours of hard work to do a job well. These men have learned this.

A person who quits when the going starts getting rough will find himself going from job to job and getting nowhere.

When you go to high school you have a chance to sample several different fields. You find out what you like best and what you can do best. You can do this only if you take the courses or subjects as they come, learning what each has to offer, and learning also what kinds of study and work will benefit you.

THANK YOU EX-REPORTER

Much to the surprise of all of us, last Tuesday we received a card from Richard Hill, who is going to college at Ames, complimenting us on "Pedlin' Along". Thanks a lot, Richard. It really brought up the moral of all of us.

IT MAY BE ON YOU

A passer-by tossed a nickel toward a blind man's cup and missed, the coin rolling away. When Gary P. chased it and retrieved it the donor said, "I thought you were blind."

"Oh, I'm not the regular blind man," was the cheerful reply. "I'm just taking his place while he's at the movies."

Mr. Hussong: "Lowell, tell me what you know about George Washington. Was he a soldier or a sailor?"

Lowell P. "I think he was a soldier."

Mr. Hussong: "What makes you think so?"

An Irishman who asked for a raise was told: "You don't really work for us at all. There are 365 days in the year, you sleep 8 hours every day, making 122 days, which, when subtracted from 365, leaves 243 days. You also have 8 hours recreation every day, making another 122 days, and leaving a balance of 121 days. There are 52 Sundays that you do not work at all, which deducted, leaves 69 days. Our office is closed every Saturday forenoon, thus giving 52 half holidays or 26 more days that you do not work. This leaves a balance of 43 days. We allow you 1 hour for lunch, which, totaled, makes 16 days, leaving 27 day of the year. We give you 2 weeks vacation during the year, this leaves 13 days. There are 12 legal holidays during the year when the office is closed and this leaves only 1 day in the year. This is St. Patrick's Day—and who works then?"

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors are busy working on the play. The characters that are in the first act have completed learning their parts. The play is going to be held October 28. It is a three act comedy and promises to be good. There can be reserved seats bought to see the play.

7th and 8th Grade News

SIXTH GRADE NEWS

In reading we have been studying about ancient times.

Finding the perimeter, and how many square feet and inches in areas, have made our problems in arithmetic.

In geography we each have a part of the unit we are studying about and have to make a report over it. We are also studying Newfoundland, how they live, what their work is.

The science class is starting a new unit, "Why Does The Weather Change?"

Do you know how to tell fresh fruits and vegetables from spoiled ones, and how you should cook them? This is what the health class is studying.

Does anyone know what a negative is? This is what our teacher is asking us. We don't right now, but believe me we will when we get through studying them. We also are studying and doing exercises so we will learn to use a word that has to have a helping word with it.

The weather was surely hot in the "Tropic Countries" the other day. We traveled through our history books to the Tropics. We found out how the people live, and get their food and clothing.

Marilyn Johnson.

Make Hunting Time Safe!

With fall hunting already underway with open season on rabbits, and squirrels, and more sportsmen planning on hunting during the open season on pheasants, ducks, quail, etc., later in the fall, it might be smart to review some suggestions on "Safe Shooting" made by the Health and Safety Service of the Boy Scouts of America in a recent issue of the Iowa Conservationist, which is printed below:

Guns Are Always Loaded

So when you pick up any kind of a firearm examine its cartridge chamber carefully with the muzzle pointed in a safe direction and without touching the trigger.

If the gun has a bolt action or a lever or a pump action, work it several times to eject any cartridges that may be in the magazine. You do this to protect yourself and other persons who might be injured if the gun was accidentally fired.

Open and leave open the action of any gun you pass to another person.

Should you be handed a gun with the action closed, open it at once and look into the chamber.

Unload your gun before you place it in your car to avoid accidental discharge and comply with state laws which make it illegal to carry a loaded gun in an automobile.

Unload gun before entering a tent, cabin or any building where there may be people — your own house or a hunting camp.

When with another hunter keep gun muzzle pointed in a safe direction. Watch that he doesn't swing his gun toward you.

When two hunters come to a fence the actions should be opened. One holds guns while other climbs over and takes them as second follows.

If alone climb over carrying gun with muzzle pointed away. If you prefer put gun through on ground before you climb over, with action open and muzzle pointed away from you.

Working through a "blow down" or across boulder covered ground hold gun securely in crook of arm. Keep safety device on but ready to release if game appears.

When youngsters are taught to shoot, the danger of accidents is greatly reduced. A trained shooter is usually a safe one. Teach 'em while they are young.

Will It Do Any Good?

We wonder if the long hard work of the Hoover Commission — investigating the Federal government for the purpose of suggesting more efficient opration and corresponding reduction of taxes — is going to do any good.

A recent news release from Washington, D. C. stated that the number of people on the federal payroll rose 21,284 during the first six months of 1949, bringing the total on July 1, 1949 to 2,124,120.

Editorially Speaking--

Service Without Pay

Today while many congressional investigations are disclosing much evidence of selfishness, greed, graft and corruption in which federal officials and hangers-on are involved, it is refreshing to remember the high public service of Herbert Hoover, who has never accepted a dime of compensation from the federal government for any of his public services.—Traer Star Clipper.

Now Take The Apple

This year there shouldn't be any sickness, at least in this section of Iowa. Every apple tree has been loaded to the breaking point. If the old saying, "An Apple a Day Will Keep the Doctor Away" is true, there are centainly enough apples this year to make it tough on doctors.

We've always thought of apples as sort of a basic food, like potatoes. They are good either cooked or in their natural state. If the truth were known, we'd rather have fried apples for breakfast than any other dish we've ever tasted. That makes our day a success. We don't mind munching on one before we go to bed either and we'd just as soon have an apple pie for dinner or supper dessert in between. As for any of the other dozens of apple dishes—bring them on, we like apples in any form so we hope that none of the record crop will go to waste but into barrels and sauce that will keep apples on every table until the next crop is ready.—Clear Lake Mirror.

Too often it seems to me I hear people wishthey had a big business. Much of it is done by small business men. We hear stories of big salaries paid to top executives and envy them their wealth and power. There are even organizations formed, whose purpose is to band the small business men together into big groups in the hope that they can form a legislative lobby and get bills passed favoring small business and penalizing the big ones. Occasionally they get that job done. How much better it would be if they could see the light and realize the great advantage of the small business over the big one.—Belle Plaine Union.

Recommend Late Fall Plowing Of Blue Grass

Lime should be applied now and the sod torn up just before the ground freezes to change run-down, low-producing bluegrass exercising areas into high - yielding grass-legume pastures.

With these jobs out of the way this fall, a farmer can continue the pasture improvement program next spring without having to wait until the ground dries out enough to plow. He can move in with a disk and take up where he leaves off this fall.

Krenzin recommends applying lime according to need determined by soil tests. It should be applied this fall and plowed under shallowly so that it will have time to become available for the new seeding next spring. The average limestone sold needs to be on about 4 to 6 months before it will do much good, he points out.

Several reasons are given for plowing late this fall. It kills more of the old bluegrass and weeds. It's easier to prepare a good, firm seedbed next spring if plowed this fall. Soils which are plowed in the fall warm up earlier in the spring, making available more nitrogen from the turned-under sod. Late-plowed ground isn't exposed so much to the erosion hazard of fall rains.

Shallow plowing is recommended because lime is held near the surface where it will be used.

Krenzin says that in most cases it is better to plow shallow than to use a disk or field cultivator. It is important to do a good job of tearing up the sod so that the old grass and weeds are given a good setback, giving the new seeding next spring a better chance to get established. Also, a better seedbed can be prepared following plowing. Disking only turns the sod up on end, and the grass interferes with good seedbed preparation.

Wind Damage Serious to Corn Crop

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

"FRUSTRATED"

We take for granted our highly mechanized and efficient way of living and working. But it took a little lashing of Mother Nature Monday morning to remind us that even the mighty power of our electric dynamos is sometimes at the mercy of a power even mightier.

The one word "frustrated" is a simple way to describe the reaction of many people Monday morning: business [illegible], their employees, travelers, and even housewives.

Don't know if it is really true, but we heard rumors that "Gov" up at the Mello Maid Ice Cream Shop was thinking he had better just give away some of his stored ice cream, if that "old juice" that keeps it under refrigeration [illegible] for too long a period.

Neil Flanagan, local insurance and real estate man, who came in the office, admitted that he had no insurance that would completely cover such a situation as this one.

George Infelt and his wife, who had an important appointment to keep some 50 or 60 miles south of Belmond that morning at 10:00 were still puzzling about what to do at 9:00. Their gas tank gauge pointed at the empty mark and not a single filling station could pump gas without the assistance of the electrical arm.

Even happy, carefree Keith Chandler looked a little frustrated in the gloom of the Coffee Shop that morning, although he was serving coffee much the same as usual—but no toast since the toaster was cold, and there were no home made rolls because of the fire at the bakery.

Housewives in large part were frustrated too—with the water all hot, the soap ready, and the clothes all sorted for the regular Monday wash and not a thing they could do but wait on the response of the light plug in its contact with the washing machine.

The farmer was frustrated, wishing that he could go to his corn fields and do something about the ears falling from the stalks to the ground ,making a difficult problem this fall in the machine-picking of the corn crop.

On Tueday, the sun was out bright and the wind had calmed. We are thankful it wasn't any worse. Business on Tuesday was back at its normal gait and employees were plugging away in order to catch up on lost hours of work.

—M-S—

Commendable action at the fire last Monday that will be long remembered was Mrs. Ed Olson, notifying and checking up on the occupants of the two other second story apartments in the burning building even while her own family's apartment was in the most immediate danger.

Quick Action of Firemen Saved Business Block In Fire Monday

Damage From Smoke And Water Is Extensive

Climaxing a day of high winds Monday, which at times reached a velocity of 80 to 90 miles an hour in this area of the state, the much feared fire alarm sounded in mid-afternoon in Belmond when the Fire Department was called to the large building on east Main Street, housing the Belmond Bakery, the M. and K. Food Market and three upstairs apartments.

The blaze, believed to have been caused by an electrical short, was discovered in the southwest top corner of the structure and had quickly spread through the attic before the firemen and trucks arrived.

All three Belmond fire trucks answered the alarm and only by the fast work of the firemen was the building saved.

In the first few minutes of the fire, it was feared that the entire building was doomed, and one truck from Clarion answered the call for assistance. Owners of residences and business property across Main Street were preparing to vacate their buildings at that time.

However, the fact that the building was sided with asphalt shingles and the ceiling of the apartment above the Belmond Bakery covered with metal, aided the firemen in confining the fire to the attic of the business block.

Fire damage was confined to the attic of the building. However, smoke and water damage was very extensive.

Both business firms on the first floor closed, and occupants of the three upstairs apartments: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jurgenson and Mrs. Marie Gable were forced to vacate.

There was slight damage to the equipment and fixtures in the Belmond Bakery and the M. and K. Food Market, but there was extensive damage done to the merchandise in both places. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson, owners of the Belmond Bakery; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kadolph and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Mehlow, owners of the M. and K., stated that insurance adjusters were expected in Belmond Tuesday, in which case they hoped to be open again for business on Saturday of this week.

Loss on personal belongings, including furniture, clothing, dishes, etc. was extensive in all three apartments.

Wind Caused Highway Accident And Minor Damages In The City

High winds on Monday, reaching a velocity of 80 to 90 miles an hour at times, were responsible for widespread damage in Belmond and vicinity, particularly to the 1949 corn crop, harvesting of which had just gotten off to a good start.

On Tuesday after the storm county extension agent Aaron R. Bowman checked the fields of several Wright county farmers and has made some estimates on corn crop damage in the county based on the process of counting 100 stocks in different sections of different fields.

Bowman found in his 100-stock count an average of 57 per cent of the stocks broken down and an average of 30 ears on the ground per 100 stocks. One 100-stock count ran to a high of 78 broken stocks and 39 dropped ears.

In talking with different farmers who had picked some corn before the storm and were picking again Tuesday, Bowman found that they are getting on the average four or five bushel less per load (little over an acre picked). One farmer reported getting five to six bushels less per load. Another reported that where he had picked eight rows in his field to get a load before the wind, it took him 12 rows after the storm. This was in a field where wind damage was most severe.

Some farmers are estimating that corn on the ground will run as high as 20 bushels per acre.

Bowman said that the corn crop which can be picked by mechanical pickers since Monday's storm will run very considerably below the U. S. government's official yield estimate for Iowa of 51 bushels per acre.

Corn crop in the northeast section of the county—the Belmond area—is likely to produce higher than other parts of the county since this area got more moisture when needed, Bowman asserted.

IMPORTANT TO BOTH TEAMS IS GAME AT FOREST CITY FRIDAY

Friday night the Belmond Broncos will travel to the Forest City Indians' reservation for another North Iowa Conference football game.

The coming game is of importance to both schools. Forest City, with three straight wins in N. I. C. is tied with Northwood, also undefeated. Belmond retains only a slim hope of capturing part of the crown by a win over Forest City and the defeat of Northwood at the hands of Buffalo Center or Forest . City. Northwood triumphed over Britt 45-0 last week while Forest City defeated Buffalo Center 13-0.

Coach Lloyd Patterson stated that his starting line-up for the Forest City game would be the same as last week.

The Belmond Broncos gave the big homecoming crowd present at the local football field last Friday night one thrill after another in a North Iowa Conference game with the Lake Mills Bulldogs which gave the Belmond team a 44-20 victory.

At half time the Broncos led 24-6. Starting the second half, Coach Lloyd Patterson used his first team to score two more touchdowns to lead 37-6 and then inserted his second team which was sprinkled with a few freshmen.

With the recruits in Belmond's lineup, Lake Mills was able to score twice in the second half. Their first touchdown, made in the second quarter, was on a pass. In the closing minutes of the game, Coach Patterson brought the entire first team back in when Jack Riggs ran 65 yards for the final touchdown.

Keith Greenfield counted for the first score in the game from the six-yard line and then again in the first quarter he went over on a run from the 24-yard line. Belmond failed to convert for extra points and the score stood 12-0 at the end of the first period.

Third touchdown was made by Greenfield when he jaunted 45 yards down to the one-yard line and then went over on the next play. Belmond failed to convert. Fourth touchdown was on a 20-yard pass from Bob Berns to Marlyn Watermiller. Belmond again failed to convert. Lake Mills scored in the final minutes of the second quarter on a 12-yard pass, and the half ended 24-6.

In the opening of the second half, Berns passed to Jack Riggs who traveled 45 yards for a touchdown. Conversion failed. Belmond's sixth touchdown came on a tricky play, a shuffle pass behind the line, Berns to Riggs, who ran 14 yards for

Polio Vs. Accidents

The odds in favor of a child being killed in an automobile accident are eight times greater than of his dying of polio. A child under 14 is twenty-three times more likely to be killed in some type of accident than he is to die of infantile paralysis. Present polio figures indicate that the total number of youngsters under 14 who will die this year of polio may rise to 600. Other tables indicate that 14,000 will be killed in accidents of all types.

It would seem, therefore, that it would be well to divert some of our worrying and fretting about polio to the cause of eliminating unnecessary accident fatalities.

ICE CREAM—POPULAR AMERICAN FOOD

There was a time when ice cream was considered somewhat of a luxury, something to have for special occasions like weddings, parties banquets or a treat expected by the children occasionally. Nowadays, considered a highly nutritious food, it occupies a frequent place on the American menu.

In a recent release by the National Dairy Council, a non-profit organization devoted to nutritional research and to education in the use of dairy products, information about ice cream consumption was given and nine reasons listed for ice cream's popularity:

Divided among 148,000,000 people, it gives each person an annual serving of 37 pints, about three times more than the per capita consumption twenty-five years ago.

Causes for the popularity of ice cream as a nutritious food are many. Although taste appeal shares the limelight, there are nine other reasons from top-ranking college and university research laboratories why eating ice cream pays health dividends. They are:

1. Ice cream is a rich source of vitamin A, a nutrient needed for growth, good eyesight, and for health of all vital tissues.

2. It contains a large amount of riboflavin, a B-vitamin which stimulates better health and greater vigor.

3. Ice cream supplies riboflavin in a form which can be readily used by the body.

4. It is high in calcium, a requirement of all age groups to build and maintain strong bones and healthy teeth, and to help to regulate the heart and the expansion and contraction of muscles.

5. Calcium in ice cream is as readily utilized by the body as is the calcium in milk from which it is made.

6. Ice cream is a source of protein needed by children and adults to build and maintain muscles and tissues and for the proper composition of the blood.

7. Because ice cream is relatively low in calories but high in total nutritive value, it s a good choce of food for those interested in low-caloric intake.

8. Ice cream is 80 per cent cream, milk and milk solids.

9. For children, ice cream is a nutritious form of milk which always appeals to their appetite.

"As a result of research," said Milton Hult, President of the National Dairy Council,' Chicago, "Americans have learned to want ice cream as a nutritious food. With the ice cream industry approaching its one-hundredth birthday, consumers are becoming increasingly conscious of ice cream's important contribution to the nation's health."

Editorially Speaking--

BRITISH POUND NOW $2.80, AND NOT $4.03

Now that Great Britain has devalued the pound, what does it mean to farmers? Think back to April, 1933, when the New Deal devalued the dollar. What happened?

First result was to increase exports from the United States. Second result was to send up prices inside the country.

Since devaluation of the pound, an American dollar will buy more British goods. That will stimulate British exports.

At the same time, our tariffs, under the trade agreement act, may be trimmed in places so that we can import more British goods.

From the British standpoint, devaluation will help exports, but will raise living costs inside that country.

From the standpoint of the United States, devaluation of the pound will stimulate international trade and help keep Great Britain solvent.

Our farmers may sell a little more lard and meat abroad than they would have otherwise.

Because a dollar will now buy more cotton in Egypt, vegetable oils in the South Pacific and wool in Australia, prices of cotton, cottonseed oil, wool and soybeans in the United States may be hurt some. But, in total, the effect on American agriculture wil be small.

According to one of the best authorities we know, the World Alamanac, there is an estimated 20 million of Communists in the world, and only six million of them live in the U.S.S.R. The rest of Europe has over eleven million, China two million, South American 340,000, North America 140,000, about half of whom are in the United States. For such a comparative small number, these Commies have surely made a stir in the world. —Wright County Monitor

Good Old Iowa Cider

Fall makes you think of apple cider. And that makes you wonder what's become of all those old cider presses which once went into action in Iowa every fall.

What a thrill it was to gather juicy apples, and help run them through the press! What a treat to tap that fresh, cool Iowa sweet cider on a sharp fall evening! Just no cider in the world compares with that made from ripe Iowa apples.

Iowa makes a big contribution to another beverage that's also a favorite with thousands of folks. I read the other day that our brewing industry bought over three hundred million dollars worth of grains and hops last year. A mighty big market for our farmers!

It's interesting that here are two famous beverages of moderation, both of which come from products of our fine Iowa soil. So, whether you prefer a cool glass of Iowa sweet cider, or a temperate glass of beer or ale—you're toasting our Iowa prosperity in either one of them.

down had been weakened by corn borer damage while lots of the dropped ears had been eaten in the shank by the borer.

Bowman said that some farmers he had talked with about the problem of corn harvesting are planning to follow up the mechanical corn pickers with crews of women and girls to get the corn on the ground. Some women and girls, who had worked in the hybrid corn plants which have finished their sorting process, have started already.

Other farmers with hogs and cattle, plan to turn livestock in the field to clean up corn on the ground. There will still be loss from corn crushed into the ground by the mechanical pickers.

DAMAGE AT BELMOND

City of Belmond felt its first effects of the storm Monday when Main Street was without electrical service during the morning for about four hours and the residential district had lights and power only intermittently.

Broken limbs were scattered all over town. A tree in the back yard of Oscar Boughton was uprooted and several big trees blown over or split in half including one in the city park and others in the yards of Jim Trees, Adolph Wenzel and Arlo Stoltenberg.

A garage used by Asa White across the alley north of the Independent office was blown over and the roof carried about 200 feet across two empty lots to the northeast.

On Main Street the large neon sign of Adams Pharmacy was blown loose, hanging by one wire for a time and breaking one plate glass window as well as damaging the awning.

Television antenna of the Brady Appliance Store was considerably damaged and twisted. The rail on the back porch of the Roy Henderson residence was torn off.

On Highway 69 a tractor belonging to Dick Ersland of Belmond was pulling a trailer going south by the General Mills soybean plant when the wind blew the steel box off the trailer into the path of an oncoming car going north. The car, a 1948 Pontiac belonged to a Minneapolis man who was accompanied by his wife. No one was injured, but an estimated damage of $500 was reported on the car which was brought to Ray's Body Shop. The hood, radiator, one side and one front fender were smashed in.

Parade Started Events

QUEEN CROWNED

After the Dumont band retired from the field, the Belmond marching band, accompanied to the football field the Homecoming queen, Vernadean Berns, and her attendants, Mildred Smith and Janet Beavers. They rode in a Ford convertible driven by Junior Kinseth. The queen was crowned by team captain Keith Greenfield and presented a bouquet of roses by the Lake Mills captain, Robert Rogstad. The queen's attendants were presented corsages by cheer leaders Francis Palmer and Nancy Johnson.

Twelve floats and twice as many decorated bicycles participated in the parade. Prize winning floats were Future Farmers of America, first; Boone Furniture, second; Future Home Makers, third; Senior Class, fourth. Prize winners among the bicyclists were Joan Kriens, first; Jerry Dorr, second; and Terry Johnson, third.

six more points. Robert Redmond converted.

After Coach Patterson had put in his second string in the closing minutes of the third quarter, Lake Mills scored its second touchdown from the six-yard line and converted. The third quarter ended 37-13.

With the Belmond recruits still in the line-up, Lake Mills scored again on a pass which was good for 22 yards and was Lake Mills' final marker.

In the closing 90 seconds of the game, Coach Patterson sent his first team back in, and after two plays Riggs took the ball around the end and ran 65 yards for the final touchdown, the game ending Belmond 44, Lake Mills 20.

With Bob Berns' passing, Greenfield's and Riggs' running and Redmond's blocking, Belmond's back field showed up well. In the line play Duane Trager, Clelen Redmond and Richard Kriens stood out for the Broncos. Belmond's second team showed up well, considering its lack of experience.

We must not let pass a chance to praise the fine sportsmanship of our neighbor to the north, Forest City.

At their homecoming last Friday night, when the Belmond Broncos defeated the Indians 27-14, Forest City invited the entire Belmond football squad, the Belmond marching band, the Belmond faculty and the Belmond cheer leaders to be guests at a lunch at the high school gymnasium following the game.

An event of the Forest City homecoming and sponsored by the Forest City Pep Club, lunch was served to both Belmond and homecoming guests who had their fill of sandwiches and cake and drinks following the battle on the grid field.

WHO'S LITTLE MAN ARE YOU?

Amateur Entertainer

That there is much hidden talent going to waste around our little city of Belmond was demonstrated at a party last week, according to reports from authoritative sources.

The little man in the picture above, long since grown to manhood and with many accomplishments behind him, may be—for all we know—looking for new worlds to conquer.

At a Methodist choir party last Thursday night, which started out at the church and ended at the R. W. Courson home, this man won a gold-plated $5.00 gold piece for the best original stunt and guess what he did ! ! ! A BALLET DANCE.

So adept was he, so poised and well-balanced, so swift in his movements that all the audience could see for a while was arms and legs flying around.

It has been suggested that anyone interested in autographing the new cast may do so with each $5.00 purchase at Woodwards.

Fred received his injury while helping with volunteer labor, tearing out a false ceiling at the start of the remodelling in the Veterans' Memorial Building. He hopes to have normal use of his leg without support of the cast, in another four or five weeks.

In commenting about his accident Tuesday of this week, Fred mentioned that the next time he falls he will try to land on a softer spot.

J. R. Gallagher To Join Staff Of Independent

New Editor Has Had Wide Newspaper Experience

J. R. Gallagher of Grinnell will join the staff of the Independent next week in the capacity of editor and circulation manager. Best known to his friends as "Pat", Mr. Gallagher is returning to the newspaper field after serving as representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in Grinnell for the past eight years.

Pat was bitten by the newspaper bug during his sophomore year in high school when he won the "Best News Story" award at the Iowa State High School Press Convention. He later edited the Grinnell High School paper and the Scarlet and Black at Grinnell college, from which he was graduated in 1935.

In college he was elected to membership in Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalistic fraternity. As winner of a Roberts Fellowship he attended graduate school at Columbia University and received a Master's Degree in journalism.

While in high school, Pat worked as an interviewer for Dr. George Gallup of poll fame when the latter was getting his first start in that field by conducting a reader interest survey for the Des Moines papers in 1927. Later, Dr. Gallup was one of Gallagher's professors at Columbia, as were Walter B. (Life Begins at Forty) Pitkin and Pulitzer Prize Winner Douglas Southall Freeman.

Prior to his "hitch" in the insurance business, Mr. Gallagher served as copy reader on the Des Moines Tribune and in the capacity of either advertising manager or editor on the Antioch (Ill.) News, Madison (N. J.) Eagle, Oskaloosa Tribune and Grinnell Herald-Register.

Besides these editorial and advertising stints, Pat served as correspondent for the Des Moines papers, Cedar Rapids Gazette, United Press and Marshalltown Times-Republican and as a free lance feature writer had stories accepted by several newspapers and magazines.

During the war Gallagher entered the Navy as an apprentice seaman and after completing boot training and attending Quartermaster school he received a commission as Lieutenant (j. g.) and became a communications officer. He served in that status on the staff of a destroyer squadron commander in the Pacific.

After the war had ended he was assigned to cover Iowa as a public relations officer when the inter-service battle over unification of the armed forces was just getting under way. He had attained the rank of Lieutenant by the time of his discharge in April of 1946.

The new editor's family, consisting of his wife Betty, seven-year-old daughter Nancy and five-year-old Denny will join Pat in Belmond as soon as he has obtained housing accommodations. Nancy will enter the second grade in school. Denny will start kindergarten next year. They are members of the Congregational church.

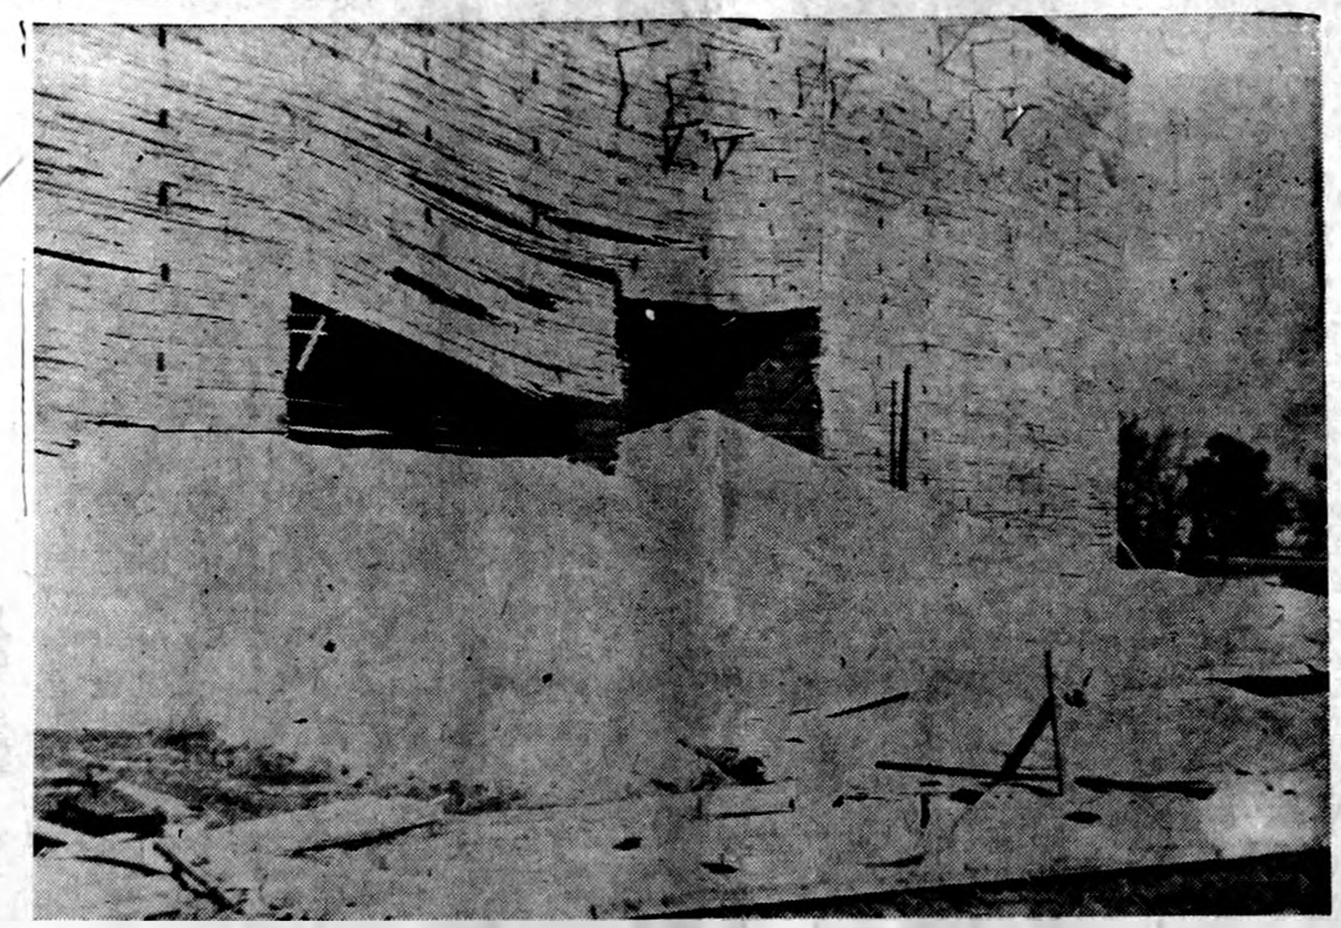
To Dismiss School Half Days for Corn Harvest



ELEVATOR BINS COLLAPSE—Twenty-five thousand bushels of shelled corn under government seal were scattered on the ground when 2 bins of the elevator at Olaf in Wright county collapsed Thursday. More than 90,000 bushels of corn were in the elevator when the collapse occurred near the center of the structure. Indians Lose To Broncos 27-14 Both Tied Now For League Second

Belmond Has Week Off Then Two More Games

Picking up their fourth win in five starts in the North Iowa Conference, the Belmond Broncos downed Forest City's Indians 27-14 in a wide-open encounter at Forest City last Friday night. It was the first reverse in league play for the losers.

The game was costly to the Belmond team when they lost the services of the star halfback, Keith "Sonny" Greenfield who was hurt during the game. According to Coach Lloyd Patterson, Greenfield will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season due to his knee injury.

The Indians led 14-7 at the quarter but the score stood at 14-14 at half time. Belmond surged ahead 21-14 after three quarters and iced the game with a fourth quarter marker.

Both teams displayed a rapid fire offense in the first half with each side scoring on straight football. In the second half, the Bronco line tightened up and held the Indians scoreless.

The running, pass catching and blocking of Riggs was outstanding, with Greenfield and Redmond sharing honors. Berns, quarterback, did an outstanding job in calling plays and his passing was super—he completed seven out of eight tosses. Dick Elliott, who replaced the injured Greenfield, gave indications he was ready to fit into the backfield when called.

Line play of the veteran, Duane Trager, was outstanding. The balance of the entire Belmond line looked well in the final half.

The Broncos will have a week off to prepare for the final league game with Garner on the Cardinal field Friday night, October 28. Clarion will play here the following week, on November 4 to close the season for the Belmond team.

Fireman's Annual Dance Is Next Wed., Oct. 26

Final plans have been completed for the annual Fireman's dance sponsored by the Belmond Fire Department as a benefit for the organization.

The dance will be held next Wednesday evening, October 26 at the I. O. O. F. Hall with Don McMillen and orchestra furnishing the music.

The annual dance is the only means the Firemen have to raise funds for their treasury. Volunteers and doing their work without compensation, the Firemen as a group respond at any time during the night or day when needed and have given a good account of themselves in the 69 years of the history of the organization. In many cases the members of the Department damage their clothes, such being true at the recent fire at the Main Street building housing the Belmond Bakery and the M. and K. Food Market. Money raised from the annual dance helps to pay for repairing or cleaning of clothes damaged or soiled at fires, etc.

Once a year the Firemen ask the support of the public, and whether or not you dance, your purchase of tickets from any member of the organization will be greatly appreciated. If you do dance, you will be assured of an evening of good entertainment.

Bonte Participating In $2,000,000 Giveaway

Local Dealer Will Give CB-9 Crosley Shelvador

Taking part in the biggest giveaway in history—$2,000,000 in cash and merchandise—is the Bonte Hardware and Appliance Store of Belmond, local dealer for Crosley Shelvadore refrigerators and appliances.

The nation-wide contest which started October 12 and ends November 30 will offer contest entrants a chance on both local and national prizes

The Bonte Hardware and Appliance Store of Belmond, like each of the Crosley dealers participating, will give away to some local winner a new 1950 custom model CB-9 Crosley refrigerator. Theodore Bonte said Tuesday that the refrigerator the local dealer will give away is now on display in the store here.

In addition to the Crosley refrigerators which are being given away by dealers, prizes in the national contest include First prize—$10,000 in cash plus a Crosley electric kitchen. Second, third and fourth prizes respectively are $5,000, $2,500 and $1,500 plus a complete Crosley electric kitchen. The next 20 prizes are complete Crosley electric kitchen and the next 100 prizes the 1950 Crosley Shelvador model CB-9 refrigerators.

Those wishing to enter the contest may get entry blanks at the Bonte Hardware and Appliance Store. A red entry blank qualifies you to enter the local contest. Those wishing to the national contest should also fill out the green entry blank.

On the blank you are asked to write in 50 words or less your reason or reasons why Crosley or its dealers should give you a new Shelvador refrigerator. Full details about the contest may be found in a Bonte Hardware and Appliance advertisement elsewhere in this issue or on the entry blanks at the store.

The giveaway contest has already had wide publicity in magazines and on the radio. On Monday of this week, Mr. Bonte, Merle Bonte and Tom Scholian of Belmond were among 600 dealers attending the big Crosley show in Des Moines.

One of the publicity stunts at the show was the display of one of the Crosley refrigerators packed with $20,000 in cash, with two guards on hand at all times. In N. Y. City a similar display was made except that the refrigerator there contained two million bucks in cold cash and four of the city's best policemen guarded it.

Two Fire Trucks Assist Meservey, Thornton at Fire

Greenlander Lost Cribs Corn, Etc. -- Barn Saved

The Belmond Fire Department answered a call for help to assist the Meservey and Thornton Fire Departments at the Dean Gobeli farm late Tuesday afternoon.

The fire started, it was reported, from the backfire of a corn sheller while two cribs of old corn were being shelled.

Destroyed were the two cribs, approximately 600 bushels of ear corn, a hog house, milk and pump house, some wooden fencing and a large stack of baled straw. The barn, which was right near the straw, was saved.

Both of Belmond's farm trucks answered the call. Additional water supply, obtained from stock tanks from neighboring farms and the town of Meservey, was of great help in saving the barn and an adjacent corn field.

H. S. and Junior High Students To Pick Up Corn In Emergency

A group of farmers met with Belmond school officials Tuesday evening, October 18, to study the community's corn harvesting problems. Harvesting of the present corn crop was placed on an emergency basis, as some fields were reported down as much as 40 per cent of the total yield. This means that farmers will have to solicit help if the crop is to be saved.

It was decided that beginning Thursday afternoon, October 27, high school and junior high students will be dismissed from school in Belmond half days to help in this emergency by picking up corn. This plan will continue until the crop has been harvested.

Most of the farmers should have their corn picked by the 27th and will be ready to help with the supervision of students in picking up the corn. It was felt that this week would be too early as many farmers are still too busy with their corn picking equipment to derive much benefit from outside aid.

1. The minimum wage shall be 60 cents per hour for high school students; 50 cents per hour for junior high students.
2. The farmers will pick up their workers at 12:45 at the school each day.
3. Farmer's request for workers must be mailed to the school by Monday, October 24, and the local school officials will assign students to them.
4. School officials will not assign students outside of the Belmond school bus territory.

In addition to the above conditions, Superintendent Don A. Faris stated that he would try to to aid farmers in securing help for this coming Saturday and Sunday if they would come to the school Friday morning.

4-H Clubs Want 500 Members In County, 50,000 In Nation

Iowa 4-H club members are marching to the tune of "50,000 in '50" during October. That's the membership goal toward which Hawkeye state 4-H'ers are striving this year.

Boys and Girls 4-H clubs in Wright county are seeking a membership for the coming year of 500.

During October, 4-H club members, local club leaders, county extension personnel and state 4-H club leaders are extending an invitation to all boys and girls throughout the state between the ages of 10 and 21 to join the 4-H club.

There are 2,400 clubs organized in the state today. These clubs attained a membership of over 43,000 during the 1949 club year which was an all time high for Iowa. This means that an increase of 7,000 members is needed to meet the 1950 goal.

About one in three eligible young people are enrolled in the club program now so there is plenty of room for the increase. The club movement has been on a steady increase since 1934, except for the wartime slump to 22,392 members in 1943.

Acompanying the usual weekly coverage of local 4-H news in the Independent this week, is feature material on 4-H club work in the state and nation as well as advertising sponsored by Belmond business firms, aimed at promotion of the membership drive.

Socialized Medicine

Iowa's sixth District Congressman, James I. Dolliver, has returned from a 16-day trip with the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce which visited England, Sweden, Switzerland, Germany, France, Italy and Ireland for the purpose of studying medical practices in European countries.

He has released a statement commenting on and expressing opinions about "socialized medicine" and explaining briefly about its use in Great Britain and the problems of the plan there.

"If I had needed any arguments to convince me that socialized medicine would not work in the United States, I certainly found them in Europe. I am more vigorously opposed to socialized medicine than before this journey.

"More time was spent by the Committee in Great Britain than any other country . The British 'scheme' has completely nationalized health services in that country. All the hospitals have been taken over without compensation by the government, and every doctor and dentist has become a paid employee of the British Government.

"It is a part of the complete socialization of Great Britain. A doctor's compensation does not depend upon his service to his patients but rather upon the number of prospective patients on his 'list.' Thus it seems inevitable that a deterioration of British medical standards will ensue.

"Since the healing arts have become a political football in England, there seems to be little liklihood that the British people or the British medical profession can get away from the system. Both the Conservative and the Labor parties are committed to a continuance of the British health plan. The medical profession itself has recognized that it is politically impossible to do away with the scheme.

"Thus it becomes more important to the American people to steer clear of the supposed enticements of political medicine. Every proposal ought to be scrutinized with the utmost care to avoid the mistakes that have been made elsewhere.

"The medical profession in the United States has far higher standards and greater skill than the profession in any country of Europe visited. The American people should be aroused against the insidious infiltration of socialistic schemes, to prevent any further encroachment of such plans."

Dolliver expects to be home in Iowa following the adjournment of Congress. He has already scheduled several speeches where he will discuss this public issue.

Violation of Traffic Laws on the Increase

The state safety department last month suspended the licenses of 844 Iowa drivers, 15 per cent more than were suspended in August the previous high month this year.

A monthly report to Commissioner Alfred Kahl from Kenneth F. Neu, director of the department's safety responsibility and drivers license division, showed that 478 of the drivers lost their licenses for failure to comply with the safety responsibility law following an accident.

Most sharply increased cause of license suspension, however, was moving traffic violations. Neu said that during September his division acted on 331 court recommendations that licenses be suspended following convictions, for such violations.

This was an 18 per cent gain in "violation" suspensions over the highest preceding month this year.

35 other drivers gave up their licenses during the month after a review of their records by the driver improvement section of the department showed them to be incompetent or habitual violators.

"Records of individual drivers are constantly under review in this division," Neu said. "This increase in the number of licenses we have had to suspend under the law should cause every motorist to look on his operator's permit with a little more regard."

At the end of September the number of license suspensions effective in Iowa for the year stood at 1,693, according to the report.

The safety department received reports of 4,157 traffic accidents during the month. This compared to 3,366 accidents in the state during September a year ago.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Serious Loss From Insects May Occur In Big Carry-over Of Grain

The big carryover of corn and granaries full of oats, some of which is already infested with insects, points to serious loss of stored grain from bugs this year unless control measures are taken, according to Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Iowa State College.

Some 1948 ear corn now on farms contains bugs. Gunderson says that if this corn is shelled out to be resealed in tight bins, some of it will be infested with insect populations when binned.

Stored grains in Iowa are commonly attacked by 22 different species of insects. Both rice weevil and granary weevil are present. Indian meal moth and meal snout moth do damage. These "Bran bugs" attack dirty or high-moisture grain, add to the dirt, and increase the moisture so that molds easily become established.

Gunderson says that bugs cause damage in three ways. They feed on grain. They lower the grade of grain by their presence and the debris they leave. The surface layer of grain is lost because of molding and crusting.

Here's how to spot bugs in grain. Get into the bin and crawl around on the surface. If you don't sink in readily or if the grain doesn't rattle look for bugs. Run your arm down into the grain in the center of the bin and grab a handful. If the grain is hot and you can see buts, better fumigate, Gunderson says.

Use either carbon tetrachloride or carbon tetrachlorid-ethylene dichloride mixture at the rate of six gallons per 1,000 bushels. It is best applied by pump from outside the bin over the entire surface of the grain. The fumes are heavier than air so they sink down through the grain, killing the insects, Gunderson says. No cover is needed over the grain unless a high wind is blowing.

Fumigation should not be attempted under windy conditions. The two fumigants recommended are non-inflammable so that electricity in the building does not need to be shut off.

If there is only a small amount of grain to fumigate, the liquid may be applied with a sprinkling can. For those who wish to fumigate several thousand bushels of grain, it is advisable to wear an approved, well-fitted gas mask equipped with a black canister labeled "For Organic Vapors." The canister should be replaced at the end of 30 minutes exposure to the fumes.

Higher Minimum Wages May Boost Phone Rates Throughout Country

Bill Has Already Passed Both Branches Congress

After the new law, which Congress is expected to pass, raises minimum hourly wages from 40 cents to 75 cents, telephone subscribers throughout the State may eventually find that they will have to pay some of the difference on their telephone bills. Mr. Toral Duckett, Division Manager of the Central Telephone Company, commented unofficially to this effect in a statement released here.

He said that the bill has already passed both branches of Congress but in somewhat different form. He expects that the final bill will require employers to pay a minimum hourly wage of 75 cents to all employees except to telephone operators in exchanges of less than 750 subscribers.

It appears that the present exemption of telephone operators in exchanges serving less than 500 subscribers will be changed to exchanges serving less than 750 subscribers. Duckett stated, however, that although federal regulation might not directly dictate a change in all exchanges it appeared likely that it would indirectly affect some other wage rates. Although the present minimum wage regulation is at 40 cents per hour in any exchange of more than 500 subscribers, Mr. Duckett stated that the minimum now paid by the Company is somewhat in excess of that amount. However, the application of the new minimum wage and other related costs would cause a considerable increase in the costs of furnishing telephone service. He stated that the actual effect of the new requirement in exchanges served by the Central Telephone Company, cannot be determined until Congress has passed the bill in final form.

Directing attention to a recent statement made in Washington by Frank S. Barnes, President of the United States Independent Telephone Association, to the effect that telephone companies throughout the whole country are going to be "hard hit" by extra operating expenses resulting from this law, Mr. Duckett said: "We have no reason to suppose that telephone companies in this state will experience any less difficulty than those generally predicted for the independent telephone industry."

All Trucks Used To Bring Fire Under Control On Windy Monday

One of the Belmond Fire Department's three trucks which answered the call is shown in the foreground with smoke partially hiding the building which houses the Belmond Bakery and the M. and K/Food Market on the lower floor and three apartments on the second floor.

The fire was brought under control while still confined to the attic of the building. Both businesses were open again for business last Saturday after closing because of water and smoke damage to merchandise and fixtures.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson and son, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jurgenson and Mrs. Marie Gable, occupants of the three apartments forced to vacate, have not yet moved back in, waiting repairs to the apartments which were entensively damaged from smoke and water.

CGW Trains Temporarily Discontinued Now; Off Schedule Permanently

Authorization for permanently discontinuing passenger trains 31 and 32 was given the Chicago Great Western Railroad last week by the Iowa Commerce Commission. Both trains formerly passed through Belmond.

The trains were temporarily discontinued May 10 pending action on the railroad's request to permanently withdraw them from service.

The commission's action means that only two C. G W.. passenger trains will operate regularly between Omaha and Minneapolis, the southbound arriving here at 1:21 a. m.; the northbound at 1:30 a. m.

Forty-two points in western and northern Iowa were served by the discontinued trains.

In its decision the commission noted that the railroad had been operating two trains at a loss and that 18 of the towns on the line in this state are served by other railroads and 12 with bus lines.

Wright County Has Second Place Honors In Iowa Cancer Campaign, Raised 254 Per Cent Of Quota Assigned

Among the 79 Iowa counties which made or exceeded their quotas in the 1949 cancer campaign and the nine counties which more than doubled their quotas, was Wright county, which received second place honors, having raised 254 per cent of its quota. Mrs. Lynn C. Thompson of Clarion was the local chairman. Sac county ranked first with 270 per cent of quota.

A total of $418,360.21 was contributed in the state for an all time high in cancer contributions in Iowa.

H. B. Hook, of Mason City, state campaign chairman for the Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society, in making his report of the campaign, stated that the total is $116,460.21 more than the state's assigned quota of $309,900 or 138 per cent.

Iowa was fourth of all the states in per cent of quota attained, topped only by South Carolina, Tennessee and Maryland. More than $14,000,000 was contributed nationally. The money is used for research, education and service at national, state and county levels.

I attribute the record breaking success of the 1949 campaign to three major factors," chairman Hook said.

"1. We had an army of splendid volunteer workers who under capable leadership in nearly every county called on their neighbors and friends to contribute to a cause that is the greatest challenge of its kind in American history.

"2. We have in every county chapters and chapter chairmen who have promoted a program of cancer education and service that has few counterparts in the nation, and

"3. We have an efficient state organization that has rounded out a program of research, education and service at the state level which has achieved results not less than truly remarkable."

Last year Iowa raised $333,793.70, or 123 per cent of quota; in 1947 the amount raised was $253,688.90, or 124 per cent.

NARROW ESCAPE

Amanda Louise, 4 year old Stone City girl, narrowly escaped asphyxiation, last week. A laundry boiler overflowed and extinguished the flame on a gas stove. It was not noticed until Amanda complained of "feeling sleepy" and then collapsed. She has recovered.

Suggest Killed Virus Vaccine To Control Newcastle In Poultry

A program designed to aid in the control of Newcastle disease in Iowa poultry flocks by using killed virus vaccine has been outlined by Dr. C. D. Lee, extension veterinarian at Iowa State College. Using killed vaccine avoids the danger of new infection that may occur with the use of live vaccines unless strict precautions are taken.

He recommends vaccinating all birds at the time they are handled for culling and blood testing. That gives the flock maximum protection during the hatching season and also gives the maximum amount of inherited immunity to the chicks.

As part of the program, chicks that are sent to communities known to be infected can be vaccinated with the killed vaccine at the time they are put on the farm. Chicks vaccinated with killed virus at an early age may be immuned for five months or more. However, it is desirable that they be vaccinated again when they are housed in the fall, according to Lee.

Vaccination is not a substitute for good sanitation and management, but it is an invaluable aid in disease control programs.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE SENIORS

Friday, October 7th, the five seniors, Denise Ainslie, Thelma Abel, Duane Blau, Marvin Jaacks, Gordon Paullus and Mr. Johnson, the class sponsor, went to Mason City to have their pictures taken. We arrived at Mason about 10:00. The appointment at Russells studio was for 11:00, so by the time we got our faces fixed up we were ready to be shot. At twelve-thirty the last of the boys had gone through.

Everyone then went up town and had dinner, after which the boys went to the car to listen to the world series. The two girls went up town and bought everything alike from shmoos to shoes.

At 15 to 4 everyone met at the corner of the Wier Building. When we all got there we went up to Requestfully Yours, which comes over KSMN. We were all disappointed that we didn't get to talk due to the fact that Paul Pippert wasn't there. We left after a while and decided we would meet at the studio at 7:30 and then go out to the Drive In Theater.

Everyone then disposed of themselves and went and had supper.

We were all down to the studio a little early and got our proofs. Everyone was surprised at what we looked like, but the more we looked at the proofs the better we seemed to like them.

We got out to the Drive In shortly after 7:30 and saw the show entitled "The Punderers." We all thought that we had seen better shows but this was the first visit to a drive in theatre for four of us. After the show we went and had ice cream, then we were bound out for home. My! What a day of fun! But we were all happy to be home in bed.

Kenny N. was practicing for his Cooking Merit Badge by trying to follow a layer cake recipe that was being broadcast on the radio. However, his radio set was damaged and he got two stations at once. This is what he heard: And now, for a layer cake hands on hips, place one cup of flour on your shoulder, raise knees and depress toes. Mix thoroughly in one-half cup of milk, repeat six times. Inhale quickly, one teaspoon of baking powder, lower legs and mash six hard boiled eggs in a sieve; exhale, breathe naturally and sift in a bowl. Attention! Lie on the floor and roll, in the white of two eggs, backwards, forwards, until it comes to a boil. In ten minutes, remove from fire and rub smartly with a rough towel. Breathe naturally, dress in warm red flannels, and serve with tomato sauce.

Home Owners Increased Steadily In Wright County Past 12 Years

Figures compiled from homestead exemptions recorded in the office of the county auditor show that home ownership in Wright county has been steadily increasing during the past 12 years.

Although the figures for 1949 are not yet available, owing to a possible equalizing valuations by the state tax commission, there has been a steady advance in the amount of homestead exemptions in Wright county since the law went into effect in 1937.

Beginning with 1938 when the law became fully operative, the total that year was $87,292.94, and it increased year by year until the total had climbed to $121,800.32 in 1948.

1940	92,817.24
1941	98,735.70
1942	100,831.54
1943	101,975.18
1944	102,879.96
1945	109,813.02
1946	113,344.04
1947	119,256.38

Experience over the state is similar to that in Wright county. There has been a steadily increasing ratio, according to figures released by the state tax commission.

4-H Clubs Presented Program At Grant Township F. B. Meeting

The 4-H clubs of the township gave the program for the Grant Township Farm Bureau meeting Monday evening, Sept. 26. Installation of officers for the Grant Go Getters was the main number. Installing officers were Joann Lindvall, president; Jeanine Hardy, vice president; Charlene Bower, secretary; Barbara Barnes, historian, and Connie Bell, reporter. The newly installed officers were Judith Woodin, president; Janice Sann, vice-president; Rosann Nigg, secretary; Nancy Barnes, historian; and Margery Murphy, reporter. The club members sang "Dreaming" and they were accompanied by Patricia Ketchum of the Iowa I-Go-U-Go club. Patricia also played the Ceremonial song for the processional and recessional.

A skit, "Posture on Parade" followed the installation, with Joann Lindvall acting as reader, and Janice Sann, Marjorie Millang, Charlene Bower, Jeanine Hardy, Kay Kastler and Margery Murphy acted out the various types of posture, both bad and good. Willis Muhlenbruck gave a report on the boys work during the year, and Mrs. Lettie Zuber, the home economist, told of the work for the coming year. She was then presented with a corsage from the girls club by Joann Lindvall. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

IN MEMORIAM

Dearest sister, thou hast left us
But we hope that you are happy

Asleep in Jesus, sweetly resting,
Evermore with Him to dwell.
Free from pain and earthly sorrow
For He doeth all things well.

Face to face with our Redeemer,

Iowa's CROP Goal 1949 Harvest Season Is 450 Cars

See anyone you know? No, there's no young son or daughter of yours sitting barefoot in the street, eating as if this were his first food in a long time. These children live in Germany and this meal might well be the first they've had for a long time. They're eating probably because of your donation last harvest season to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

Last year Iowa farmers contributed 393 carloads of bulk commodities for shipment to the needy overseas. This year, Iowa's goal for CROP is 450 cars, larger than last year's because the need has not been lessened. The drive will open in Iowa November 6 and will run for a week.

Since its beginning in 1947 under the sponsorship of Catholic Rural life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief, CROP each fall has solicited bulk commodities from the agricultural states in the nation, to help feed people overseas who don't have the money to buy food. Distribution is made through agencies of the churches sponsoring CROP.

4-H Clubs In Iowa Started Nearly A Half Century Ago

Wright County School Superintendent Among The Early Organizers

It was nearly 50 years ago when Iowa's rural youth organization now known as the 4-H club, got its start.

Sometime in the early 1900's, several people in Iowa began to realize that rural boys and girls need to learn about agriculture and homemaking — two topics that would better prepare them for their future lives. Backing this belief were some of the county superintendents of schools. They got the movement started by placing emphasis in the classroom on raising corn and garden crops.

Appreciate Rural Life

At the same time, between 1900 and 1905, Farmers' Institutes were growing rapidly around the state. They too were interested in helping rural boys and girls to appreciate rural life.

With county superintendents of schools in several areas acting as organizers, the Farmers' Institutes supplied high-quality seed to the young peole so they could conduct demonstrations on their home farms and also exhibit their products. County fair associations also cooperated by offering prizes to the young exhibitors..

Corn Contest

Wallace's Farmer aided the birth of this rural youth movement from 1902 to 1904 when they started a corn contest for boys. They furnished the seed corn and offered prizes for the best corn exhibited.

One of the first organized clubs in Iowa came about in 1904 through the efforts of C. E. Miller, superintendent of schools in Keokuk county. The boys called themselves members of the Boys' Agricultural Clubs. The girls belonged to the Girls' Home Culture Clubs.

In that year a county meeting was held which included exhibits, judging contests and a speaking contest. The girls exhibited examples of their sewing and cooking and held a judging contest in which they judged "articles of sewing, handwork and cooking." The boys exhibited corn and garden products and also had a corn judging contest.

Took Up Idea

Two others in the field of education took up the club idea in 1905 and 1906. They were O. H. Benson, superintendent of schools in Wright County, and Mrs. Jessie Field Shambaugh, superintendent of schools in Page County.

Mrs. Shambaugh and Benson originated a clover emblem for their clubs. This first emblem was a three-leaf clover with a kernel of corn forming the background. On each left was an "H" to signify Head, Heart and Hands. Later the emblem was changed to the four-leaf clover and the fourth "H" was added for Health. This emblem spread gradually throughout the United States until it officially became the national emblem of 4-H club work.

Boll Weevil Menace

The 4-H club became a national organization during the time of the serious cotton boll weevil menace in the South. In 1903, the United States Department of Agriculture assigned Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, a former president of Iowa State College, the task of finding a way to control the weevil. Adults did not adopt his recommended farming methods fast enough. Feeling that youths might be interested more easily, Dr. Knapp encouraged club work on a national scale as a program of the USDA.

Enrolled By Mail

In 1911, Benson was appointed National Director of Boys and Girls' Club Work. Other states, also had been organizing club work during these early 1900's. Boys and girls were enrolled in the national organization by mail and did not have local leaders. They received literature and instructions from the state extension offices.

The final push that gave 4-H clubs the status they now enjoy came with the passage of the Smith-Lever Act in 1914. Through the act, county agents and local leaders began to organize local clubs and club meetings and projects were introduced.

BELMOND BUSY BEES MET OCTOBER 8

The Belmond Busy Bees 4-H club held its regular meeting at the home of Connie Hill, Oct. 8. The meeting was called to order by President Mary Lou Baker by saying the 4-H pledge. Roll call was answered by all telling what they would like to change in their room. Eleven members, three visitors and two leaders were present. New leader is Mrs. Arthur Homervold.

We discussed installation of officers which will be held at a Farm Bureau meeting Oct. 20. We also discussed selling candy and popcorn at the Farm Bureau meeting.

PLEASANT TOWNSHIP F. L. MEETING WAS HELD OCTOBER 7

Pleasant township family living organization meeting was held at the Legion Hall at Belmond Friday, October 7, with 14 ladies present. Officers for the year are Mrs. Rammer Goeman, chairman; Mrs. Harold Baker, vice chairman.

4-H Motto Unites Members In Varied Activity

Wherever 4-H club boys and girls go or whatever they do, there is one phrase that unites them and puts meaning into all their activities. That phrase is their mottor—'To Make the Best Better."

Backing up that motto is their 4-H pledge — "I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service and my health to better living, for my club, my community, my country and my world."

Carry Out Pledge

Proof that those are not empty words is the way in which 4-H club members carry out their pledge as they enroll in club projects, take part in wide citizenship programs and work in such activities as health, soil and wildlife conservation and farm safety.

Symbol of the 4-H organization is the green four-leaf clover. In each leaf of this emblem is a white "H." These four-H's stand for head, heart, hands and health and form the name of the organization — "4-H."

The 4-H slogan also is meaningful. It is simply, "To Win Without Bragging, To Lose Without Squealing."

4-H Demonstrations Cover Wide Field And Spread Information

Practically everything from bracing fence posts to making good jelly is included in the boys' and girls' 4-H demonstration program. These demonstrations show present and future homemakers and farmers easier methods of doing ordinary jobs.

It isn't unusual to look at a 4-H'ers record book and find that he or she has demonstrated better methods before three or four thousand people or even more.

There are several advantages in the 4-H demonstration program. Labor saving and better products result when people put the helpful pointers into practice. Thus demonstrations are an effective means of spreading information about good farm and home practices.

Benefits Individuals

Also ranking high on the list of advantages are the benefits to the individual boys and girls participating. They learn their subject well before they start telling other people about it so it becomes a worthwhile educational device.

Then, too the 4-H'ers gain experience in speaking before groups and learning to express themselves on their feet. These are important in our democracy. A good idea, when shared, becomes even more valuable.

Many 4-H members give their demonstrations before neighboring clubs, Farm Bureau meetings and other farm groups. These demonstrations have been proven to be more effective than merely talking since the audience can actually see the job being done.

23 LADIES PRESENT AT GRANT TOWNSHIP MEETING OCTOBER 4

Mrs. Nels Lindvall told of the lessons for the coming year in the absence of Mrs. Zuber, who could not attend. The first lesson was given by Charles Sherwood, horticulture specialist, October 13 on "How to grow better house plants." The other lessons are "Better lighting for better Sight", "Planning the wardrobe and personal design and good grooming," "Foods to serve when you entertain."

Mrs. Laurence Woodley of Rowan gave an illustrative talk on their trip to Mexico.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harlan Hill and Mrs. Myron Hill. Mrs. Feller and Mrs. Stevens presided at the tea table.

To make the Best-Better- 4-H'ers pledge

And that's exactly what they are doing. Even in enrollment they're trying to make the best better. During the past 4-H club year, nearly 43,000 Iowa boys and girls, 10 to 21 years of age, took advantage of the varied 4-H program. That was the largest enrollment ever attained in the Hawkeye state. The new goal is 50,000 members in '50. Do your part during enrollment month to help meet this goal and 'make the best better.

And No Sign of Peace In Labor's Biggest Conflict Since The End of World War II: Strike Idle Near Million Mark; 5 Million By December 1

9 Aluminum Plants Hit by Steel Strike

BULLETIN

Pittsburgh, (U. P.) — U. S. Steel Corp. announced Monday that it has accepted an invitation of U. S. Meditation Director Cyrus S. Ching to meet with him in New York Wednesday afternoon to discuss the 17-day steel strike.

There's still no sign of peace in labor's biggest conflict since the end of World War II.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said Sunday the steel strike will idle 5 million persons if it runs to December 1.—(From a recent issue of the Mason City Globe-Gazette.

All these strikes are for one thing, increased pensions and other security benefits.

For a short time we have seen a decline in prices, but for a short time only. Shortages have already hit those in the furniture manufacturing, wholesale and retail businesses and prices are again on the way up.

Orders for mattresses, springs, linoleum, rubber and asphalt tile flooring, metal furniture and other furniture fabricated in part with metal are slow in arriving and when they do the price has jumped. Increased freight rates haven't helped the price structure either.

What the price situation on furniture will be by Christmas we don't know, but we do know that increased wages and pensions to labor will mean higher manufacturing costs which will be passed on to the consumer through the wholesaler and retailer. If that is the case, furniture prices will be higher by Christmas.

Fortunately our stock of furniture bought at prices prevailing during the past two months is good, we had purchased heavily to give our prospective customers as complete a choice as can be found for a radius of many miles in this area and have placed price tags on this merchandise that will surprise you. Our sincere advice is that if you are contemplating purchases for your home in the near future that you stop in and see us.

Bowl-Mor Lanes Will Open Saturday Night

MAIN STREET

By George C. Hansen

On the possibility that The Independent's new editor, Pat Gallagher, might have some comments to make on "Main Street," today's column has been turned over to his use . . . Carry on, Pat.

—M-S—

As a newcomer to Belmond, your guest writer of today's Main Street column has been deeply impressed by the graciousness and friendliness he has met at every turn since his arrival in your community. But this pleasant reception came as no surprise.

When the move to Belmond was contemplated by your scribe, he inquired eagerly of all friends and acquaintances who had any knowledge of the town, "What sort of place is it?" Without exception, these solicited reports were enthusiastically favorable.

Like the farmer who summed up his impressions on first viewing a giraffe with, "There ain't no such animal," we were inclined to suspect we were being hoodwinked. No town, certainly, could be as nice a place as we'd been led to expect Belmond to be. However, a couple of days here has sold us completely. We LIKE Belmond very much and hope we can impress Belmond half as favorably.

—M-S—

When we arrived in Belmond Sunday evening and made an unsuccessful effort to gain entry to the Independent office, we discovered a duck hanging at the office door—apparently the gift one of George's many admirers. It wasn't a very fat duck and, in death, not a very impressive critter in any respect. But it was the sentiment behind the gift that touched us. The donor probably figured that a hunter of George's calibre would be happy over any kind of a duck.

—M-S—

About 11:30 Sunday evening we had visions of being suspended from the Independent's awning, right oposite the dead duck. Only the fact that Belmond is a friendly and understanding town saved us from such a fate.

Pending the acquisition of a suitable abode so the Gallagher family can move to Belmond in toto, your new editor is making his home in an upstairs room at the Ted Behrends residence. Approaching same from the east, your scrivener eyed the darkened windows and decided to enter by the back door to have direct access to the stairs without tramping through the house.

Grasping what purported to be the handle of the door to the upper stairway, ye editor was taken aback more than somewhat when a completely unfamiliar young lady emerged from the bathroom nearby, attired for the night.

"Just a member of the family we didn't meet during the stop earlier in the evening," we decided, and with the explanation that we were simply going up to our room, we gave another tug at the door handle.

When another face, completely strange to us, appeared in the gloom of an adjacent bedroom and politely inquired the reason for our presence, it occurred to us that we just might possibly be in a very, very awkward situation.

Our worst fears were confirmed when we were informed by Leo Dorr that the Behrends residence was next door to the west. Mumbling apologetic inanities, we beat a hasty retreat and were soon ensconced in the proper boudoir.

..Those Dorrs, incidentally, seemed like mighty fine folks. Must stop in soon under more conventional circumstances and get acquainted.

—M-S—

You Bronco fans might be interested to know that Del Eggers, whose pass to Eldon Loats back in 1941 advanced the ball 64 yards and rung up Belmond's one and only victory over Clarion, is doing all right by himself as a back on the Grinnell college eleven. Coach Hank Brown uses Del as a kicker, more than a passer. Eggers has seen a considerable amount of service this season, which is adding up to one of the Pioneer's best in a number of years.

Last Rites for Hardwick Held Last Tuesday

Was Very Active in Many Belmond Organizations

Funeral services for Stephen R. Hardwick, who spent most of the 50 years of his life as a Belmond resident, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Congregational church.

Mr. Hardwick, who lately had been an employee at Boone Furniture store, took a very active part in community affairs and filled top elective positions in a number of Belmond veteran and fraternal organizations.

Born at Eddyville, Iowa, as Rube Carter on Aug. 12, 1899, he was adopted when a few weeks old by Mr. and Mrs. George Hardwick of Britt.

The Hardwicks made their home at Britt until Stephen was nine years old, when his parents brought him and his sister, Esther Mae, to Belmond to live. Stephen attended the Belmond public schools..

In March of 1916, at the age of 17, he enlisted in the Army and later served with Company K, 10th Infantry Division in France. Upon his arrival home from service he was hospitalized for many months for a heart ailment.

When his health later permitted, Mr. Hardwick attended photography school at the University of Illinois and he worked for some time as a photographer in Des Moines, Davenport, St. Louis and Chicago.

He was married in 1924 to Miss Ruth Tiara and to them were born three children; Mary Louise, Roy Dennis and George Paul.

For six years he owned and operated a dairy near Belmond, but a recurrence of the heart condition forced him to return to

Hearing by Court Not Necessary In 19 Value Appeals

Of 19 appeals filed in Wright county as the result of property value appraisals and assigned for hearing during the current term of district court, six were dismissed by the appellants prior to the opening of court and the remainder were disposed of by consent decrees signed by the court Monday.

According to Attorney Roy Henderson, who—with Birdsall, Archerd and Nagle of Clarion—assisted County Attorney Harlan Larson in defense of the appeals, all of the cases involved business properties.

Only two cases having to do with the valuation of real estate, Mr. Henderson reports, resulted in reduction of the original appraisals. In one instance an obvious error had been made, which was duly corrected. In the other case, subsequent sale of the property resolved the question of valuation when the sale price ran somewhat less than the appraised value.

The other 11 appeals involved evaluation of business equipment. Through conferences of the aggrieved taxpayers and their lawyers with the board of review, errors were adjusted prior to court time so it was possible to dispose of the cases by consent decrees promptly after court convened the first of this week.

15-Year-Old Miss Wins Nomination For Beauty Title

Marlys Jean Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson, has been announced as one of six winners from this area in a contest being conducted by Lux Soap to find the nation's most beautiful 15-year-old girl.

From among the six contestants, one will be elected to represent radio station KGLO of Mason City in the competition to determine the national winner. Votes may be cast at C. C. Benson's office, Spurling's Cafe or Ray's Body Shop in the form of a Lux wrapper with the name of the favored contestant written on the back.

Mr. Thompson is conducting a contest of his own in conjunction with votes cast at his business establishment, Ray's Body Shop. To the person casting the most votes for his daughter he will give a free auto wax and polish job.

To ascertain who the winner of Ray's contest will be, it is necessary that voters "casting their wrappers" at the body shop write their own name and address, as well as Marlys Jean's, inside the cover.

Votes must be cast by Saturday, Nov. 19, to be counted in the KGLO contest. The name of the regional winner will be announced by the radio station during the Lux Radio Theatre program on Nov. 21.

MARGRETTE THOMPSON HEADS WOMENS NEW BOWLING ASSOCIATION

At a meeting Tuesday evening at the city hall, plans for women's bowling were organized with the help of Miss Billy Lindelof, secretary of the Iowa Women's Bowling association. About 30 women turned out for the organization meeting and formation of at least one league for the ladies was assured, with the possibility that enough may be interested to make two possible.

A Belmond Women's Bowling association was organized Tuesday night with Margrette Thompson elected president. Other officers chosen were Eva Hansen, vice president; Mary Gordon, secretary; Ethel Brunes, treasurer; and Naomi Downs, sergeant-at-arms.

Three teams are already fully organized and sponsored. They will be backed by Mello-Maid, Belmond Greenhouse and Thompson Hybrid Corn company. A fourth team will be sponsored by Courson and McNeal, but it is not yet completely formed.

Tuesday night will be set aside for women's league play and the alleys will be reserved strictly for women until after the league matches have been completed. The ladies have set 6:45 p. m. as their regular starting time.

All women interested in organized bowling who were not present at this week's meeting are requested to call Mary Gordon (phone 26) by Saturday noon. The women's association is to gather next Tuesday evening at Bowl-Mor at the regular hour of 6:45. If the start of regular play is not yet possible, the evening will be devoted to practice.

Dance Next Monday Night Will Bring 1949 Program At Country Club to Close

Activities at the Clarmond Country club for the current year will be brought to a close next Monday evening with a Hallowe'en costume dance. Music will be provided by genial Doc Lawson and his electric organ.

To assure that club members will appear in costume, the committee is awarding $30 in prizes to the dancers most appropriately attired. There will be a $10 first prize and $5 second prize for both men and women.

Belmond's newest recreation center, the "Bowl-Mor Lanes" will soon be much busier than it appears above. It is expected that the alleys will be open to public use next Monday, following their first use Saturday night by two picked teams from Belmond and a team of Des Moines pin-smashers in a three-game exhibition match.

Solicitors to Complete Calls During Single Day

Neil Flanagan and Jack Shepard will serve as joint chairmen for the annual ~~Boy~~ Scout fund drive which, this year, is planned as a one-day project to be conducted next Monday, Oct. 31. Committee members who will assist in conduct of the campaign are Lloyd Cunningham, R. W. Courson, George Jenison, M. C. Jensen and William Meints.

In announcing the drive, Jack Shepard emphasizes the hope that all persons upon whom the solicitors call will bear in mind the tremendous value of Scouting to this community and to the nation.

In Belmond, Scouting has been definitely on the up-grade in the past year or so and, as a result, the need for funds is larger than ever Shepard expects that reduction of Scouting age from 12 to 11 and Cub age from nine to eight may bring even more boys into the organization.

Glenn Martin, Scoutmaster of the Belmond troop, states that membership in the last 18 months has increased from eight to 28. Martin lately pledged to the

Ross Will Speak On Reorganizing Schools of Iowa

PTA to Hear D. M. Man At Meeting Monday Eve

Roland Ross of Des Moines, state supervisor of guidance with the Iowa State Department of Education, will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Belmond Parent-Teachers association which is to be held at 8:00 o'clock Monday evening at the high school auditorium.

Mr. Ross's topic will be "School Reorganization," a subject which P. T. A. president Mrs. Fred Pals believes should be of great interest to the parents of Belmond's school children.

Program Chairman Duane Sandage, high school vocational agriculture teacher, states that Mr. Ross should be well qualified to speak on the controversial question of the evening as he is a member of a state committee which has been appointed specifically to study the question of school reorganization and formulate plans for its accomplishment.

Social committee for the meeting Monday evening includes: Mrs. Evelyn Beavers, Mrs. C. J. Waddington, Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Mrs. Harold Rierson and Mrs. Fred Madsen.

Mr. Sandage announces that plans are in the making for presentation of a number of outstanding speakers at P. T. A. meetings scheduled for the balance of the school year.

PFC. HOOD IN FILM

In the Previews shown this week at the Lyric Theatre of the 82nd Airborne Exhibition for President Truman, it will be interesting to Belmond to know one of the paratroopers making the jump is one of our local boys, Pfc. Kenneth J. Hood.

Belmond Keglers Slated to Meet Des Moines Team

Free Coffee, Doughnuts For First Night Visitors

Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock the six, glistening new alleys of Bowl-Mor Lanes will see their first action when two picked teams of Belmond bowlers will match strikes and spares with a Classic League team from East Des Moines Bowling Center.

Tentative line-ups for the two Belmond quintets are: Team No. 1—Jim Mariga, Steve Dorenkamp, Ernest Kurtz, Fred Gordon and Ed Thompson; Team No. 2—A. J. Meints, George Hansen, Kenneth LaVelle, Fred Johnson and Claude Larkin. Meints is captain of the Belmond bowlers.

The Des Moines team's manager sends a glowing account of the bowling accomplishments of the visitors. The team personnel includes Capt. Art Kress, Wayne Knight, Jack Engstrom, Howard Whitaker and Matt Bailey. All are from Des Moines except Bailey, who operates an alley at Pella and drives to the capital city each week to bowl with the team.

Captain Kress has been bowling for 12 years and has an average of 184. Knight has been tumbling the pins for seven years and possesses a 180 average. This is matched by Engstrom, although he took up bowling only three years ago. Whitaker, a five-year veteran, boasts a 183 average and a high series of 738. Bailey's average matches Kress's, 184.

Just what can be expected of the Belmond entries remains to be seen, for although all are bowling enthusiasts most of them have been away from the game for a fair period of time.

Team No. 1 will roll the first line against the Des Moines opponents and No. 2 will take to the lanes for the second. The five highest scorers from the two will join forces in the final game with the visitors.

Doors to the Bowl-Mor will open at 7:00 p. m. Saturday. Free coffee and doughnnuts will be served to the public during the evening.

Six men's leagues will be ready to go into acton next week. These teams will take over the alleys on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. All members of the men's teams, including captains and sponsors, are asked to meet at the alleys this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Meeting Tuesday to Plan Program for Cub Scouts

Cubmaster Lester Bergman reports that a meeting of boys interested in the Cub Scout organization, and their parents, will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday evening, Nov. 1, at the high school lunch room.

At this meeting plans for the Cub program for the current year will be laid. Mr. Bergman cordially invites all boys of eligible age, eight to 11, to bring their parents and be on hand for the gathering.

TIME MAG SAYS— WE'RE RICH

The "ill wind" of two weeks ago Monday blew Wright County right into the National Affairs section of last weekend's issue of Time Magazine, thereby accomplishing at least the dubious "good" of a bit of nationwide publicity for this section.

After mentioning that the 12-hour blow reached a velocity of 90 m. p. h. in Mason City and toppled many a tree, chimney, barn and cornbin, Time notes, "The corn fields got the worst of it."

By inference, at least, one gathers that this immediate vicinity must have suffered as heavily as any area the wind struck; for the article continues, "In rich Wright County, more than half the stalks were flattened."

Time then quotes Farmer Lee Woodley, Route 1, Clarion: "I looked at my field about 10 a .m. when the wind began to blow. When I came back at noon, she was almost all down. Last year we got 80 bushels to the acrse, and this year all we can hope for is 35."

Anyway, that "rich Wright County" remark should let the world know that — drouth, corn borers and wind notwithstanding—the farmers hereabout are managing all right.

Bronco Partisans Hope for Upset In Belmond - Clarion Clash Friday

Cowboys Have Tumbled Only Once in 25 Years

Clarion's Cowboys, and a goodly portion of Clarion, will come to Belmond Friday night to clash in gridiron combat with the Belmond Broncos for the 26th time since the football series between the two schools was inaugurated.

In the first quarter-century of rivalry, Belmond accomplished a single victory—a 6-0 decision in 1941 when an Eggers-to-Loats pass decided the issue. However, Bronco followers were encouraged last year in their never ending hopes of another Belmond conquest when the Broncs held the Cowboys to a 13-13 deadlock.

Coach Lloyd Patterson refuses to indulge in any optimistic predictions in discussing the coming encounter, but concedes that the losses in squad personnell should about balance out for the two schools. As to forecasting a Bronco win, Patterson insists, "Talk of this sort simply isn't justified by the teams' record thus far this season."

He does admit, thought, that if the Belmond eleven is "up" for the fray, the Cowboys may very well find themselves with a real battle on their hands.

Clarion has been experiencing a somewhat up-and-down season. After an opening victory over Forest City, the Cowboys followed up with a win over Humboldt and then tumbled before Clear Lake and Iowa Falls before regaining their stride by lacing Webster City 34-0. Last Friday Clarion was spilled by Algona, 20 to 6.

Forest City is the only common foe the Cowboys and Broncos have met. Clarion breezed past the Indians 25-6, whereas Belmond had to rally in the last half Friday to gain a 27-14 decision.

Loss of Keith "Sonny" Greenfield due to a knee injury sustained last weekend will undoubtedly hamper the Belmond offensive, although Dick Elliott committed himself well as a replacement for the Bronc star halfback after his departure from the game against Forest City.

Lines of the two teams are about a standoff in the weight department, according to Coach Patterson, while extra heft in the backfield probably gives Belmond a slight over-all edge in poundage.

With that one-touchdown loss to undefeated Northwood as the only blot on their season's record, the Broncos have a good many of their followers eagerly looking for an upset tomorrow night.

And the glint in Coach Patterson's eye when he talked of trouble Clarion might confront if Belmond is "up" surely suggested that he doesn't intend that his boys merely take the Cowboys in stride.

Game time will be the customary 8:00 p. m. and charge to non-holders of season tickets for admision to the athletic field will be 60 cents for adults and 35 for students, to agree with the scale regularly charged by Clarion for the traditional Cowboy-Bronco contest.

FOR THE RECORD

Last week's Independent erroneously gave the date of the Belmond-Clarion football game as November 4, and that of the final league game with Garner as this weekend. Whiff No. 1 is rectified by the accompanying story. The Independent accepts no responsibility for re-dating of the season's finale, however. A state teachers meeting has necessitated advancing of the Garner game to Wednesday, November 2.

Belmond to Close Season at Garner

Undisputed claim to runner-up spot in the North Iowa conference can be clinched by a Belmond victory over Garner in the Broncos' final game of the season, Wednesday, November 2. Northwood assured itself of top rung on the ladder by whipping Forest City last Friday, 19 to 7.

Garner was toppled by Lake Mills last weekend, 13 to 6 before a disappointed homecoming crowd. On the basis of respective records, the Broncos are odds-on favorites to deal the host team another defeat in next week's encounter.

Funeral Rites Held For Uncle of L. M. Helland

Last rites were conducted yesterday from the Boone Funeral Home for John E. Helland of Park Rapids, Minn., uncle of L. M. Helland of Helland and Long Implement Co.

Mr. Helland passed away last Friday at the age of 78. He was born Sept. 23, 1871. Rev. J. Heber Miller of the Methodist church was in charge of the services and interment was in Belmond cemetery.

Burning Corn Stalks To Eliminate Corn Borer Is Costly and Futile

His case against burning is this. It costs too much; it doesn't kill enough borers; organic matter and fertilizer are destroyed; and the practice promotes erosion.

On the basis of 1939 figures for labor and equipment, raking and burning cost about $1 per acre, according to Gunderson. This figure would be higher now. He thinks that dollar would return more if used to pay for spray next year.

Only 50 percent of the borers present are killed by ordinary raking and burning methods, according to Gunderson. Many are missed with the rake. In fields where borer counts now are around 500 per 100 stalks, a 1-percent survival might be enough to produce a large population of borers next year One moth that emerges next spring can lay 400 to 600 eggs.

Even if burning stalks were a means of controlling corn borers, it would be a losing proposition from a soil management standpoint. Organic matter and nitrogen are lost by burning. Nitrogen escapes as a gas. Calcium, phosphorus and potash are not lost but are concentrated at points of burning and are not available to many crop plants.

Nitrogen lost by burning is probably equal to the cost of spraying, according to Gunderson. In addition, there is the unmeasurable loss of organic matter which holds soil together.

Turkey Crop In Iowa And The Nation Much Larger Than Last Year

Turkey will be plentiful on Iowa tables during the holiday season this year if the size of the turkey crop is any indication. The estimated 2,659,000 Iowa birds represent an increase of 40 percent over last year's crop. This is the third largest Iowa crop on record.

While turkey prices will be considerable lower than the 1948 average of 47.4 cents per pound, government supports are expected to bolster prices in Iowa, points out Ralph Baker, agricultural economist at Iowa State College.

Midwestern price supports will be on a weight and grade basis on live birds, with hens being supported at around 36 cents per pound and heavy tons ranging as low as 26 cents per pound.

Iowa turkeys began moving to market as early as late July, with the heaviest runs expected during the latter part of October and first of November.

Counties with the largest numbers of turkeys last year are expected to lead the 1949 producerrs. They are Washington, Hamilton, Johnson, Iowa, Ringgold and Floyd counties. The intensive turkey growing sections include areas around Wellman, Ellsworth and Charles City.

The national turkey crop is estimated to be 41,107,000 birds, an increase of 29 per cent over last year and the second largest crop on record. The 1945 crop was the largest with 44 million birds.

Baker looks for a decline in the number of turkeys grown in 1950. While feed will be more plentiful than it was in 1948 when turkey growers enjoyed a sellers' market. Baker thinks that turkey numbers will be down from this year's bumper crop.

Survey Shows Diets of Farm Children in County Only Fair

Results of a nutritional survey conducted in the rural schools of Wright county during a three-day period last month revealed that of 544 children questions only 24 per cent were receiving a good diet.

Rural teachers of the county, at a meeting last week in Clarion, were told by Mrs. Lettie Zuber, county home economist, that she feels most children get enough to eat but that the fault lies in the kind of foods they are given.

In commenting on the results of the survey, Mrs. Hazel Lovell, nutritionist from the state department of health, stressed that nutrition is important both in achieving and maintaining good health. She added that adults are by no means exempt from the need for proper nutrition.

Mrs. Lovell said that the following characteristics are among those which indicate poor health in a child: tire easily; poor posture; mouth sores; sore tongue; easily irritated.

In scoring the results of the survey, General Mills discovered that other than the 24 per cent of the children benefitting from proper diet, 33 per cent were receiving food only fair in nutrition and 43 per cent were on definitely poor diet.

Necessary foods which a majority of Wright county farm children seemed to be receiving least of were green and yellow vegetables, fruit and milk. Most of the diets were adequate from the standpoint of bread and cereals, potatoes and meat.

Very notable in the survey was the omission of good breakfasts. Only 10 per cent of the youngsters were getting good breakfasts, 63 fair, and 27 per cent poor. A proper breakfast, said Mrs. Lovell, should consist of fruit, milk, egg, and cereal or toast.

Among the positions of distinction he held in various Belmond organizations were: Worshipful Master of the King Solomon Masonic Lodge; Worthy Patron of the Order of Eastern Star; Chaplain of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Commander of Eimbrink Post, American Legion; Commander of Pierce-Zieger Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Hardwick also was a member of the Disabled American War Veterans. He served faithfully as a member of the city council for four terms. For many years he was a member or the Congregational church.

Mr. Hardwick passed away last Saturday. Rev. Alfred B. McKeith, Congregational minister, officiated at the funeral services Tuesday, which were conducted by Boone Funeral Home. Interment was in Belmond cemetery. Masonic and VFW rites were observed.

Serving as pall bearers were: Gunner Ahlstrom, Lloyd Cunningham, Mike Luick, Ben Fetrow, Edward Spurling and Henry Hokel.

Mr. Hardwick is survived by members of his immediate family and by his sister, Mrs. Esther Hanrahan of Long Beach, Calif. He was a devoted husband and father and his friendliness will be missed by a host of persons who learned to know him well.

Plans in Making For County Farm Bureau Gathering

The annual meeting of the Wright County Farm Bureau will be held Monday evening, Nov. 7, at the Methodist church basement at Clarion.

Important business to come before the organization at their annual meeting is the adoption of county resolutions and the election of officers and directors of the County Farm Bureau.

Prof. H. D. Hughes, formerly head of the agronomy department of Iowa State college, will present his talk on "Our Iowa", which is illustrated by beautifully colored slides. The presentation has been one of the most popular in Iowa.

Ray Cunningham, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and the popular Y. M. C. A. quartet of Iowa State college will sing several numbers. The Wright County Rural Women's Chorus has been asked to appear again this year on the program, after many requests due to their enthusiastic reception last year.

The county resolutions committee, headed by Raynard Richardson of Liberty township, is holding several meetings prior to the annual meeting. This committee is going over township resolutions adopted at township annual meeting.

The keen interest in Scouting is exemplified by such boys as Richard Elliott, who before a board of review last Thursday at the Congregational church received his Life Scout award. Martin expects Ed Eccles to become a Life Scout in a matter of weeks and says that only a time limitation stands between Elliott and his Eagle badge.

Lester Bergman, Belmond Cubmaster, and Pat Patterson, his assistant, were to meet with a committee this week to lay plans for considerable expansion in Cub Scout activities. The committee includes Mr. Flanagan, Mr. Cunningham, Joe Brady, Ardell Johnson and Harold Hemmingsen.

About two dozen Cub Scouts were active last year, and the committee hopes to increase the number by a dozen and a half this year.

But the ambitious plans for both the Scouts and the Cubs will entail heavier expense than in the past so support by the community when next Monday's fund drive is held is essential to realization of the big plans for the coming year in Scouting.

Both the local Scouts and the Winnebago Council depend upon these annual campaigns for their year's finances. Mr. Flanagan and Mr. Shepard urge all in Belmond to welcome the solicitors next Monday and to give generously.

Keith Dunton Wins Trip To Skelgas Sales Parley As Award for Production

Keith Dunton, Skelgas salesman at Elliott Hardware and Appliance, was honored last week as one of the 20 leading Skelgas salesmen in the state of Iowa and rewarded with a two-day outing at Des Moines.

During the meeting on Thursday and Friday the Skelgas representatives founded a new sales organization to be known as the 20-20 Club, with eligibility based on sales records and the twenty feted representatives as charter members.

Keith says a general sales meeting followed organization of the club to provide inspiration for even bigger and better records.

Belmond Sportsman Gets Last Shot in Too Late At Elm Lake Saturday

Harold Olsen of Belmond had to lay $10—and costs—on the line in the court of Justice O. E. McGahey at Clarion Monday afternoon because he didn't get his fill of duck hunting soon enough at Elm Lake last Saturday.

Bill Ayers, new game warden for Wright and Hancock counties, reports that Harold was apprehended for "shooting late." On the other hand, itchy fingers got Wilbur Johnson of Waterloo a similar fine in the same court for "shooting early" at Wall Lake on Sunday.

Warden Ayers adds that he's keeping a sharp watch for illegal shooting of pheasants and warns that the birds will prove mighty costly meat for the table if taken before the season opens.

Nimrod Should Get Permission To Hunt On Private Farm Land

More hunters than ever before are taking to the fields this year in pursuit of wild game. It is well to point out that some 97 per cent of all land in Iowa is privately owned, and unless the hunter is hunting on his own land it is necessary to secure permission of the owner first.

Farmers as a group want to know who is hunting on their land. They want to know that the hunter will be careful about shooting enar livestock, that gates will be closed, and that property will be protected against damage. One careless act on the part of a hunter may close a farm permanently to all.

Many "No Hunting" signs have been posted. Most of the posted properties are open to hunters in whom the landowner has confidence. It is, therefore, the responsibility of the individual sportsman to make himself welcome.

Hunters cannot be urged too strongly to contact the owner of the property on which they expect to hunt and secure his permission. The importance of farmer-sportsman relationship cannot be over-stressed.

If every hunter conducts himself as a true sportsman at all times, 'the "No Hunting" signs will soon go the way of the dodo.

Perserverance had its reward recently when Mrs. Virginia Schnieder, now an Eagle Grove teacher, received her bachelor's degree from Upper Iowa after attending college part-time for the past 29 years. A son, Robert, who got his degree from the University of Iowa this spring, with his mother present, in turn was on hand at Upper Iowa to see her similarly honored. 29 years is a long time to go to college.

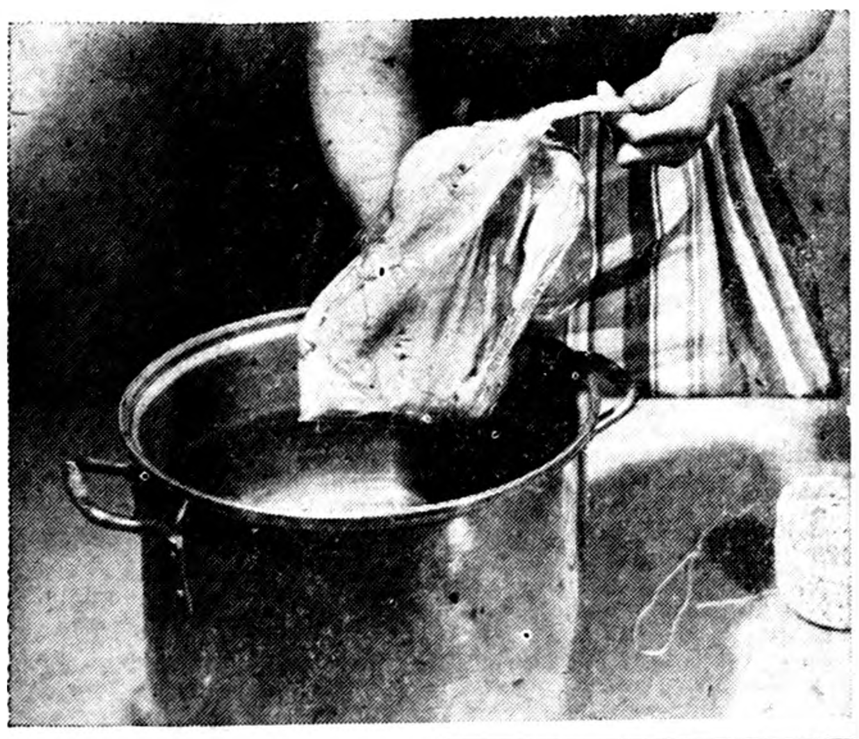
These six alleys at "Bowl-Mor Lanes", the new bowling emporium managed jointly by Jack Lansing and B. O. Kinseth, will be the scene of spirited league play as soon as current plans are completed for the inauguration of match play for both men and women bowlers of this vicinity. It is intended that the lanes will be available for unorganized bowling by the general public every afternoon of the week and on Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Holiday Poultry Keeps Freezer Fresh With Proper Wrapping



The right wrapping keeps poultry freezer-fresh for the holidays. Use laminated wraps of cellophane, aluminum foil or glassine, moisture-proof cellophane, pliofilm, or polyethylene bags.

It's not to soon to start thinking about that Thanksgiving bird, or even the one for the festive Christmas meal. Right now's a good time to freeze poultry in preparation for those busy meals. And what a time-saver it will be to have the main feature of a holiday meal all ready to pop in the oven.

Mildred Nelson, foods and nutrition specialist at Iowa State College, says that to be sure poultry will be full of fresh flavor, follow these suggestions: Plunge the bird into water of 125 to 135 degrees F. immediately after killing. Do not use a hard scald of 175 to 185 degrees F. Too-hot water may cause "freezer-burn" in which the meat becomes dry and has an off-odor.

Dress the bird as you would for immediate cooking. Then chill it in your refrigerator for not more than 24 hours. You may also cool it in ice water for 2 or 3 hours.

The next step is to cut the oil sack from above the tail. Remove the head, feet and sharp projections on the wings. For roasters, leave the bird whole. Poultry for frying or fricassee should be cut up and ready for cooking. Split broilers along the backbone and cut in two along one side of the breast bone. Then you're ready for wrapping.

Wrap Well

Always use moisture-proof wrapping papers or pliofilm or polyethylene bags. Moisture-proof cellophane may be used if it is protected with parchment locker paper or stockinette. Be sure to use a double- thickness wrap if 40-pound locker paper is used.

The drug-store or single wrap is one of the best ways to keep the packages airtight and prevent freezer burn. Use this type wrap for all materials except locker paper. It is suitable for roasters, broilers and fryers as well as for other types of meat. Place the poultry in the center of the wrapping paper. Bring two edges of the paper together above the meat. Fold these edges down in about 1-inch folds until the paper is against the bird. Mold the wrap firmly against the meat. Then fold in the ends of the paper the same way and pull these ends under the package. Tie the package with twine, tape it with freezer tape or cover it with stockinette.

Wrap all the giblets, except livers, together in a separate package from the bird. Use the livers right away or freeze them in a separate package and eat them within three months.

For fryers or for fricassee, place the meaty pieces in the curved portion of the back. In that way you'll have a compact package. Place a piece of moisture-proof wrapping paper between each piece of meat. The package will be flatter if the small ends of the legs are in the center of the package. Place the wrapped giblets with the other pieces of chicken. Put the wrapped package into a waxed carton, glass jar, plastic bag, tin can or some other type of container.

Freeze Quickly

Freeze the birds quickly and store at zero degrees or lower for best keeping, Miss Nelson points out. For good flavor, don't plan to keep the frozen birds for more than 12 months.

Fall

At Souix Center,17 year old Willard Korver had a narrow escape recently when he fell 35 feet into a silo. He lit on his feet and escaped with only a few bruises.

Won Prize

An Akron, Iowa, man won a special prize at the national plowing match in Nebraska recently, for the performance turned in by his non-standard tractor. His machine featured an automobile engine, with dual rear wheels and was a high-scorer. Observers named it a "hot rod" tractor. Owner is Quentin Nilson of Akron.

Weddings

Newly-weds traditionally receive a "rough time" from their friends as they leave the wedding ceremony. But the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Max Johnson of Iowa Falls broke the record. In addition to the usual indignities, they put a healthy helping of limburger cheese on the engine. Return of the newly married couple is awaited with interest.

Have you ever tried to be in a three act play? If you haven't you don't know just how much work and effort is put behind those one and one-half or two hour on the stage.

It took the Junior class in Alexander about a week to find a play they liked for seven girls and seven boys. When they ended all the feuding and fighting they had a three act comedy entitled "Everybody's Getting Married."

The next thing they were faced with was, who should have what part. When all of this was decided everyone started studying night and day.

The characters in the play are: Dean Garret, a business genius, Larry plays the part of Dean; Reginald D'Arcy who is a quiet young man, Roger Modderman plays the part; Viola Campton, Viola is Reginald's fiancee, Edith Schulte portrays the part of Viola; James, who is Reginald's valet is played by Marvin Draper; Mr. Gordon who is a Philadelphia lawyer is played by Richard Kaduce; Mrs. Lanchester is a rich widow played by Phillis Vestweber; Mrs. Hardin, who is another widow but not quite so rich is played by Carol Johnson; Marie Blake ,a business girl is played by Alberta Dirksen; Miss Effie Cramer, a spinster, has Helen Larson playing the part; now I am happy to introduce the beautiful actress, Dulcey Lane, who has Marcele Larson playing the part; Mrs. O'Leary, an Irish wash woman is played by Norma Madsen; the three Gentlemen of Fortune, "Floppy" Smith, "Tip" McArthy, and "Spike" Jones, are played by Billy Beenen, Robert Brendt, and Lowell Peterson.

Reginald D'Arcy is left a million dollars by his aunt, if he fulfills the terms of his aunt's will. The will states that he must run his aunt's matrimonial bureau and find husbands for six women within a month or he will lose the million dollars.

Reserved seat tickets are on sale at Aldinger's Store every evening. Reserved seats are 65c. General admittance 50c, high school students 35c, grade students 25c. Everyone had better come and experience the enjoyment of seeing "Everybody's Getting Married."

What's Doin' In Music

This will be the first public appearance of the Mixed Chorus this year.

If practicing has anything to do with how the music sounds I think the special music between acts will be a big success.
